WRONG PERSON WAS ARRESTED

Attempt to Put Assault of Magelssen Upon a Christian.

HAD ONLY TOY PISTOL

Mussulmans Make an Assault Upon Christians at Beirut on Sunday.

COTTON READY FOR TROUBLE

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

Berlin, Sept. 8.—The Egyptian Gazette published at Alexandria, Egypt, has published details regarding the recent attack on United States Vice Consul Magelssen. It says Mr. Magelssen was riding home in a hired carriage in the evening, when, on passing a street near the Ras Beirut (a headland about three miles from Beirut, on which stand the buildings of the American mission) he heard sounds of pistol firing. He turned round to see whence the shots came and a bullet whizzed past his face. The vice consul at once had the carriage stopped and jumped out to discover his assailant but could see no one. The following day he went to the government office, where he met the Italian consul and the Austrian consul, who had come to complain about burglaries in their houses. The governor ordered an investigation of the attack on Mr. Magelssen, but the only result was the arrest of a young Christian who had attended a marriage on the previous night and in whose possession was found a toy pistol. The American vice consul indignantly refused to accept the arrest of this man and decided to visit his brother-in-law, the American consul-general, who was staying in the mountains, to the north of Beirut.

An Outbreak Imminent.

VIENNA, Sept. 8.—The government has been officially notified that an outbreak is imminent in Smyrna, Asiatic Turkey, between the Christians and the Mussulmans. This district has heretofore been peaceful, so the sudden outbreak of disorders has thrown the Christians into a panic.

The trouble is probably due to the intense hatred aroused among the Mohammedans in all sections of Turkey against the Christians, caused by the circulation of exaggerated and distorted stories of Macedonian revolutionary methods. This, it is believed here, is what caused the outbreak at Beirut on Sunday.

It is said by diplomats that the porte is greatly concerned over these outbreaks and will be only too glad to make almost any concessions to avoid trouble with the United States and to have the fleet withdrawn from Turkish waters, owing to the displeasure it has aroused among the fanatical Mohammedans.

There is a report circulated here to the effect that Russia, Italy and Austria are forming a combination to coerce Bulgaria and that England has been asked to join it, but has refused, wishing to hold back and await developments. France is said to be in the same position.

A dispatch received here from Constantinople says that several engagements have taken place between the Turkish troops and Bulgarian insurgents and that in all of them the Turks have been successful. Seven Turkish battalions are said to have surrounded the band of insurgents commanded by Popoffo, the chief of insurrectionary forces, after a severe battle, near the town of Kastoria.

It is said that after surrendering the defenseless Macedonians were set upon by the Turks, who killed 200, and after inflicting the most horrible tortures upon the wounded, who numbered about 100, drove them away from the town and left them to perish.

News from Sofia has it that Boris Sarafoff, the Macedonian commander-in-chief, was killed near the village of Doyran, in a battle between the Turks and the insurgents.

Hay Wishes to Be Informed.

Secretary Hay has cabled Minister Leishman to keep the department informed of developments and on these the chance is that the European squadron will be increased, although there is no intimation of that development at the navy department. The diplomatic eye looks with keenest suspicion on the fact that riots have broken out in Beirut and that Greeks, Christians and Turkish soldiers have been killed at the particular point at which the European squadron is stationed. Minister Chekib Bey practically predicted the trouble, but intimated, of course, that if it were to eventuate, it would be due to the revolutionists incited by the presence of United States warships. The Turkish policy from the start has been to show that if the American squadron persisted in going to Turkish waters dire things would happen.

It is not improbable that the riots at Beirut were begun by the Turkish soldiers under orders from Constantinople. This government puts faith in the dispatch of Minister Leishman and the fact reported by him that the Turkish soldiers were pillaging the houses of Christians shows that the Turkish army is at least beyond control, even if there was any intention of controlling it.

The Turkish foreign office is now believed to have inspired the statement of the Turkish minister here, who publicly expressed the opinion that the presence of American vessels at Beirut would end in revolution.

An Old Game Discounted.

The same opinion comes today from Constantinople and although the state department officials do not admit it, there is good reason to believe that Chekib Bey protested against the sending of vessels on the ground he gave in his public interview. Under similar circumstances Arstarchi Bey, Turkey's minister here, protested against the sending of Rear Admiral Selfridge to Turkish waters during the Armenian riots, that the Turkish policy is settled on this question.

The Turkish government is laying the

TERMS NAMED BY COLOMBIA

Little Republic Discusses Conditions of Canal Treaty.

ARE NOT ACCEPTABLE

HAY AND HERRAN CONFER

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

Bogota, Sept. 5.—The bill which congress is now discussing, authorizing President Marroquin to negotiate a new Panama canal treaty with the United States contains the following stipulations:

"The perpetual use of the canal zone is granted, provided that at the expiration of each 100 years the United States shall pay during the succeeding 100 years 25 per cent more premium and rental than for the preceding term, the premium beginning at $400,000, and the rental at $400.

The mixed tribunals in the canal zone shall try suits between foreigners or between Columbians and foreigners.

The police and sanitary measures shall be practically in charge of the United States.

Twenty million dollars is fixed as the price of concession, besides the rental of $10,000,000 payable by the Canal Company in consideration of Colombia's approval of the transfer of shares.

The railroad shall in 64 years revert to Colombia, but the United States may buy it under a valuation.

A term shall be fixed within which the canal must be begun and finished.

The contract shall provide for a means to settle differences which may arise between the governments during the construction and execution of the contract.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—After conferences today between Secretary Hay and Mr. Herran, Colombian charge d'affaires, on the subject of the isthmian canal, the situation seems unchanged to that in which the president declined to avail himself of the authority he has under the Spooner act to make immediate choice of the Panama or Nicaragua route.

Much time was spent in discussing whether or not dispatches to and from Minister Beaupre had ever got past the station at Bueno Ventura. It could not be ascertained whether the formal inquiry had been made of the department whether it would agree to extend the time limit for the ratifications of the treaty which is the 22d instant.

DEMOCRATS DESERT THEIR CITY MACHINE

Flop of Committee to Philadelphia Insurgents Makes It Serious for Donnelly Faction.

[By Private Wire To The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—A political bomb, tonight, exploded in the ranks of the Donnelly-Ryan Democracy. Forty out of 47 members of the Thirtieth ward committee, and two members of the Democratic city committee, resigned and announced their intention of hereafter affiliating with the Independence club, the new insurgent movement.

The Independence club, which has declared its intention of creating a new democratic organization in Philadelphia, has been a joke since its inception. It was generally regarded as barren of influence and only calculated to stimulate an off-year fight. Some people gave the move graver significance, claiming that it was backed by ex-Judge James Gay Gordon, who, in politics, represents John Wanamaker. The developments of tonight indicate that "some people" are prophets and the chances are that Donnelly and Ryan are looking an important and decisive political crisis square in the face.

If the Gordon-Wanamaker people are able to appropriate, nightly, a ward of 2,000 democratic voters, it will not take long for them to secure the balance of power and become the majority, instead of the minority democratic faction in this city.

BRYAN IN CLEVELAND.

Silver Disciple Denied the Engagement of His Daughter to Capt. Hobson.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 8.—William Jennings Bryan arrived today from the east and called at the city hall for a conference with Mayor Johnson. The latter was out of the city, however, and Mr. Bryan subsequently left for Toledo. He predicted Johnson would be elected governor. Mr. Bryan gave out the following written statement relative to a printed report that his daughter, Ruth, was engaged to marry Richmond P. Hobson:

"There is no truth whatever in the reported engagement. Mr. Hobson called on Mrs. Bryan when he lectured in Lincoln recently and there met my daughter. This circumstance is made the basis of the story."

MOTHER'S BODY FOUND IN RIVER

PROBABLY DIED TOGETHER

Some of the mystery surrounding the finding of the body of little Violet Cordes in the Allegheny river Sunday afternoon and the disappearance of Margaret Cordes, the child's mother, was cleared up yesterday by the finding of the woman's body floating in the Allegheny river at the foot of McFadden street, Allegheny. John Freinstein, who lives in a boat house at the foot of McFadden street, saw the body floating on the surface of the water about 2:30 yesterday afternoon and took it ashore. The coroner was notified, and the body was taken to the morgue.

Last night Irene Andersen, of No. 13 West Canal street, Allegheny, identified the remains of Mrs. Cordes, whom she knew well.

The finding of the woman's body relieves the police of any further duty, and the Allegheny police are doing nothing. Supt. Campbell said last night that none of his men had been assigned to look for a Millvale fireman, who, it is said, was an intimate friend of Mrs. Cordes and was with her Saturday night before she disappeared with little Violet. The sad tragedy will probably be closed with the arrival of the woman's relatives from Altoona today.

Last night Coroner Jesse M. McGeary received the following telegram from Mrs. Ida Shumaker, of Altoona:

"Hold body of Mrs. Cordes and baby until tomorrow. Sister and mother coming."

It is expected the mother and sister of the dead woman will be here in the morning and take the bodies from the morgue. Carl Campbell, who lives at the foot of Bates street with his father, called at the morgue last night and recognized the bodies of the woman and child as Margaret Cortes and her child Violet. He said that Mrs. Cortes was employed by him and his father as housekeeper over a year ago. She left the place after three months' service. Where she went after that he did not know, until he read of the account of her death in the papers.

He said the woman's maiden name was Hopkins, and beyond that he knew little about her. There were a number of people at the morgue last night to see the bodies of the mother and child. There is a striking resemblance between the mother and child. On the face of the child there is a trace of a smile, while on the mother there is an expression of sorrow and bitterness.

The mother was lightly clad when she ended her life. When her body was recovered she wore a gingham wrapper. Beyond her underclothing this was all the apparel she wore. When her body was taken to the morgue her right arm was in such position that would denote that it was about her child while in the water. There was every indication that the child and mother drowned while in each other's arms.

SAVINGS OF LIFETIME LOST IN HER ESCAPE

The savings of a life-time were lost by Mrs. Elizabeth Zinsmeister, who lived in one of the houses in Spring alley destroyed by fire early yesterday morning. She had hurriedly taken her children, the roll of money amounting to $160 and the most valuable of the household effects away when she noticed that the money was missing. She searched until the flames drove her back. The money is believed to have been burned up or washed into a sewer.

BANDITS FATALLY SHOOT A CITIZEN

Recent Candidate for Congress is Wounded in His Home Near Huntington.

THERE MIGHT BE A LYNCHING

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Huntingdon, W. Va., Sept. 8.—The Hon. Mordica Williams, late Democratic candidate for congress in the Ninth Kentucky district, was shot by burglars at his home six miles west of here early this morning and is dying.

Mr. Williams, who is an old citizen, was awakened by the intruders and he sprang from his bed and seizing an old rusty sabre from the wall, a sabre he had carried during his service in the confederate army, gave the burglars a desperate battle. Although he was dealt a dozen stunning blows, he pressed on, striking right and left with his sword and succeeded in beating the bandits down the stairway.

A third burglar in the yard, who was evidently on guard, heard the fight within and running to the front door fired two shots, one of which penetrated Mr. Williams' left breast just below the heart. Williams fell. His aged wife, the only other occupant of the home, telephoned for a doctor and gave the alarm.

Bloodhounds from this city were put on the trail of the bandits and traced them to the river, and later found a point where they left a boat on the Ohio side. Officers with the bloodhounds are yet on their trail, and if the bandits are caught they will be lynched.

Mr. Williams is nearing 68 years of age and was the founder of the Eastern Kentucky academy, the leading educational institution of the state. He was in this city until a late hour last night and many believe that the murderers followed him from here.

PRESIDENT'S DAUGHTER MASTERS AUTOMOBILE

Col. John Jacob Astor Initiates Her into the Mysteries of the Sport.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 8.—Miss Alice Roosevelt, the president's daughter, under the tutorship of Col. John Jacob Astor, who is considered one of the best automobilists at Newport this season, was taken out for a lesson in handling the big automobile.

The early portion of the instructions were given in the Ochre Point section of the city until Miss Roosevelt became acquainted with the steering wheel and after an hour's practice Miss Roosevelt was tried in the congested part of Bellevue avenue.

Up and down the lower portion of that thoroughfare the big red automobile was sent along at a four-mile gait till about noontime, when by that time Miss Roosevelt proved herself such an apt pupil that Col. Astor gave the speed gauge two more notches and allowed Miss Roosevelt to try a run past the casino with a speed of eight miles an hour.

It was at this point that Miss Roosevelt showed how well she could steer, as the opening between a line of carriages she brought the automobile through was a clever test of her steering capabilities.

UNION WORKMEN WANT WAGE RATE MAINTAINED

ST. LOUIS, MO., Sept. 8.—For an hour today a general strike among the union artisans at the world's fair grounds was threatened as a result of differences between carpenters and the Nevers Construction Company, which is building the intra-mural railway. Two thousand carpenters quit work, because of the employment of several men, at lower rate than the union scale. A truce was reached when the contractors suspended the men who were objected to.

HALF CENTURY OF WORK FINISHED

Golden Jubilee of Archbishop Ryan Was Celebrated Yesterday.

AN ELABORATE CEREMONY

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 8.

Half a century of labor in the church ended today for Archbishop Ryan with the beginning of the celebration of the golden jubilee of his ordination as a priest of the Roman Catholic faith.

The interior of the great cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul was the setting for a remarkable picture this morning. Within the massive walls were gathered hundreds of priests and thousands of men and women, all with one object, to honor the man whose share in promoting the common welfare has been no small affair. From the head of the church, Pope Pius X., came a message of congratulation, appropriate to the occasion, brought over sea by the archbishop of Manila.

It was a busy day for Archbishop Ryan. It began with a long and elaborate religious service, was continued with a dinner, attended by 500 priests and ended with a reception tonight, at which thousands crowded into the cathedral, eager to honor the aged churchman.

The cathedral was thronged to the doors at the morning services and admission was denied hundreds, who stood for hours in the rain, hoping vainly for an opportunity to enter the building.

Those who were fortunate enough to make their way into the building were witnesses of a remarkable scene. The ceiling was outlined in electric lights and the gleaming bulbs were concealed in the shrubbery adorning the approaches to the altar. Vines were twined about the great pillars and flowers were strewn in profusion around the altar.

At the celebration of the pontifical mass by the archbishop there were present eight archbishops, 32 bishops, five monsignore and about 500 priests. Bishop Horstman, of Cleveland, preached the sermon. Hundreds of laymen were also present. Among the archbishop's guests are: Mgr. Falconio, the apostolic delegate; the venerable Archbishop Elder, of Cincinnati, and his co-adjutor, Bishop Moeller; Bishop McQuaid, of Rochester, and Bishop Horstman, of Cleveland; Archbishop Farley, of New York; Archbishop Harty, of Manila and Bishop John J. Hennessy of Wichita, Kan.

The jubilee fund contributed by the Roman Catholics of the archdiocese amounts to $200,000. It was intended as a personal gift to Archbishop Ryan, but he has devoted it to the archdiocesan fund to pay for St. Vincent's orphanage.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

MILLER ARRAIGNED.

Technical Charge Made Against Man Who Was a Supposed Assassin.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 8.—(Special)—John Miller, arrested yesterday afternoon, on affidavits charging him with threats upon the life of President Roosevelt, was arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of disorderly conduct in failing to support his wife. He was held while the case is further investigated.

According to the police, Miller has not been working for several months and his wife and four children have been left in very destitute circumstances. It was also said the man has been to the hospital for treatment for delirium tremens. Miller denied this, but admitted that he had been to the hospital. The police evidently believed that the man had not entirely recovered from the influence of the tremens, as they talked of having him examined as to his sanity, although such an examination has not yet been ordered. The police are investigating the man's record.

CULPRITS ARE IN SUSPENSE

Federal Grand Jury Returns Postoffice Indictments.

ARRESTS EXPECTED

George W. Beavers Surrenders After Long Delay to New York Authorities.

STERN LOCATED IN CANADA

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Room 16, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 8.

Seven additional indictments in the postoffice department scandal were handed down today by the Federal grand jury. But six persons were named in these indictments, there being two against one person. The names of the persons indicted and the offenses with which they are charged cannot be learned until the police have an opportunity to make the arrests. District Attorney Beach and Postmaster General Payne both declined to give any inkling of the names for the present. It is stated that the arrests will be made soon, possibly tomorrow. It could not even be learned whether the persons under indictment were local personages or whether they live outside the district.

One report is that at least one of the indictments and possibly two are against George W. Beavers, former superintendent of the division of salaries and allowances, who gave himself up in New York yesterday and furnished bail for trial. These last cases have been prepared and brought before the grand jury with great secrecy and there is no denying the fact that quite a number of officials of the postoffice department will breathe easier and enjoy their meals more when they see the printed list of those indicted and find that their own names are not among the number.

A dispatch was received at the postoffice department today stating that Leopold J. Stern of Baltimore, had been located in Toronto, Canada. Stern was indicted July 31, for complicity in a contract for [illegible] for carrying sacks, the amount involved being about $22,000. He will be arrested and will be brought back if it is found that the offense charged is extraditable.

Several of the persons indicted today live outside of Washington. They will be arrested as soon as bench warrants can be served. Postmaster General Payne and Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow received word of the grand jury's action shortly after that body reported and subsequently they had a long conference on the subject. Both officials refuse to divulge details pending official notification of arrests. Two other important events occurred today in the postal inquiry.

Leopold Stern, the Baltimore contractor, who disappeared from Baltimore before he could be arrested on an indictment returned July 31, last, was located at Toronto and the delayed surrender of George W. Beavers, the former head of the salary and allowances division, to the New York authorities, took place.

The postal officials have been searching for Stern ever since he disappeared and finally received word from the Canadian authorities that he is in Toronto. They expressed considerable vexation at the premature publicity of his whereabouts on account of the problem of extradition that now confronts the government and the possibility of his making good his escape now that the information has become public in advance of the readiness of the authorities to effect his arrest. Beavers' arrest created no surprise, for the government all along has kept advised of his whereabouts.

L. W. STRATER.

KRUGER ON TRIAL.

Evidence Introduced at Greensburg Against Alleged Slayer of Constable Bierer.

GREENSBURG, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special)—The entire day was not sufficient for the commonwealth to submit all its evidence in the case against Charles E. Kruger, who is charged with the murder of Constable Henry F. Bierer of Greensburg, at the No. 1 plant of the Jamison Coal & Coke Company on July 2, and it is improbable that the case will go to the jury before Thursday. Kruger is making a desperate fight for his life, and continually advises his counsel in the cross-examination of the commonwealth witnesses. There were no eyewitnesses to the killing of Constable Bierer.

Thomas Blake, an employe of the Jamison Company, testified on the night previous to the murder, Kruger had told him that he would not submit to arrest on a charge of surety of the peace preferred by a neighbor, and that "if an officer comes into my house they will carry him out dead."

Mrs. Rose Rowe testified that she saw Constable Bierer go into Kruger's house, and that she heard Kruger and Constable Bierer talking, and the former had agreed to come to Greensburg with the officer. She testified to hearing three shots, and of seeing Kruger leave the house with a revolver in his hand.

Other witnesses told of finding the body of the dying constable in the kitchen of Kruger's home. It is understood that the defense will be insanity.

SENATOR HOPKINS' DAUGHTER TO MARRY

AURORA, ILL., Sept. 8.—(Special)—The wedding of Miss Pauline Hopkins, daughter of Senator and Mrs. Albert J. Hopkins, to David Johnson Poffers, her father's law partner, which is to be solemnized Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, will be the society function of the season in this city. More than 300 invitations have been sent out for the ceremony at the church and 200 guests will be entertained at the Hopkins home after the service.

CAN DISCHARGE MEN AT WILL

Wright Decides Disputes Between Operators and Miners.

WORKS BOTH WAYS

Employes Have Also Privilege of Quitting Without an Explanation.

PROPER NOTICE IS REQUIRED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 8.—The Hon. Carroll D. Wright, the umpire to whom was referred the [illegible] disputes between the operators and miners' representatives in board of conciliation appointed under the provisions of the anthracite mine strike commission filed his findings today with T. D. Nichols, secretary of the board.

In dealing with the question of the employers' right to discharge men for any cause other than of connection with a labor union, Umpire Wright agrees wholly with the contentions of the operators' representatives and declares the rights of an employer to discharge without giving the cause of the discharge is sustained by the award of the commission. As to the workmen's discharge, the umpire says they do not come under the award.

The complaint of Thomas Tennet is not sustained in regard to the allegations of discrimination on the part of the Lehigh Coal & Navigation Company and Coxe Brothers & Company.

Should Take Back Old Men.

He says that these companies should take back old men instead of putting on new men in all cases where the old men are competent and have not been convicted of or are awaiting trial for crime committed during the strike.

The umpire decides that it has not been shown that the discharged men were discriminated against on account of membership in the union, but is of the opinion that discrimination existed against a small number of men, and makes the following statement:

"What the motive of the discrimination has been it is impossible to decide, but I am clearly of the opinion as in the case of Coxe Brothers & Company, that the Lehigh Coal & Navigation Company ought to give preference to all these old men—those employed prior to the strike—who have not been convicted of crimes committed during the strike or are not now under arrest awaiting trial or are not incompetent or have not been guilty of misdemeanor as render their employment undesirable. The terms of the submission and the language of the award under it make this conclusion [illegible]."

Has a Right to Quit Work.

On the complaint of the unjust discharging of William [illegible], against the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company, the umpire says:

"Taking the rulings of the court, the assertion of the anthracite coal strike commission, the clauses in the agreement made by and with the United Mine Workers of America, and the admission of the different members of the board of conciliation, whether on the one side or the other, there can be no doubt that a man has a right to quit the service of his employer whenever he sees fit with or without giving any cause provided he gives proper notice, and that the employer has a perfect right to employ and discharge men in accordance with the conditions of the industry; that he is not obliged to give any cause for discharge, but that he should, as in the reverse case, give proper notice.

"This right to discharge must, therefore be sustained. Any other view of the case would result in compelling men to work for an employer when they did not wish to and thus enslave them, while on the other hand it would compel employers to employ men whether they had worked for them or not and whether the men were incompetent or not, and would thus stagnate business and work to the injury of all other employes."

GRANDSTAND COLLAPSED.

Twenty-Four People Hurt During a Sham Battle at Fort Leavenworth.

LEAVENWORTH, KAN., Sept. 8.—A grandstand on a knoll on the Fort Leavenworth reservation gave way this afternoon during a sham battle by regular troops, injuring 24 persons. None was killed. Nine of those injured received broken legs. The stand was put up this morning. Fully 1,500 people had crowded upon it.

There was a heavy artillery duel with siege guns. Everyone announced that the cavalry were emerging from a ravine to charge. People on the grandstand rose to see them through the smoke. The entire stand went down with a crash. The utmost confusion followed, accompanied by shrieks of women. It was found that many were pinned down under the boards. The regular soldiers formed a line and kept all back not injured or caring for those injured.

SPANIARD CHARGED WITH WRECKING TRAIN

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 8.—Gabo Gonzalez, a Spaniard, was arrested here today charged with wrecking the work train on the Pennsylvania railroad near Rock Point last Thursday night, in which Fireman John McGary lost his life and Engineer Frederick Haws of Johnstown was severely injured. The Spaniard came to this country about three weeks ago and secured employment as a laborer with the contractors who are grading for the Pennsylvania road near the point where the wreck occurred. The engineer was passed by the train coming into an open switch, and but a few minutes before, two trains passed over the switch in safety.

AUTOMOBILE TEST TO BE EIGHT-DAY MATCH

ROUGH ROADS AROUND HERE

Course from Youngstown to Pittsburgh Contains More Places Where Going Is Hard Than in All of the Other Parts of the Route.

The endurance test for automobiles, which will be held over the roads between New York, Buffalo and Pittsburgh, beginning October 7, will be an eight-day match. Harry Unwin, secretary of the Association of Automobile Manufacturers, upon his return to New York yesterday, after the trial trip over the route recommended increasing the time limit from seven to eight days on account of the rough roads between Youngstown and Pittsburgh. It had been planned to make the run from Cleveland to Pittsburgh in one day, but Mr. Unwin told the contest committee that in case of rain none but the most powerful machines would be able to cover the route in a day and suggested that Youngstown be selected as a relay point.

The fact that a long and tedious route from Cleveland to Pittsburgh should be selected for the run, and that few of the machines could finish in time, would be most discouraging at a period in the contest when all would want an opportunity to make their best showing. This convinced Mr. Unwin that the race would be lengthened to eight days.

All interested in the contest look forward to the event as the greatest automobile contest on this side of the Atlantic. Fine macadam roads along the Hudson and throughout Central New York will give even the smallest machines an equal place in the start with the most expensive motor cars. Residents all along the route of over 800 miles are enthusiastic in their preparations for the big match and the chauffeurs will be tendered an ovation in every town from Weehawken until Pittsburgh is reached.

In his report Mr. Unwin states that in this city arrangements are progressing favorably for the hill-climbing and brake tests which will be held on the day following the end of the long-distance contest. He makes the prediction that notwithstanding the severity of the course, 25 per cent of the competing vehicles will score 80 per cent of the maximum points to be awarded.

The distance from Cleveland to Pittsburgh by the route selected by Mr. Unwin is 131½ miles, but it embraces more sand roads and more difficult climbs than the remainder of the route from New York. After leaving Cleveland the line will be almost straight to Pittsburgh, passing through Southington, Warren, Youngstown, Poland, Middletown, Petersburg, Beaver Falls and Allegheny.

JACKSON WILL MANAGE FIGHT IN ALLEGHENY

R. H. JACKSON.

R. H. Jackson, a well-known member of the Allegheny county bar, has been selected by the Citizens party managers to conduct the county campaign this fall for their side in Allegheny. Mr. Jackson has been named as chairman of the Allegheny organization, the position held in the last campaign by Dr. S. S. Woodburn, and in the last city campaign on the North Side by Stephen G. Porter, now city solicitor of Allegheny.

TRUSTEES WILL HOLD IMPORTANT MEETING

Matters which will have an important bearing on the progress of the plans for the extension of the Carnegie institute and the polytechnic school will be acted upon at a meeting of the board of trustees of the institute tomorrow afternoon. In compliance with an amendment passed by the finance committee of councils to the resolution delivering the Flinn-Magee property to the trustees a statement will be filed with the city clerk setting forth the character and the scope of the polytechnic school. With prompt action in this matter, in order to give the city an official record of the transaction, councilmanic action at next Monday's meeting would effect the final transfer of the site and pave the way for more mature plans for the erection of the buildings.

The majority of the trustees who have been out of the city for the summer will return and few will be absent from the meeting. Arrangements for the annual Founders day exercises likewise will be made. A proposition had been made to have the power plant for the Carnegie institute located in Junction hollow, and for this reason the plans for the extension to the buildings have not been finally agreed upon. It is probable that steps will be taken toward awarding a portion of the contracts for the institute improvements.

Harry Unwin After His 1,000-Mile Tour.

The automobile used by Secretary Harry Unwin of the Association of Automobile Manufacturers, in his trial trip over the route between New York and Pittsburgh, in selecting the thoroughfares to be used in next month's big long-distance match for motor cars, suffered a supreme test. In a 12-horse power Searchmont machine he traveled across the rugged Catskills and later climbed all the sandy hills between Youngstown and Pittsburgh. He was several times compelled to lay up in order to repair punctured tires, but made the journey of over 1,000 miles without a serious mishap. His inspection trip required three weeks.

WRONG MAN WAS ARRESTED

foundation for an offset to the indemnities to be asked by this government in case of more serious trouble by asserting that the United States is contributing to the revolution against the sultan. Attention was first called to the serious condition of American affairs in Turkey. The administration, however, has been aroused to the critical character of these affairs at Beirut and at Constantinople; and there is great anxiety as to the safeguarding of the American officials at Beirut, including Flag Lieutenant Hussey of the Brooklyn and the signal officer who are at the consulate.

The statements of the Turkish officials have been of such a contradictory character that no faith is put in them and it is assumed here that Admiral Cotton has agreed upon the means of communication between the signal officer and the squadron at Beirut in case it is necessary to rush the marines into the city.

Pillage Christians' Homes.

The case is the more acute by reason of the official news from Leishman that Turkish soldiers, instead of protecting the Christians, are making war on them and pillaging their homes.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Cables swiftly following each other today from Constantinople and Beirut developed a most critical situation in American-Turkish affairs which any moment may demand the rush of the United States marines to the city of Beirut against a hostile Turkish regiment.

The dispatches told of massacres at Beirut, the presence at Beirut of about a thousand Turkish soldiers, who may have incited the murders and American interests are being protected by only the two hundred marines of the European squadron.

Based on the news today the navy department says the European squadron will remain at Beirut if not ordered away from that port by the state department, but the latter department also holds the situation to be critical and acute. If anything, the prospect is that further naval force will be needed in the Mediterranean.

An alarming feature of the trouble is indicated in the dispatch from Rear Admiral Cotton at Beirut in which he says: "I have prepared to land forces for the protection of property of American citizens if situation demands."

Leishman's Alarming Dispatch.

The most important feature of news, however, is contained in the dispatches from Minister Leishman in which he says:

"Two houses of Christians pillaged by the soldiery. Panic general."

Rear Admiral Cotton has been authorized to land marines from the Brooklyn and San Francisco to protect American interests, if the situation demands it. Meanwhile the sublime porte assures Minister Leishman that it has the situation well in hand so far as Beirut is affected.

Thus there appears to have arisen a new and alarming condition of affairs, even while Rear Admiral Cotton was exchanging courtesies with the Turkish authorities and which were unknown to him when he sent his cable of yesterday reporting that peace and quiet prevailed.

A long cablegram from Minister Leishman was awaiting Secretary Hay when he reached the state department at 9 o'clock today, and Acting Secretary Darling found on his desk a cablegram from Rear Admiral Cotton that required until after noon to be translated. Both dispatches show the situation at Beirut to be one of gravity, but the presence of the Brooklyn and the San Francisco off that port prevents any feeling of uneasiness here as to the safety of American citizens.

Because of this new and serious development in the state of affairs at Beirut, which shows conclusively, in the opinion of officials of the Washington government that the state of unrest that has long prevailed in other parts of the Ottoman empire has now laid hold on Beirut, it was thought advisable to give Rear Admiral Cotton wide latitude to take whatever steps he saw fit for the protection of interests. Acting Secretary Darling, therefore, advised him of the department's approval of his course of action as outlined in his cablegram.

Women and Children Hiding.

SOFIA, BULGARIA, Sept. 8.—The Macedonian interior organization estimates that 150,000 women, children and old men are hiding in the mountains and forests of Macedonia. The Turks are burning the forests in the districts of Leren and Kostur, and killing fugitives who attempt to escape to the plains. The Vlach village of Gopesh, three hours' distant from Monastir, has been burned by the Turks, who are reported to have thrown several of the inhabitants into the fire. The Bashi-Bazouks have destroyed the village of Stollovo near Malketerno.

Thirteen thousand Turkish soldiers assembled on the frontier at Palanka, Kratovo and Gotschani and are plundering the surrounding villages. The people have not complained, fearing that they may be murdered. In the district of Debritsi, vilayet of Monastir, the soldiers are reported to be naked and starving and to be robbing all around.

The general staff of the insurgents has issued a circular ordering the bands not to molest the peaceful Turkish and Albanian villages. The order concludes:

"There will always be plenty of time to take such measures."

Famine prevails in the district of Krushevo, and the population is going into the adjacent districts. All reports from the vilayet of Monastir agree in describing the situation as appalling. Between 30,000 and 50,000 Bulgarian inhabitants are believed to have been massacred by the Turks and every Bulgarian village in the vilayet has been destroyed. The refugees in the mountains and forests are dying of starvation by thousands. At present it is impossible to obtain precise figures. The revolutionary headquarters estimate that 30,000 Bulgarian men, women and children have been killed, while at least the same number of refugees are slowly perishing of hunger. In official circles these figures are regarded as an under estimate and officials incline to the belief that the number of the massacred exceeds 50,000. The Turks are apparently determined to exterminate the entire Bulgarian population of the vilayet. The actual details of the happenings outside the town are not available. The foreign representatives at Monastir are dependent on information furnished to them from Turkish official sources.

In government circles here the situation is viewed with increasing alarm. It is reliably reported that the Turkish forces in Macedonia number 300,000. It is considered impossible that such a force has been assembled merely to crush the rebellion. It is feared that the sultan is meditating an attack on Bulgaria.

According to a telegram from Constantinople the porte has issued an unconditional order that all European correspondents must leave Macedonia because they are circulating false news. The ambassadors have been notified of this decision.

The latest reports regarding Boris Sarafoff, the Macedonian leader, say he was wounded in the leg near Dzirane.

SALONICA, TURKEY, Sept. 8.—Twelve battalions of Turkish troops are reported to have surrounded a large revolutionary band near Ostrovo, 30 miles from Monastir. Fighting is proceeding. The revolutionists have taken up a position near Lake Ailatovo, in the vilayet of Constantinople. Turkish troops are now said to be attacking them.

PLATE GLASS MEN ARE IN CONVENTION HERE

Manufacturers from All Over the Country Discuss Trade Conditions.

The annual national convention of the American Association of Plate Glass Manufacturers convened for a three-day session in the Hotel Schenley parlors at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Delegates to the number of 50 were assembled from all parts of the country. Although yesterday's session was a lengthy one, not adjourning until 6 o'clock last evening, no important new action was taken. The day was devoted to the reading and approval of reports from various committees, the discussion of trade conditions and the reading of a report by E. R. Hutton, president of the new plate glass company, whose plant is in course of construction at Kane, Pa. The works there will be finished in a year and will be among the largest and most complete in the country.

E. C. Sherburne of the Boston Plate & Window Glass Company, president of the association, stated that the outlook for the coming year is most encouraging, that all the plants within the association are in a flourishing condition and that all indications point to a continuance of these conditions.

The convention will re-assemble at 10 o'clock this morning, at which time a conference of much importance will be held with the Window Glass association. This afternoon the election of national officers for the ensuing year will be held.

STREETS TO BE REPAIRED.

Allegheny Ordinance Ordered Printed—Other Business Transacted.

At a meeting of the public works committee of Allegheny councils last night the following ordinances were ordered printed: Grading, paving and curbing of Maple and Wabash avenues, Davidson and Knapp streets, and Burke alley; authorizing the erection of a pumping station in Broadway, Fifteenth ward.

Chairman Thomas M. Henry of the sub-committee on retaining walls, reported that he had been unable to get a meeting of his committee and asked for its discharge. This was agreed to and the general committee ordered printed an ordinance providing for the construction of a stone wall in Loretto street. The ordinance for a similar wall in Meade street, Twelfth ward, was referred to the bureau of engineering and surveys.

The library committee of Allegheny councils ordered printed an ordinance providing for the purchase of a public law library to be located in city hall. The estimated cost at the beginning is $700.

A request from the Frescoers and Decorators' Association for a room in the cellar of Carnegie library for a public exhibit, was refused, as there is no room available.

ANOTHER UNKNOWN BODY.

Man's Remains Found in River at Sewickley—Other Morgue Cases.

An unknown man was found drowned in the Ohio river at Sewickley yesterday morning, and last night the body was taken to the morgue. He was about 45 years old, 5 feet 8 inches tall, and weighed about 180 pounds. There was nothing found on his person by which he could be identified. The body had been in the water for some time. The only things found in the clothes were a penknife and a pair of shoe laces.

Mrs. Annie Kushan, 26 years old, died at the South Side hospital yesterday afternoon of burns received from a lamp explosion at her home at No. 2119 Sidney street early in the morning.

Yost Scheiber, 44 years old, an assistant section foreman on the Cleveland & Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania lines west, was killed by the Cleveland flyer near Avalon yesterday afternoon. Scheiber boarded in Woods Run, Allegheny. He had been employed by the railroad for 16 years. He had no relatives in this country.

ORPHANS ISSUE THEIR PLATFORM

Larkin and Independent Councilmen Name Some of Citizens Party Broken Pledges.

SIGNED BY ELEVEN MEMBERS

Brown's Name Not on List—Fee System in Delinquent Tax Office Not Mentioned—Franchise Tax and Rental for Duquesne Way Demanded.

Controller John B. Larkin and his "orphan" colleagues in common council last night issued a platform of principles of which the controller is the author. The platform is signed by 11 common councilmen who were elected on the Citizens ticket and who announce that they will stand for the fulfillment of the pledges made by the Citizens party to the people in the last three campaigns, in which the party figured. Among the things demanded of the Citizens party is a tax upon public service corporations, purification of the water supply, an annual rental upon the Duquesne way railroad franchise, the passage of the ordinance granting the Baltimore & Ohio railroad a franchise on the Monongahela wharf, and the withdrawal of Director E. M. Bigelow's blanket ordinance.

In the platform the controller has also injected his pet measure of ordinance officers connected with his department who are to act as inspectors of the other departments.

The platform is signed by the controller and the councilmen who have shown an independence of the Bigelow machine. The name of Thomas M. Brown, common councilman from the Tenth ward and now the Citizens party candidate for sheriff, does not appear on the list, although Mr. Brown was in the city when the platform was signed.

The controller promises that the platform will receive the signatures of a number of other councilmen who are in the city just now. He also states that several councilmen who were not elected on the Citizens ticket, have signified their intention of joining the movement to carry out the pledges enumerated.

It will be noticed, however, that the platform contains no mention of the fee system in the delinquent tax office which the Citizens party, both in its platform and in the personal pledges of Mayor William B. Hays, promised to abolish. The platform is as follows:

We, the undersigned members of the Citizens party of the city of Pittsburgh, firm in the belief that the pledges set forth and covered by said party in its platform of principles adopted in 1902, should be kept and were not made to be trifled with or broken, therefore, we renew our pledges to the people and will not by act or deed encourage or aid in the continuance or supremacy of it or any political organization until the legislation through which said pledges are to be made effective is passed by council and made operative by the signature of the mayor. Chief among the acts essential to the just and economic administration of city affairs are the following:

The passage of a general ordinance licensing light, heat, power, water, telephone, telegraph, railway and other public service corporations, at such rates and in such manner as to compel fair participation in the cost of government.

The passage of the Pennsylvania railroad ordinance, with reasonable annual rental clause, and providing for limited franchise requiring fair traffic arrangements with such systems of railways as may now or hereafter want to do business with the city.

The prompt passage of what is known as the Baltimore & Ohio railroad ordinance, said railroad company having agreed to pay the compensation demanded by the city and to comply with other necessary provisions.

Prompt action looking to the purification of water supply for the entire city by the most approved system, measured by the experience of other cities.

The passage of an ordinance enabling the controller to deputize a limited number of persons at a fair salary for the purpose of inspecting the sources of revenue other than from direct taxes, review the resulting revenues and make them effective producers as the law contemplates.

The withdrawal of what is known as the "blanket ordinance," which proposes to take from councils the right to limit the number of employes.

HARMONY WAS LACKING IN HIGHWAYS BUREAU

Shifts Were Made Among the Assistant Superintendents to Effect Peace.

All was not harmony in the bureau of highways and sewers, as a result of the shifting of positions among the assistant superintendents. Edward Friel, who had been in charge of the Fourth district, was transferred to the Second, changing places with Frank Lorenzo, who had been assistant in the Second. It is intimated that Friel had been particularly active in looking after the violations of city ordinances relating to the use of the streets, and had caused friction in the ranks of the administration by treading on the toes of influential supporters of the Citizens party.

Supt. E. G. Nicewaner said Director E. M. Bigelow was the proper person to talk about changes in the bureau and denied that politics had anything to do with the changes among his assistants. He said that next year councils would be asked to create a new district.

HER MAJESTY'S NIGHT.

Tomorrow Evening Winifred O'Donnell to Be Crowned Queen of Oakland's Carnival.

Under the direction of John Dimling, managing director of the Oakland board of trade, the drawing for the pony and cart that has been raffled for at the carnival, took place last night. Little Katie Connelly of No. 8 Bouquet street, was blindfolded, and the winning number she drew out was 8,918.

Tomorrow night Winifred O'Donnell of Hazelwood, an employe of Solomon's store, who has been selected by popular vote as the queen of the carnival, will be crowned as such at the carnival. Thursday evening the carnival will be absolutely in her charge. Her slightest wish will be law, and an official of the carnival will escort her royal party through the grounds, where they will witness the many curious and wondrous things to be seen, and then repair to the Hotel Schenley to partake of a supper tendered by the carnival committee. Solomon's have taken such an interest in the fight of their candidate that by special arrangement with the Oakland board of trade free tickets will be distributed for this event, at their store, today and tomorrow.

WATER THAT APPEARS LIKE OIL; NO WONDER THERE IS TYPHOID

There came to the office of The Gazette yesterday a bottle that was alleged to contain water, but few people would believe it unless an affidavit accompanied the fluid. There was a sediment of about a quarter of an inch of red mud in the bottom of the bottle and the bottle's contents appeared more like oil of some kind than anything else, much resembling certain of the Standard Oil Company's exhibits at the exposition. The following letter, which is self explanatory, accompanied the bottle:

Mt. Oliver, Pa., Sept. 8, 1903.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Dear Sir—Herewith is a sample of the fluid served to the taxpayers by the Chartiers Valley Water Company for the last four days (from the 4th inst.). This sample was taken at 11 a. m. Sunday. Both my filters were clogged by the vile sediment and, refusing to act, we were without potable water. The stuff is too vile even to wash with. Is it to be wondered I have typhoid fever in my family or that it is almost an epidemic in this neighborhood? For goodness sake keep up the agitation that we poor South Siders may some day be freed from the terrible "lacoon" that threatens us with extermination. Yours sincerely,

A SUBSCRIBER.

GOOD MAN NOT ALLOWED TO QUIT

Central Board of Education Would not Let S. C. Jamison Resign.

RALSTON DISPUTE WAS UP

Teachers' Salaries Cease After September in Case Matter Is Not Adjusted—Petition of South Side Teachers Again Goes Over.

The central board of education made a new record last night, when it refused to accept the resignation of S. C. Jamison, a member from the Franklin sub-district, Seventh and Eighth wards. He gave as his reason a press of business that prevented him from giving the position the attention it should have.

C. J. Pedder, in expressing the hope that the resignation would not be accepted, said Mr. Jamison was a valuable member of the board. "If," he added, "there is some political deal in his district that is at the bottom of this, the board is not interested."

Dr. H. L. Reinecke said Mr. Jamison was one of the best committee members in point of attendance that he had served with. The vote to accept the resignation was very mild, and the negative side came out in a volume.

The Ralston sub-district trouble, where a dispute over who shall do the plumbing has made the school a makeshift for the time, came up when Mr. Brophy offered a resolution directing that the principal and teachers be paid full salaries, provided they spent the time not engaged in teaching in visiting other schools. D. L. Gillespie amended this by adding the proviso that the limit should be set at the end of September.

Dr. W. H. McKelvey said it was not legal to pay teachers for work not performed, and suggested that if the salaries were cut off the local board would soon fix the plumbing. The amended resolution was passed.

The High school committee recommended the election of Prof. E. J. Marvin, Mary L. Jobe and Loretta Berry to fill vacancies and they were elected. The petition of the South Side High school teachers to be made masters, presented to the committee last week, was reported. Mr. McElroy moved to add Miss Cochrane and Miss Bamford to the list. Dr. McKelvey moved to make all the teachers masters. There was some discussion and then the matter was sent back to the High school committee. Nothing was said about the five academic department teachers, who, a month ago, asked to be made masters.

At the request of Supt. Andrews a resolution was passed asking the local boards to permit teachers to attend the district institute. Another resolution was adopted providing for closing the schools on Friday, November 27, and allowing pay to the teachers who attend the general institute on that day.

The committee on books and supplies reported that last year the cost per pupil for text books was 77 cents and for supplies, 38 cents. During the year 3,812 books were destroyed or lost, and there are now on hand 47,191 books not fit to be used.

Three new teachers were granted to the Homewood sub-district, Twenty-first ward.

VERNER TRIES TO HEAL THE BREACH

Stevenson-Moore Faction Last Night Received Favorable Report.

The Citizens party faction in the Fourteenth ward, controlled by Councilman W. H. Stevenson and W. J. Moore, believe that the Bigelow county machine will recognize their organization and turn down the organization built up by Councilman John Lauler, Chris Bechert, Jr., D. F. Crawford and James J. Booth. The Stevenson-Moore faction held a meeting last night in the Bellefield school house to receive the report of the committee sent last week to confer with County Chairman Murry A. Verner.

The committee reported that they had called upon Chairman Verner and that he had told them that, with the evidence they had, the county committee could not do otherwise than recognize their faction. Chairman Verner referred the committee to Assistant City Solicitor L. S. Levin, chairman of the contest committee. Chairman Levin was seen and he promised to call a meeting of the contest committee this week to hear both factions.

Ward Chairman Moore stated that there were 30 of the 48 members of the ward committee present at the meeting last night. It was stated that the Stevenson-Moore faction had 28 members of the ward organization when the break occurred several months ago, but that they had gained five more members from the Lauler ranks since then, making their present strength 33 members.

It was stated also that the Lauler faction called a meeting at the Bellefield school house Monday night and could only muster three members of the ward committee, and that the meeting was given up. The secretary of the Lauler faction sent out postal card notices of the meeting, which stated that copies of rules and bylaws of the organization would be distributed at this meeting. This is one of the things objected to by the Stevenson-Moore crowd, which claims that the other faction has no right to distribute official matter when it is not the official organization of the ward.

Thomas M. Marshall, Jr., announced yesterday that he would not seek the Republican nomination for district attorney. He said:

"I had no intention of being a candidate after Thomas M. Brown was nominated for sheriff on the Citizens ticket. Major A. M. Brown, Tom's father, and I, are cousins, and the boys and I have always been good friends. I would, therefore, not think of running against Thomas M. Brown."

NO TAX FOR PURE MILK.

McKees Rocks Councils Makes an Exception for Exceptionable Man.

S. J. Harrison of Stowe township, was, by unanimous vote of councils last night, given the right to sell milk in the borough of McKees Rocks without the payment of a tax. He had been brought before the council on the charge of selling milk without a license. His only defense was that he sold pure milk and it made a great impression on the councilmen.

The bids for repaving, sewering and otherwise improving several borough streets, were opened and turned over to the proper committee for auditing. The contracts will be awarded at a special meeting tomorrow evening.

CATHOLIC ASSOCIATION IN SESSION AT BUTLER

BUTLER, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special)—Burgess William A. Kennedy delivered an address of welcome to the Catholic Mutual Benefit association, in convention here this afternoon. President Maxwell and Secretary J. W. Sullivan were appointed a committee to compile resolutions complimenting the Most Rev. Patrick Ryan, of Philadelphia, on this, the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination. Considerable animation was stirred up by the offering of an amendment to exclude bartenders and saloonkeepers from membership. A warm discussion is looked for before this amendment is finally disposed of.

Italians Form Political Club.

Italian residents of the Fourteenth ward who have become citizens of the United States have organized an association to be known as the Oakland Independent Republican club. The majority of Italian residents of the ward live in Boundary street, and it is there that when the arrangements have been completed the clubhouse which it is intended to establish will be in that street. The club will take an active interest in city as well as ward politics. The club organized by electing the following officers: President, F. Antonio Tommasini; secretary, Raffaele De Tommaso, and treasurer, Filippo Marino.

PRESBYTERY HAS TO CAST BALLOT

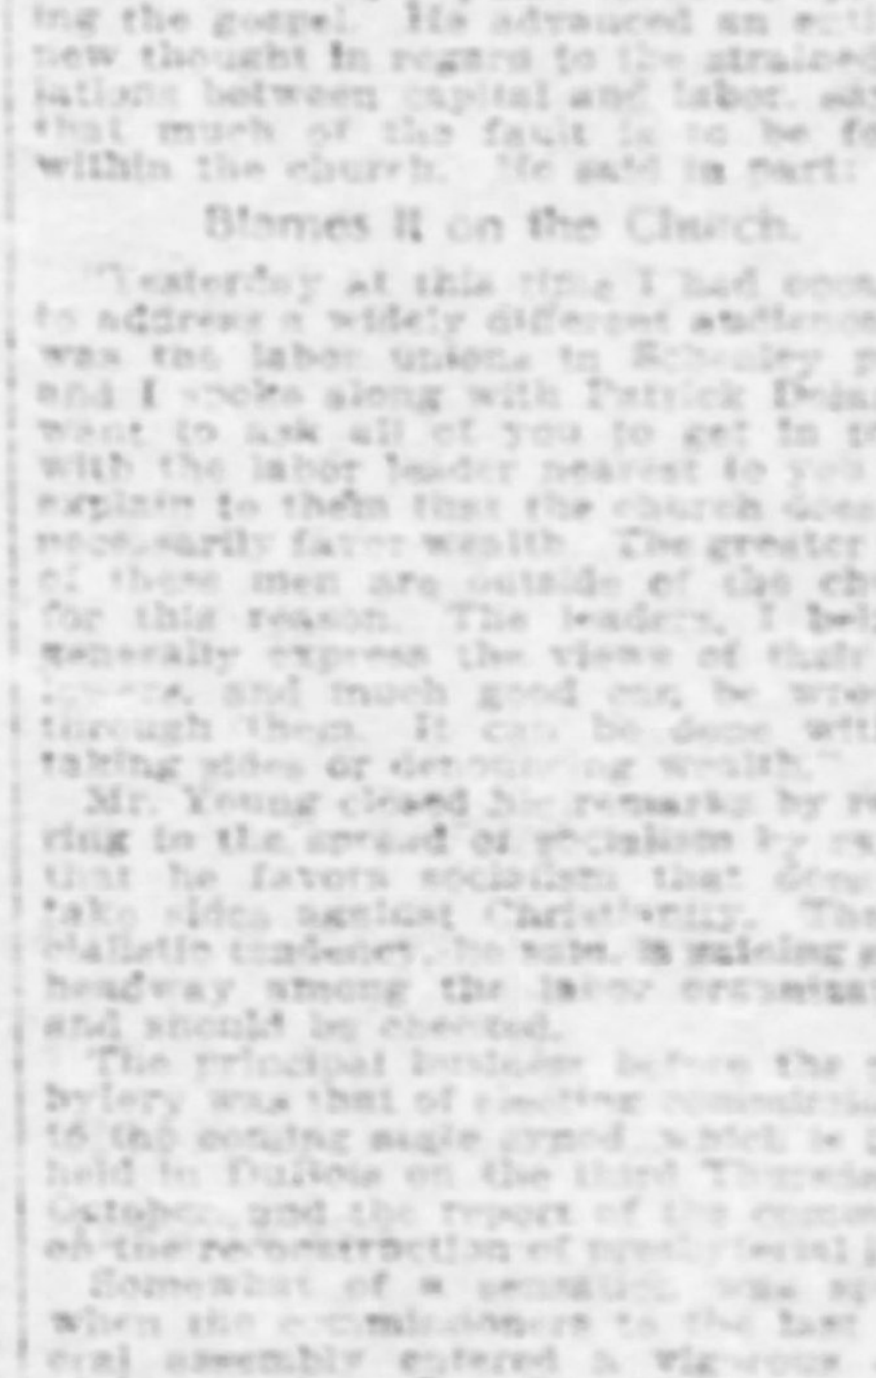
OPPOSED BY TWO PASTORS

Delegates to General Assembly Register Protest Against Stated Clerk Roberts for Supporting a Railroad—Commissioners Named for State Synod.

For the first time in the history of the Pittsburgh presbytery of the Presbyterian church, a ballot at the meeting of that body yesterday in Woodlawn church, Woodlawn, was necessary to elect a moderator, and, much to the surprise of nearly one-half of the 175 delegates, the Rev. S. Edward Young of the Second church of this city was elected to fill that position. Two candidates—the Rev. G. N. Moore of Neville Island and the Rev. W. T. McKee of Dravosburg—opposed him, the Rev. Mr. McKee being the first nominated. The election of the young Pittsburgh minister later was made unanimous. His methods of evangelization and pronounced attitude, somewhat in defiance of the old tenets of the church, have been attacked time and again by his brother ministers, and his victory yesterday in the presbytery was most significant.



THE REV. S. EDWARD YOUNG,
Who Was Elected Moderator.

After the meeting, held on the lawn outside of the church, the new moderator was called upon to make "a few remarks," and his plain, unvarnished statements showed beyond doubt that he still holds to the so-called popular ideas of spreading the gospel. He advanced an entirely new thought in regard to the strained relations between capital and labor, saying that much of the fault is to be found within the church. He said in part:

Blames It on the Church.

"Yesterday at this time I had occasion to address a widely different audience. It was the labor unions in Schenley park, and I spoke along with Patrick Dolan. I want to ask all of you to get in touch with the labor leader nearest to you and explain to them that the church does not necessarily favor wealth. The greater part of these men are outside of the church for this reason. The leaders, I believe, generally express the views of their followers, and much good can be wrought through them. It can be done without taking sides or denouncing wealth."

Mr. Young closed his remarks by referring to the spread of socialism by saying that he favors socialism that does not take sides against Christianity. The socialistic tendency, he said, is making great headway among the labor organizations and should be checked.

The principal business before the presbytery was that of electing commissioners to the coming state synod, which is to be held in DuBois on the third Thursday in October, and the report of the committee on the reconstruction of presbyterial lines.

Somewhat of a sensation was sprung when the commissioners to the last general assembly entered a vigorous complaint against Dr. W. H. Roberts of Philadelphia, stated clerk of that body. The Rev. G. M. Montgomery and the Rev. G. W. Chalfant took the lead in saying that the stated clerk seems to be working in conjunction with the Pennsylvania railroad as regards the manipulation of rates. The Pennsylvania charged $120 from Pittsburgh to Los Angeles, while the rate by way of other lines, after allowing for Pullman fares, meals, etc., was somewhat higher. These ministers stated that when they put in their expense accounts they were allowed only $120, being told by the clerk that they should have used the Pennsylvania.

No Action to Be Taken at Present.

The committee on presbyterial lines reported that a conference had been held with the Washington (Pa.) presbytery and that it recommended no action be taken for the present. West Virginia has asked for a state synod, and in order to create this it will be necessary to take several churches from the Washington presbytery. The latter has asked for the transfer of an equal number of churches from the Pittsburgh presbytery, which was opposed by the committee.

The following were elected commissioners to the state synod: Pastors W. L. McEwan, U. T. McKee, Herbert Bisbop, W. R. Farmer, G. M. Kerr, O. N. Verner, G. W. Chalfant and J. C. Brady; Elders W. R. Foster, C. R. Potter, T. B. Miller, William McKee, W. L. Beck, R. A. Burke and Thomas McVeigh.

The resignation of the Rev. J. T. Hackett of the Monaca church was acted upon. The Rev. Mr. Hackett wishes to enter Princeton Theological seminary. The Rev. Dr. Chalmers Martin, formerly president of the Pennsylvania College for Women, Pittsburgh, was transferred to the Wooster (O.) presbytery. He goes to that city as teacher of the English Bible in the Wooster school.

The presbytery acted upon the death of the Rev. W. G. Taylor of Beaver, who was its oldest member. He died at the age of 89. A committee was appointed to attend the funeral.

The exercises were opened by prayer by the Rev. Mr. Young, followed by a sermon by the retiring moderator, the Rev. A. D. Carlile. The Rev. J. M. Gaston of Homewood was made temporary clerk of the presbytery. At noon a recess was taken and a delightful luncheon served by the women of the church.

P. & A. Buys $15,000 Site.

The Pittsburgh & Allegheny Telephone Company yesterday closed a deal for the site of the new exchange building in McKeesport. About $15,000 was paid for the location, at the corner of Sixth avenue and Sinclair street. An exchange building of the most modern kind will be constructed. The company is now laying wires in the conduits for which a franchise was secured after a bitter fight in councils.

Sewickley's New Health Officer.

The Sewickley borough council met last night and elected William Wakeham health officer, to succeed Frank Marks, whose resignation was requested. But one ballot was needed. Wakeham will begin work at once. It was decided to permit the widening of Blackburn avenue from Beaver street to Division street.

Impaired Digestion

May not be all that is meant by dyspepsia now, but it will be if neglected.

The uneasiness after eating, fits of nervous headache, sourness of the stomach, and disagreeable belching may not be very bad now, but they will be if the stomach is suffered to grow weaker.

Dyspepsia is such a miserable disease that the tendency to it should be given early attention. This is completely overcome by which strengthens the whole digestive system.

RODGERS HANDS IN HIS REPORT

Select Finance Committee Is Called to Receive Opinion on Franchise Bill.

DOUBT AS TO LEGALITY

Meeting Set for Thursday—Stevenson Thinks His New Scheme Will Have to Be Adopted—Chairman Wainwright Thinks Differently.

City Solicitor Rodgers has prepared his opinion on the franchise tax ordinance now pending in select council, and has sent it to the finance committee of that branch, of which Samuel J. Wainwright, Jr., is chairman. Chairman Wainwright stated last evening that he would call a meeting of the committee for Thursday afternoon, to receive the opinion of the city solicitor and to take some action upon the ordinance.

Chairman Wainwright believes that the ordinance, which levies a tax of 5 per cent on the gross receipts of public service corporations, should be recommended to councils and passed, and then allow the legality of the measure to be tested.

Councilman W. H. Stevenson believes that the opinion of City Solicitor Rodgers will be unfavorable to the ordinance taxing gross receipts and that it will pave the way for his latest scheme to tax these companies so much per foot for length of tracks, mains, conduits, etc.

Chairman Wainwright admitted last night that the city solicitor, in his report to the committee, had cast some doubt on the right of the city to tax the gross receipts of corporations without additional legislation by the state, but maintained that the city had the right to impose a license tax on the visible property of the companies.

Mr. Wainwright was inclined, however, to criticise Mr. Stevenson for advocating one system of taxation and then offering another. He said he was in favor of passing the first ordinance, and claimed that the Citizens members of councils, Mr. Stevenson included, could not turn down the original ordinance after having worked hard for its passage. Mr. Wainwright hopes to have the franchise ordinance sent to select council and passed at the first regular meeting next Monday.

In addition to the question of legality, the city solicitor in his report passes upon another point. He was asked to specify what corporations could be included in the class of public service corporations, the wording of the ordinance on this point being rather vague, mentioning steam heating companies. The city solicitor names traction companies, electric light, water, gas and telephone companies, which he stated are subject to municipal taxation.

Mr. Wainwright said the city solicitor has passed upon some matters in connection with the ordinance which were not submitted to him, chief among which was the question of legality. He said the solicitor has not been asked to give any opinion upon that subject.

REPUBLICANS AT HEAD OF TICKET

State Candidates Are Indorsed by Citizens Party County Committee.

NEGLEY RAMS THE MACHINE

Introduces Resolutions to Set Aside the County Nominations—Larkin Says He Will Not Vote—Verner Absent Getting Tooth Pulled.

The Citizens party county committee carried out its program yesterday afternoon of indorsing the nominees of the Republican state ticket. The Citizens aggregation now occupies the unique position of favoring the state Republican candidates, but opposing the county Republican candidates.

Chairman Murry A. Verner's extreme fondness for horses got him into trouble and prevented his presiding at the meeting yesterday. One of his favorite nags, in a skittish mood, knocked out a couple of his teeth and so injured another that an abscess was formed. While the committee was going through the formality of indorsing the state candidates Chairman Verner was in a dentist's chair, having the other tooth extracted.

John R. Miller presided in the absence of Chairman Verner. Director James W. Clark said 21 of the 32 members of the committee were present. H. H. Negley caused a breeze in the committee by introducing resolutions setting aside the former nominations of the party and providing that new nominations be made by the whole county committee. The resolutions were not seconded and were not put to a vote. They were as follows:

Nominations Declared Illegal.

Whereas, At the last meeting of the committee of 32, held Wednesday, August 26, 1903, the present candidates of the Citizens party were illegally indorsed after they had been named solely by a few members of the conference committee and without any consideration by the members of our county committee of 32, and,

Whereas, That vast district lying south of the Ohio, Monongahela and Youghiogheny rivers, including the South Side of the city of Pittsburgh, a territory overwhelmingly Republican, has not now, nor has it had in the last three general elections, a candidate representing the Republican principles, and,

Whereas, The success of the Citizens party ticket depends very largely upon the support received from independent voters, believing in said Republican principles, and,

Whereas, The citizens of the county are beginning to realize with alarm that the Democratic party is very nearly in control of a great Republican county like Allegheny, and with the aid of the Citizens party endeavoring to acquire greater power and absolute supremacy, and,

Whereas, The lovers of Republican principles are becoming thoroughly aroused to the gravity of the danger that threatens the said principles and are loud in their warnings and objections; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Citizens ticket as now constituted be reconsidered and made null and void and that the people through their duly elected representatives, the members of the committee of thirty-two, be allowed to participate in the selection of the Citizens party candidates and have a ticket of the people and representative in character, instead of one that is chosen by one man.

After the county committee adjourned the organization of the Eighth legislative district had a meeting at which it was said over 100 members were present. The regular chairman presided, and he was instructed to confer with Chairman Verner in regard to the appointment of a campaign committee.

Larkin May Not Vote.

The Republicans of the two Allegheny legislative districts will hold a meeting Friday night at the Allegheny headquarters to prepare for the primaries on September 19 and to perfect their organizations. The organization of the Sixth district will meet at the county headquarters, in Smithfield street, Friday night, and the Seventh district will meet in Cunningham's hall, Wilmerding, Friday afternoon.

Controller John B. Larkin, a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat, was asked yesterday what he thought of the fusion party indorsing the Republican state candidates. He replied:

"They can do what they please. I do not intend to vote at all this fall unless the Citizens party gets in a hurry and fulfills some of the pledges it has made to the people."

TO BRING OUT NEW POINTS.

Investigation of Death of Late Recorder J. O. Brown to Be Resumed Saturday.

A number of new points, some of them bearing very clearly upon the death of J. O. Brown from poison, are to be brought up by J. R. P. Brown and his counsel at the next session of the inquest, next Saturday. Mr. Brown has heard from Col. T. C. Campbell, his Cincinnati counsel, who has been seriously ill for some time, stating that he will probably be able to appear on Saturday, and by the latest will be ready Monday next.

Much work is being done in the way of investigation. A great mass of facts relative to the circumstances under which the late recorder came to his death have been brought together and a theory of the whole in detail is being worked out.

When Nattie McLean takes the stand again, it is likely that she will be questioned closely in regard to the significance of her remark in her published letter to Roger O'Mara, that there have been some important facts in the case not yet brought out.

TO BE MUCH LARGER.

Eleanor Iron and Steel Company Will Expand in New Butler Location.

The Eleanor Iron and Steel Company of Irwin, which is moving to its new site at Butler, expects to be in its new location and ready for business there in 90 days. The scope of the company has been greatly enlarged recently, considerable new capital having been brought into it. It will have an open-hearth furnace with a capacity of 100 tons a day and will produce skelp and structural shapes. John Rohenstein of Pittsburgh is president.

According to Thomas M. Latimer, fiscal agent of the company, there will be about $2,000,000 invested in the plant. The present capital is $1,000,000, but this will be increased as the needs arise.

STOLEN LUMBER FOR PORCHES ON HOUSES

Of late it has been noticed that the foreigners who live in the houses in the mill yard of the Homestead Steel works have begun to build porches. The secretary of the Homestead Lumber company, Mr. Hoobler, noticed a great similarity between the lumber used in the porches and that missed from the piles in front of the Munhall municipal building, now in course of construction. Ten suits for theft resulted.

Train Jumper's Narrow Escape.

William Deivin, a 10-year-old boy of Market street, McKeesport, was jumping freight trains on the B. & O. railroad near McKeesport yesterday and climbed into a hopper car on a moving train. The bottom doors were open and the boy slipped through on to the tracks. Fortunately he remained where he had fallen, and the remainder of the train passed over him without injuring him.

SALMON SHORTAGE COSTLY IN EFFECTS

Pittsburghers Will Have to Pay $90,000 More Than Usual for the Delicacy.

PRICES TO GO UP 20 PER CENT

Pacific "Pack" Is 1,500,000 Cases Short, Owing to Failure of Fish to Deposit Their Spawn Properly—Salt Fish Will Advance in Price as a Result.

Pittsburgh epicures will have to go down in their pockets for fully $90,000 to cover the increased cost of their canned salmon this season. This means that the housewife, who has been accustomed to pay 20 cents a can for her favorite brand of the dainty pink fish, will have to pay 24 cents, and the cheap restaurant which has fed its patrons on 15-cent salmon must go to market with 18 or 20 cents. And all because the fish forgot to deposit their spawn at the proper season—at least, that is the only explanation which the Alaska Packing association has ventured in its recent advices to local jobbers.

The gist of its advice is that the pack will be short 1,500,000 cases and will not total over 3,200,000. Last year 4,500,000 cases were packed, and in 1901 a total of 5,500,000 cases were secured. Letters which Pittsburgh dealers have received this week indicate that an advance of 15 to 20 per cent will take effect soon.

According to E. A. Kitzmiller of P. Duff & Sons, the run of Sock-eye salmon, which was expected to be large this year, was nearly a failure. Packers had arranged for 700,000 cases and secured only 100,000. The Chinook pack in the Columbia river was only 35 per cent of its usual amount, and only 40 per cent of the usual number of salmon were packed from the Frazer river. England and all foreign countries buy almost exclusively from the Frazer river pack. The shortage and increasing demand are expected to advance prices 50 per cent on the Sock-eye variety and 30 per cent on the Chinook fish.

Only Half the Usual Amount.

The pack of Cohoes is now in progress. Not over 50 per cent of the usual amount will be stored for shipment. The lower grades of salmon, the Humpbacks and Chums, will be very limited in supply, owing to the action of the Alaska Packers association last spring. These grades are hardly fit to eat, and in order to prevent a large number of them being taken a very low price was established by the packing association. The price on the Alaska pack has not been named. The pack is fair, but not up to expectations.

The situation at the salmon fisheries is very disappointing and will entail a heavy loss on packers. The custom among the cannerymen is to contract for the expected pack at so much per case. The price must be paid whether the fish are secured or not. The contractors engage men and have them in readiness the whole season, which is necessary because it is very uncertain when the fish will run. This outlay for labor added to the short pack will greatly increase the cost of the market product over last year's figures.

The only explanation the Alaska packers offer for the shortage is that the fish did not run as usual. At certain seasons of the year the salmon go up the rivers for the purpose of spawning. Some varieties, as the Blueback and the Sock-eye salmon, go only into rivers that have a lake in connection. The Chinooks, Silversides and Cohoes spawn in shallow water where there are creeks easy of access. This year many of the fish did not come up the rivers as usual, and those that did run up their favorite haunts left their spawn undeveloped. Many of the varieties are accustomed to run 500 miles or more from the ocean and often climb perpendicular falls 15 feet in height in order to get a suitable place for spawning, so that this year's omission seems a wonderful freak of nature.

Salmon Consumed in Pittsburgh.

There are 27 salmon wholesalers in Pittsburgh. About 50,000 cases of four dozen cans each are consumed in and about the city every year. The retail price ranges from 10 cents a can for the cheap kinds to 25 cents a can for the best varieties. At an average of 18 cents a can this makes the total sum paid for salmon in this city over $400,000, and to this must be added about $90,000 this year, owing to the unfavorable conditions at the fisheries.

A few cars of salmon have already arrived from the Pacific coast. Advices received this week indicate that local dealers will have to cut down their orders greatly. One firm, which expected to get 25,000 cases, must be content with 15,000. This year all the salmon will be shipped from the coast before January 1, so that a sharp rise in prices may be expected in a short time.

There is no good substitute for salmon in the local market. Whitefish are being packed on Lake Erie this year, but the amount in stock is trifling compared with the salmon consumed here, and at best the fish is poor. Salted whitefish and mackerel are expected to go up considerably in sympathy with the salmon shortage, especially as the supply of mackerel is only fair.

Advices from Bogota give the principal features of the new treaty proposed by Colombia. It provides for a cash payment of $20,000,000, for premiums the nature of which is not made clear and for an increase in rental for each succeeding 100-year period. There are other stipulations, but they are not worth mentioning because no such treaty will be accepted by the United States. The financial terms offered through the Hay-Herran treaty were liberal and they will not be exceeded. The cupidity of the Colombians is equal to their lack of good faith and their exaggerated notion of their national dignity.

If anything had been wanting to prove the utterly irresponsible character of the Colombian government the draft of the proposed new treaty would supply it. If anything had been needed to justify the suggestion that the canal should be constructed under the terms of the treaty of 1846 the thing is furnished by the Colombian government itself. There is no use trying to deal fairly and in a business-like manner with a government that has neither honesty nor honor. These Colombians invited the United States to take up the Panama project and promised reasonable concessions. The United States offered liberal terms instead of beginning on a basis of haggling. The generosity of this country simply aroused the cupidity of the irresponsibles, the treaty has been rejected and an absurd proposition is made in return. There is no way to deal with such people except to tell them what they must do and make them do it.

The board of trustees of the Carnegie institute will meet on Friday, when steps will be taken that should obviate further delay in the erection of the polytechnic school and the enlargement of the institute. This news will be welcomed by the people of Pittsburgh, who have been patiently waiting for the various snarls of red tape to be untangled and actual work to begin. Our city needs the school, and needs it now; while the institute has turned out to be such a good thing that we want more of it. The trustees and councils should now seek to reverse the usual order of things and strive to outdo each other in prompt and decisive action.

Seven new indictments marks the progress of the postoffice department investigation. The names are withheld, so it cannot be said whether they are additional indictments against those who had previously been indicted or whether they involve additional persons. This point is not important. The vital thing is that the investigation is going forward and digging to the bottom and that when it is ended and the indicted persons prosecuted the postoffice department will be cleansed and renovated. An example will be made that will for years render would-be rogues timid about preying upon that department. As for political effect we do not believe there will be any, beyond confirming the public opinion that the president will not tolerate rascality anywhere, by anyone.

While the local organ of the alum water process is holding up the extravagant estimates of the cost of filtration in Philadelphia as a warning to Pittsburgh, Philadelphia is congratulating itself on getting something for its money. John W. Hill, chief engineer of the bureau of filtration, has made public figures that show none of the 12 filters at the two plants in operation, after aging a fortnight, has furnished an effluent containing as many as 10 bacteria per cubic centimeter. The number in the applied Schuylkill water varies from 14,000 to 42,000. Turbidity, determined by the silica standard, has been reduced to an almost immeasureable amount from readings of 25 to 170 in the raw water supplied. Engineering Record says of this: "The rapidity with which these filters have reached a satisfactory operating condition is remarkable." Even at that and admitting gross extravagance, they haven't cost half as much as the Leader says.

Hon. Carroll D. Wright, acting as umpire for the anthracite conciliation board, has just handed down a number of decisions. These are eminently fair, as shown by the reasons accompanying them, though the majority are adverse to the contentions of the workmen. Nearly all are of purely local interest affecting individuals, one being a question as to the readjustment of a workman's wages from a 12-hour day to a 10-hour basis, in which he got wrong shipped on his mathematics. The one of general public interest and that may cause further trouble affects the right of the employer to discharge a man without assigning a specific reason. Col. Wright holds that because a man may quit his work summarily without explanation, the employer has the right to discharge in the same manner. He declares that notice should be given on each side and, of course, excepts the right to discharge simply because a man belongs to the union, but upholds the right for any other cause. This decision is just, but is apt to meet objection to some extent.

Abdul Hamid has apparently been taking good advice. It is announced from Washington that on his orders Minister Chekib Bey has engaged an American as official press agent and that after his arrival at Constantinople all news of the revolution and of Turkish affairs will be given out by that gentleman. Joseph Marcombe is the man engaged for the post, according to the news dispatch. Mr. Marcombe is an accomplished writer and a man of high character and it may be assumed that if the sultan intrusts his bureau of publicity to the American without let or hindrance the public will, at last, get reliable news about Turkey. It is a novel idea, but one that should work out well.

Referring to the temporary lull in orders for structural material, the New York Commercial says there is but one explanation to offer—strikes. It charges labor malcontents and "such freebooters as Parks" with all the troubles existing in the industrial world and with being the only cloud on the prosperity horizon. We are not disposed to agree with the Commercial in its sweeping condemnation. Labor troubles have held back much work this year and in some cases without shadow of justice, but the Wall street flurry had quite as much to do with the midsummer stagnation. Fortunately the flurry is over, most of the strikes have been settled and there are ample orders to keep the mills running the remainder of the year.

Situation at Beirut.

The outbreak at Beirut, in which a number of persons were killed, vindicates the wisdom of the president in adhering to his determination, formed on receipt of the false report of the murder of Vice Consul Magelssen, to send the naval squadron under Admiral Cotton to that port. The first official report from Admiral Cotton, sent before the riot, justified his presence there. It disproved the story emanating from Turkish sources that there had been no attempt to assassinate the vice consul. From the circumstance that the admiral made no mention of the feu de joie story, and told instead of the arrests of four men suspected of attempting to murder the vice consul, it would appear that the tale of the wedding party, which was related by the Turkish minister at Washington, must have originated at Constantinople rather than at Beirut, and was designed for purposes of diplomacy rather than to serve the ends of justice. The admiral's report also testified to apprehension among the Christian population, native and foreign, and yesterday's report of the riot, in which a number of persons were killed, shows that the apprehension was justified. Pending investigation it is not stated whether Christians or Mohammedans were the aggressors, but the circumstance that twice as many Christians as Mohammedans are reported to have been killed may have significant relation to the origin of the outbreak. The Christians may have been the aggressors, but the Mohammedans are the ruling caste and quick at all times to visit their wrath on those they esteem so vastly inferior, and it is therefore not likely that any demonstration was made by them which would have led in any but a Mohammedan country to such consequences. Turkish news sources preceding the riot told glibly and painstakingly of provocations of Mohammedans by Christians, encouraged by the presence of the American warships, and doubtless much testimony to this point can be speedily and easily manufactured. But whatever the fact, it is plainly a good thing that the warships are at Beirut. The British consul and others have borne testimony to this and to the relief felt in the safety and protection their presence affords, and it is very evident that their presence is needed.

The Proper Spirit.

In his Labor day address at Indianapolis Samuel M. Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, devoting some remarks to the president of the National Manufacturers' association, declared that under certain conditions he might and probably would be benefited by learning, as did the president of a certain railroad and anthracite coal corporations, that after all "there is something to arbitrate, to discuss, to concede." It is not, however, the Parrys and the Baers alone who have this to learn, as doubtless Mr. Gompers will readily admit. It is a somewhat human failing to insist that the other fellow is wrong, and it requires the education of practical experience with human relationships to bring the conviction that there may be something to say on the other side. Some people, of course, never learn the lesson, and are in consequence a constant source of trouble and annoyance no less to their associates than to their competitors or opponents, or those with whom they sustain the relations of employer and employe. They are useful, perhaps, as the "terrible example" proving the folly of their course, but that is an honor which really intelligent persons do not care to claim. The spirit that animates people of this sort was present in a portion of the Chicago Labor day parade, which attacked J. J. Thornton, proprietor of a warehouse and van company. Mr. Thornton, who is described as an employer of "a large number of teamsters, all of whom are members of the union," and who "has never had any trouble with the organization," hitched three horses to one of his vans and "took a score or more of children out to see the parade." After the procession had passed and he was driving away, some teamsters demanded a sight of his union card, refused to listen to his explanation "that it was his own team and that he was doing no hauling," and in the sequel he was mobbed, the harness cut from his horses to prevent his escape, the animals beaten with canes to compel them to run away, and Thornton himself badly beaten before the police rescued him. This is not the story of a "yellow journal," but the record made by the painstaking, conservative Associated Press.

Here it is plain there was something that demanded an exercise by the persons who first interrogated and later attacked Mr. Thornton of that spirit of fairness and fair dealing which enters into arbitration of differences, but it appears that such spirit was altogether lacking. It is a different story that Pittsburgh has to tell, for in this city, so that nothing might mar the harmony of the day, no attention was paid to declarations that the drivers of certain carriages in the parade were non-union men. A spirit of broad tolerance ignored the reports, and the fact reflects credit on the thousands of men who were in line. This spirit is the same as the one that admits there is "something to arbitrate, to discuss, to concede," and its presence in the Pittsburgh parade is indicative of the existing good relations between employer and employe in this great industrial district, reached by painful processes, perhaps, but here, we hope, to stay.

The Chicago incident is, fortunately, the only unpleasant one in the record of a day on which several hundred thousand workingmen marched in procession in honor of labor in the cities and towns of the United States. Standing alone, it is the exception that proves general good feeling to have been the rule of Labor day. While it also shows that one does not need to be a capitalist to be unreasonable, it and the unreasonableness charged by Mr. Gompers against two persons who may be properly classified as capitalists are so conspicuous at the moment by contrast with things in general as to suggest that there is now a real prevalence of good feeling which recognizes in the light of many errors of judgment that there is something to discuss and concede before proceeding to an extreme. This is as it ought to be. "Honesty, decency, fair dealing and common sense," as President Roosevelt said at Syracuse, ought to be "the watch words of all our people."

Bases of Wealth.

Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the treasury, speaking to the American Mining congress advanced an idea that is not wholly new, but is worthy the thought given it. It is that the importance of the various productive processes cannot be measured by the cash value of the output. Thus manufactures, aggregating $13,000,000,000 annually, depend upon the mines, the cotton crop and other material resources, none of which approach in value the total of manufactures. In other words the leader is a composite of many underlying industries.

What, indeed, would American manufactures amount to were it not for the mines of coal, iron ore, copper, lead and silver? From the coal mine and the mines producing these other materials are assembled the ingredients of immensely valuable manufactures. The union of coal and cotton or coal and wool produces fabrics. It is not a chemical union, but both are necessary to the product except in the rare instances where water is used as a motive power.

In brief, Mr. Shaw harks back to the old truth that the prosperity of the nation depends upon agriculture, forestry and mining. These are the great natural resources of the world. They are the foundations upon which the superstructure of manufactures and commerce rest. But while recognizing these as the foundations we must not belittle any of the processes by which the skill and industry of man converts these crude resources into forms of usefulness or beauty that in turn minister to human comfort, convenience, or pleasure. Society is inter-dependent to such an extent that one section cannot do without another. The highest good is secured when all work in harmony.

Seeking Abraham's Tomb.

While the great powers are eagerly awaiting the political partition of Turkey, the powers of archaeology have been busy for some time parceling out the sultan's domain among themselves. The University of Chicago, which moved several years ago to secure its share of the spoil, has at last been allotted a district for explorations, and as Americans are quicker in taking advantage of concessions than the sultan in granting them, a contingent of scientists from the modern Babel may soon be upon the site of the ancient Babel. The German government has doubtless pre-empted the most promising sites, having been on the field since 1899, but the American concessions cover Tel Ibrahim, where Abraham is supposed to be buried, and doubtless also Mugheir, the ancient Ur of the Chaldees, where Abraham was born.

The temple of Nebuchadnezzar would be a far less interesting spot than either of these two sites—the cradle and the tomb of the "friend of God." Rawlinson made a perfunctory exploration of Ur in 1854, but no systematic researches have been carried on, the various expeditions being diverted by ruins more promising and more accessible.

All around Abraham have ancient Babylonian annals been reconstructed, and the record of Genesis has received many startling confirmations. We know that Kudur Lagamer, the great conqueror, was the Chedorlaomer who carried off Abraham's relatives and property, while his ally Amraphel has been identified as the Hammurabi of the cuneiform inscriptions. It only remains to find the foundations of Terah's house, and the memorial tablets of the cave at Machpelah—always supposing the traditional site of the tomb at Hebron, where the Moslems have built a splendid mosque, to be incorrect.

Unlike the Pennsylvania Democrats the Colorado Democrats turned to the Kansas City platform for information. The Pennsylvanians are supposed to [illegible] and inspiration in the circumstance that economy was shown in the renting of a convention hall.

So many unfulfilled fusion pledges are being mentioned here and there that it ought to be an easy matter to collect sufficient material for this year's platform, which, it has been announced, will be a good one.

Allegheny will spend $25,000 in combating smallpox. How would it do to sprinkle the infected districts with milk, which is said to contain antiseptic chemicals in large quantities?

The chief socialist organ of Germany having refused to print Herr Bebel's speeches, it looks as if the versatile Kaiser Wilhelm were branching out editorially.

The W. C. T. U. having voiced its protest against pipes at West Point, stands revealed as the foe of the smoking bowl as well as of the flowing bowl.

The Bulgarians of Chicago and Philadelphia are moving to send regiments to the front. When Abdul Hamid hears this, he will speedily sue for peace.

The W. C. T. U. is after the tobacco habit at West Point, believing that where there is much smoking there will be much fire-water sooner or later.

If Wilkinsburg, with its multitude of churches and no saloons, needs a curfew law what shall be said of less sanctified communities?

It is the rule of the insurgents in the Balkan warfare to die rather than surrender, because if they surrender they die anyway.

The lull in Ohio politics is probably due to the uncertainty as to what style of automobile Candidate Clarke will campaign in.

Those war clouds which Bulgaria sees coming up from the direction of Constantinople don't look like a cheap imitation.

Down in Bogota they begin to act like people who hope that there may be something to arbitrate.

All Americans who behave themselves as such look alike to President Roosevelt.

The latest Beirut feu de joie will be followed by a number of funerals.

Liquor license transfers are breaking all records.

The High Price of Cotton.

"The high price of cotton is operating disastrously to the mill owners of our county," said Mr. John Henderson of Lancashire, England, in an interview. "If the present price continues I think many of our factories will be heavy losers.

"But just now England and Germany are making strenuous efforts to enlarge the production of cotton in their colonies. There are many parts of the globe where it can be grown as well as in the United States, if only the people could be found who understand its culture. For many years to come the world will have to look to America for its supply, but sooner or later your farmers will not have the monopoly of its production as at present. My belief is that the price now obtaining is a result of natural causes and I do not think there will be any decline for a long time. The world's demand for cotton is constantly growing, and it is a legitimate demand that forces up the price."

Would Hurt His Party.

"If the unexpected should happen, something like the sheep killing the butcher—and Tom Johnson should carry Ohio, it would be a bad thing for the Democratic party," said Mr. C. A. Brewster of Cincinnati to the Washington Post. "The reason for my remark is that it would be claimed as a victory for the Bryan wing of the party, particularly as Col. Bryan is going to canvass the state for Johnson. George Fred Williams is another of the imported free silver orators who will whoop up things for the mayor of Cleveland. My own belief is that wherever such men as Bryan and Williams speak the Democracy will lose votes. Their coming into Ohio makes a sure thing still more certain.

"Had a conservative man like John L. Zimmerman been the nominee, the Democrats might have run a race not entirely hopeless; as it is, the only matter for speculation is how stupendous the majority will be."

Driving Out Disreputables.

The committee charged with the duty of driving disreputable resorts from Wabash avenue, Chicago, has secured the indictment of 122 persons, of whom four have pleaded guilty, two have been tried and fined and 35 have moved out of the district. Fifty-seven cases remaining will be pushed to an early trial.

One of the most satisfactory features of the report of Chairman Torbett of the vigilance committee, says the Chicago Record-Herald, is his statement that according to the police arrests in the neighborhood have decreased 50 per cent since the crusade began, owing to the improvement of conditions. This is a gain well worth all the time and money spent by the committee. It shows vividly how great is the evil that results when resorts of the kind that have now been banished from Wabash avenue are allowed to flaunt their low attractions.

Courage and Duty.

In its general tenor the speech which the president delivered at Syracuse is reminiscent of other addresses that he has made and of essays that he has written. He deprecates class antagonisms, saying again that in the long run we all of us tend to go up or down together, proclaims the equality of the law and dwells on the supreme worth of a combination of courage, honesty, industry and a devotion to duty. The doctrine is that of the strenuous life, supplemented by an appeal for justice between man which may be applied with equal pertinency to various events of the time.—Chicago Record Herald.

The Strenuous Kaiser.

One hundred and twenty degrees in the sun is the temperature reported from the Saale valley, Saxony, where a great review of the German army is in progress, and the casualties due to heat prostration are so numerous as to give the sham battles an all too realistic appearance. The ambulances, says the cable, are nearly as busy picking up sun-stricken soldiers as they would be in picking up the wounded in actual warfare. All this is, of course, in the interest of discipline. But there are circumstances, one would think, under which a great military review might be postponed in the interest of the men.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

THE ARMY OF THE CORN.

All summer long the army stands
In ranks erect and clean,
The garrison of level lands
And of the hills between.
The Armies of the Wind and Rain
Come shouting to the fight;
Alert upon the spreading plain
The corn waits in its might.

It flaunts its tasseled banners high,
And beats each swaying shield,
Until the summer's battle cry
Is chorused from the field.
Victorious and sturdy still
It rises from the fray,
And rustling chants of gladness fill
The long hours of the day.

The dawn's first tender rosy blush—
The hailing of the morn—
Finds, shrouded in a peaceful hush,
The Army of the Corn.
But friendly breezes come and go
Till dying afternoon
Hears faintly sighing soft and low,
The echo of a croon.

And so serene and bold and brave,
All through the summer long
The gleaming banners proudly wave
In cadence with the song.
Until the golden autumn morn
When there will come to spoil
The Standing Army of the Corn,
The hopeful Troop of Toil.
—W. D. Nesbit, in Chicago Tribune.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

A question of the hour:
Where, or what, or who is Pymatuning?

[illegible] may not be so interested in the answer that you are waiting for it with bated breath and bounding pulse, but somebody is.

You, individually, may not care a ticky-tick whether it is a high mountain or a hole in the ground, an arid plain or a boggy bog, a parlor or a bastile, a milk-maid or a [illegible], a heaven or a hades of a place.

But you must remember there are others, at least a few, who really want to know—who just have to know, and know really quick, even if they have to go forth and find out at whatever the cost.

To a full-fledged millionaire such a task might be a mere trifle and not worth killing [illegible] over, but to one who lives half a millionaire it is more than a trifle—it is something Herculean and full of dilemmas with [illegible].

Here is a chance for you, for any one, to earn a jewel for your crown by doing for another as you would have another do for you if you wanted to know and had to know, where, or what, or who is Pymatuning.

So, let the information come, and come at once; the [illegible] will come by-and-by—the longer the [illegible]. Not so with answers to the question of the hour.

* * * * *

You may think it would come mighty handy to know everything, but when you come to consider the drawbacks, count the cost and weigh the worry that would go with such a bunch of knowledge, you will change your mind, provided yours is one of the changeable sort.

Some persons, the straight-forward, one-direction type, never reverse themselves, not even if by so doing they could avoid a head-on collision or a plunge through an open draw, or a stunning bump into something impenetrable or impassable. These usually dash into the open switches of destruction in their time, but once in a while they get enough clear track to enable them to gain considerable speed, and to accumulate a great deal of momentum, which, as you know, are essential to first class smash-ups, involving life, wealth and reputation.

It is those, however, who get farthest ahead, and got there first, if they have luck.

While there is something in getting a fair start, there is more in maintaining a steady pace, avoiding bad spots in the road, steering clear of impossible climbs, and accumulating sufficient speed, together with weight and momentum, to out-run, or out-knock any or all others on the track. And for this purpose, the non-reversible, straight-line, one-direction type of human machine is best.

This type of man-machine is capable of acting upon but one idea at a time, and that is why he is almost sure to win if there is anything in the idea worth while.

* * * * *

Thus you see that to know where, or what, or who is Pymatuning one might have to know so much else that his knowledge would be a grievous burden instead of a comfortable ballast.

There is much satisfaction in knowing just enough, and no more, concerning people and things.

If our knowledge or information concerning people were confined to facts alone they might appear somewhat different, and we would be less liable to mental, moral and financial suffering on their account.

Most of our information concerning people is second-hand, at very best, and for some reason or other it is off color more or less. That is why we are not satisfied with the complexion of some people. Were we to trust our own senses instead of depending on others we might be able to detect a different and more satisfactory tint.

This has no reference to the brownish-red tinge noticeable on the cheeks of the country girl, nor to the starchy white of the town girl who fears being sunburned.

The country girl does not dote on freckles, sunburn and tan as much as you may imagine. In fact, she dislikes them very much, and strives hard against them, as you may learn by noticing how faithfully she soaks her face with buttermilk, rubs her hands and neck with tomato skins and anoints herself with pomade at night.

This is as legitimate and honest as to use soap for cleansing the hands and face. She is not covering defects for the purpose of leading others to believe she is prettier than she really is.

* * * * *

If Pymatuning was spelled p-i-e instead of p-y, the quest would be more promising, for pie, you know, appeals more strongly to the feelings than do common everyday crowns of glory, or rewards of merit.

There is something about pie that no other luxury possesses. Not even the born poet has been able to express it in words. Like the scent of the rose and the honeysuckle, it will not be written down, nor defined. It is just pie—p-i-e, and nothing more. But isn't that enough? It is if you have taken a few bites of something more substantial as a foundation—a sort of altar as it were—upon which to lay it.

Have you noticed that pies made of the same material, but by different artists, never taste alike? Were a dozen pie artists to use dough from the same batch, and filling from the same crock, their pies would be as characteristically different as are those who made them.

That which makes an artist's picture good and enjoyable is himself. It is not the color on the canvas, but the artist that we see and admire. He puts himself into it.

May it not be the same with the pie artist?

Only the best-natured, sweetest-tempered, most kissable and lovable girls make best elderberry pie. This is the secret of your being able to determine the temper and disposition of your best girl by the elderberry pies she makes. Bought ones don't count.

Secretary Shaw of the president's cabinet says the hope of this country rests upon the country boys and girls mainly. When he left Washington a few weeks ago he may have been feeling a little blue on account of seeing so many unfit people in and about the city.

Then there are the swarms of clerks, young and old, of both sexes, and all sorts of previous conditions, who seem to have no other ambition than to exist from year to year. They are neither home builders nor home keepers, therefore the country need not expect much from them in the future.

But when Mr. Shaw got out into the northwest timber lands, took a swing across a prairie patch and ran down through Ohio to Columbus, where he took in the state fair, he felt better. He couldn't help it, nor could he help saying so when called on at the fair for a few remarks for the good of the country.

And he is right; not that there are no good boys and girls in the city, nor that there are no bad ones in the country, but there is something about country life, country training, country education that gives to certain men and women a peculiar fitness for high and responsible positions in business, in politics, in education and in society.

But what has this to do with the question of the hour: Where or what or who is Pymatuning?

It may have much to do with it.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—When the Pennsylvania railroad made the rule about [illegible] weeks ago that no one should be allowed inside the gates of the train shed at Jersey City unless with a ticket, there was the usual protest on the part of the public. It had always been customary for persons bidding good-bye to departing friends to go inside and to sit in the train until it began to move. All this has been done away with and the traveler is compelled to walk alone from the gate to the train, even though it may be nearly a quarter of a mile away, as it is in some cases. When the departing person happens to be a child, or a woman with a baby and a heavy satchel that she does not care to intrust to a porter, it is a hardship. An official of the road told me this morning that the reason for the new rule was that the company was tired of paying large sums of money for damages sustained by persons alighting from moving trains and had determined that the only way to protect itself as well as its patrons was to keep everyone out except passengers. While this reason seems sound enough on its face it is a fact that the Erie and other railroads, which are not quite so severe, have no heavier record of injuries through permitting people to see their friends safely on the trains than the Pennsylvania railroad and New York Central, both of which companies shut the gates in the faces of friends accompanying passengers.

Roosevelt's Latest Epigram.

President Roosevelt must be credited with another picturesque expression. He said this morning that "Jake Riis never could have been of any use in the police department as he had always carried on a rose water revolution." "Rosewater revolution" is good—fragrant, too.

Parks' Friend, "The Enemy."

It is remarked that one paper in this city which is avowedly opposed to Samuel J. Parks and his methods in connection with organized labor estimated the number of men in line on Labor day as nearly [illegible], although other newspapers which have been neutral to all intents and purposes declare that the number did not reach [illegible]. Evidently the paper that allows the larger number desires to be recognized by Parks as his "friend the enemy."

Look Out for the Liners.

When you go cruising up and down New York harbor in a small craft it behooves you to look out for ocean liners. The big Deutschland backed down on a three-masted schooner in the Narrows early this morning and crushed it like an egg shell. The Hamburg-American liner wants room when it is maneuvering in such circumscribed waters and the skippers of other vessels should remember that a steamer of the size of the Deutschland is, like a crab, just as dangerous behind as in front.

Romance in Tragedy Killed by Smells.

That Italian on the East Side who drove a 12-inch stiletto a dozen times into the body of a fellow countryman this morning did the work quite in the style of medieval Spain. It was like a scene from one of Lopez de Vega's tragedies. The motive was jealousy and the fact that the avenger of his honor was only a laborer and the Lothario a prosaic baker of bread and cookies, while the killing occurred in an ill-smelling tenement, does not detract from the blood-thirsty romanticism of the affair. The feature that was not romantic was the appearance of the Tammany policeman who yanked the assassin to the police station.

In the Net of the Government.

No surprise was occasioned by the surrender of George W. Beavers to the United States commissioner this morning. The indictment found against Beavers some months ago for malfeasance in his office as head of the division of salaries and allowances in the postoffice department could have only one outcome. The United States district attorney, Youngs, was so little exercised over the surrender that he said he would not take the trouble to cross the Brooklyn bridge to get his prisoner. When Uncle Sam is after a man he knows that the latter cannot escape for all time.

A Comforting Reflection.

It is comforting to know that the cars in the Rapid Transit tunnel now approaching completion will be fireproof. Another car on a surface road in Brooklyn blazed up and frightened a lot of passengers today. The cause was the familiar one—short circuit. If the car had been in a tunnel an ordinary imagination can conceive what might have been the consequence to the imprisoned passengers.

"Happy Day" Out of Pawn.

Charles M. Schwab's new pleasure boat, "Happy Day," built for the use of the children who will be taken to the work on Staten Island which the generous Pittsburgher has bought for them, has got out of pawn. It has been in the hands of deputy sheriffs at the Crescent ship yards at Elizabethport for several weeks in company with a number of other craft. It was no fault of Mr. Schwab's. Some lumber merchants had libeled the vessels for [illegible] for lumber furnished to the shipyards company. Arrangements have been completed which will allow work to be resumed and the deputy sheriffs have marched out. Two Mexican gunboats were among the vessels held up in company with the "Happy Day."

Beware of the Iron Post.

When one is told that a conductor whose head struck an elevated railway pillar died in a hospital he will merely wonder that there are no more deaths from a similar cause. On many streets in Greater New York surface cars are run along the "L" and passengers who venture to get on or off a moving car stand a first class chance to knock out such brains as they have against one of these pestiferous iron posts. The fact that one may live in Pittsburgh 11 months in the year does not relieve him of the danger of being thumped to death in the twelfth. So many Pittsburghers spend at least a few weeks every year in New York that they can sympathize with the poor fellow who died today.

Labor Day Comment.

The record for the country at large has shown an almost phenomenal growth of trades unionism during the year. The great cause for gratification as a result of this activity is the betterment of the conditions of toilers in many places where there had not been enjoyed the recompense that was the workman's due. Herein lies the real source of the success of organized labor—the ability to demand better conditions for toil, not only as wages paid, but in improved sanitary conditions and in many cases more congenial surroundings.

From year to year there is also to be noted an advance that must be a source of gratification to the membership of organized labor. It is the great change in attitude of a very large number of the American people in regard to these organizations. It has now come to be generally known and believed that the objects of organization are not only a juster distribution of the products of labor, but the moral, mental and physical improvement of the sons of toil, and under wise and conservative leadership there will continue to be that beneficent progress which all ranks and conditions of men should welcome.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Today there is reason for both congratulation and warning. Since the Labor day of 1902 two great events have served to encourage and to discourage those who hope for a solution of the so-called labor problem. The settlement of the anthracite strike was a distinct advance toward the day of general arbitration. The later inauguration in the metropolis of a widespread sympathetic strike among the building trades was a token that the lessons of last autumn's victory have not been sufficiently learned. * * * For every strike there is a cause, and usually that cause may be found in the refusal of one side or the other to submit the issues to an unconditional arbitration at the hands of impartial umpires. The task of labor today is to impress the public with its willingness to be reasonable. Just as soon as the workers demonstrate that they are the true, unflinching friends of the principle of arbitration each annual mustering of their ranks in parade on this their day will forward the advent of the peace unbroken which will bring prosperity to all.—Washington Star.

The preponderant sentiment of labor in Detroit is fair and disposed at every crisis to judicially weigh the rights and wrongs of the situation. There may have been exceptions in minor cases, just as there have been instances where capital failed at first to admit the equities and permit them to determine the outcome. But the exceptions have been such as tend to affirm the rule. There has never been the continued and acute friction here that have led to a dangerous bitterness in some other sections, and the general desire to make Labor day a great success is among the results.—Detroit Free Press.

Labor day should be made a new Independence day. Independence of the crafty and selfish agitator and walking delegate who plunges thousands and tens of thousands of men, women and children into long periods of idleness, privation and hunger that he may personally profit by their distress. It should be an occasion of renewed dedication to the foundation principles of our government, individual freedom, the inherent right of every man to work for the support of himself and his family, the right to safety and protection in his occupation and the equality of all before the law. * * * Labor day would be well employed in instructing our foreign population in these fundamental truths and in that other lesson that is made more impressive every year that, considering only the welfare of himself and his wife and children, no man should ever consent to strike until every other means of gaining just and reasonable concessions have been tried and have failed.—Harrisburg Patriot.

CAUSE OF FIRE STILL UNKNOWN

The Fire Marshal and Insurance Men Started to Work Yesterday.

THE LOSS PLACED AT $150,000

Allegheny Transfer and Storage Company Lost $75,000 and the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company About $25,000. List of Insurance Companies.

Investigation into the cause of the fire in Liberty avenue, which destroyed a large portion of the block between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets, early yesterday morning, was begun by Fire Marshal W. D. McGill, yesterday. Insurance men were also early on the ground looking over the ruins and figuring on the losses. All the concerns losing by the fire were not heard from yesterday, but it is believed the total loss will fully reach $150,000, the estimate made by The Gazette after the fire was under control.

The Allegheny Transfer & Storage Company is the principal loser. Robert Donaldson, president of the company, yesterday said that his company's loss will be about $75,000. He said that from reports made by the drivers, it is thought there were 110 horses in the stables when the fire started. The rescued horses having been turned loose and then scattering over the city, it is not known definitely just how many were saved, but he said he believes that fully 80 horses were burned to death. Besides the great loss in horses, the company lost a set of harness for each horse, and about 60 wagons. The loss on the building is placed at $12,000. Early in the morning Mr. Donaldson made arrangements to secure horses and wagons so that the company's business would not be interfered with. The stables were sold a short time ago, and it was intended to remove them.

Lanterns Were Barred.

The building used by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company as a storage house was not so badly damaged as at first supposed, and the loss on the warehouse, which is owned by Jacob Kaufmann, is placed at only $8,000. The company's loss on stock is placed at $25,000, covered by insurance. Outside of the glass broken and ruined by heat, it was also stated that all the packed glass will be found to be considerably damaged.

At a meeting of the board of fire underwriters, in the fire marshal's office, Mr. Donaldson was the only person present to testify. He stated that lanterns and lamps were barred from the stables altogether, and that employes were instructed to use the electric lights entirely. The two stablemen who were at the building when the fire started have been ordered to appear before the fire marshal today for examination. Mr. McGill said that the report that he suspected the fire was of incendiary origin was untrue, but that he is of the opinion that the progress of the blaze could have been stopped in the beginning had the two stablemen kept their heads.

The Pittsburgh Switch & Signal Company, the Comstock Brass Manufacturing Company and the Thuemler Manufacturing Company were not damaged to any great extent. Their losses are fully covered by insurance.

How the Insurance Was Placed.

The insurance on the buildings and stock was placed as follows:

Allegheny Transfer and Storage Company placed through C. M. Logue & Son—German of Freeport, St. Paul, Phoenix of Hartford, Car association and Potomac, $1,000 each; total, $5,000. This was placed $2,000 on horses, $1,500 on wagons, $1,000 on harness and $500 on feed.

Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company placed through W. G. McCandless & Son—Aetna of Hartford, American of Pennsylvania, London, Liverpool and Globe, National of Hartford, New York Underwriters, Northern Assurance, Royal, N. B. & M. and Phoenix of New York, $2,500 each; Hamburg of Bremen, $2,000; the Assurance Company, Atlas, Commercial Union, Connecticut Fire association, National Standard, Palatine, Philadelphia Underwriters, Phoenix of Hartford, $2,000 each; Camden, Colonial, Comity of Philadelphia, Dutchess, Firemen of New Jersey, German-American of Pittsburgh, German-American of New York, Home of New York, Kings County, Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh Underwriters, Providence of Washington, Security, Union of Philadelphia, American Central, Mercantile, Williamsburg City, Westchester, German-American of Baltimore, Connecticut, City, Delaware and National of Ireland, $1,500 each; Aachen of Munich and Royal Exchange, $1,250 each; British-American, Conestoga, Phoenix of London, German Alliance, American of New Jersey, National and Glens Falls, $1,000 each; National of Hartford and Sun Office, $750 each; India Mutual and Glens Falls, $500 each; total, $90,000. Of this sum $86,000 was on stock and $4,000 on fixtures. The insurance men estimate their loss at 20 per cent.

Kaufmann building, placed by Benswanger & Holt—German of Illinois, $2,500; St. Paul, Manchester, Thuringa and Teutonia, $2,000 each; German of West Virginia, Michigan, North German, Potomac and Svea, $1,500; total, $18,000.

STRUCK BY FUEL WAGON.

Probable Manner in Which Edward Hopkins Was Seriously Injured.

Edward Hopkins of 48 Congress street, who was found lying in an unconscious condition at Slocum alley and Liberty avenue at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, is still at the Homeopathic hospital in a precarious condition. Hopkins' skull is fractured and he has not regained consciousness. Special Officers Robert Denniston and Hugh Duffy made an investigation and they are of the opinion that Hopkins was struck by the fuel wagon from No. 1 engine house while answering the alarm to the fire in the stables of the Pittsburgh Transfer Company.

Driver William McKeever of the fuel wagon said that he passed close to a man at that place, and thought at the time that he had struck him with the side of his wagon. He was going so fast, however, that he was unable to determine whether he had struck him on account of the darkness.

HELD BRIEF SESSION.

Committee on City Surveys Disposed of Its Business in Five Minutes.

A five-minute session last night sufficed for the committee on surveys of city councils to transact all the business that came upon its schedule. An ordinance for the vacation of an eight-foot strip between Mathilda and High streets in the James Younger plan of lots, extending to Luzerne street, Nineteenth ward, was returned affirmatively. The ground is located between the street and abutting property, and the vacation is necessary to assess the cost of street improvement upon property owners.

The Rytle plans of lots in the Twenty-third ward, an ordinance for which had been held up in select council on account of a dispute among the individual owners over the boundary lines, was returned with an affirmative recommendation. The committee on public works was scheduled to meet, but a quorum failed to appear.

Contract for New Engine.

The department of public safety yesterday awarded the contract for the new chemical engine and hose wagon with hook and ladder attachments, to J. T. Wier & Sons of Pittsburgh, for $1,780. Only two bids were received. The contract calls for the completion of the apparatus in 30 days. It will be installed in the Twenty-third ward engine house.

THE DEATH ROLL

Col. John M. Thompson.

Col. John M. Thompson died yesterday at his home in Butler, Pa., of paralysis. Three weeks before his death he was confined to bed. He was born January 4, 1830. His parents were William H. and Anna McCandless Thompson. His grandfather was John Thompson, an Irish immigrant, who came to Butler county from Chartiers Creek in 1799. Col. Thompson attended the common schools in his neighborhood and later the Witherspoon Institute in Butler. After teaching school for several terms he commenced in 1852 to read law with the Hon. Samuel A. Purviance. Two years later he was admitted to the bar and taken as a partner by Mr. Purviance and the Hon. Charles C. Sullivan. Col. Thompson was a natural orator, and quickly established himself as a leader at the Butler bar. For 50 years he held undisputed precedence as a tower of strength before any jury that ever was drawn in this district. From 1858 to 1862 he served in the Pennsylvania legislature, and for a time was speaker pro tem. of the house. In 1862 he helped to organize and was elected major of the One Hundred and Thirty-fourth Pennsylvania volunteer infantry. He fought with credit at Antietam, South Mountain and Fredericksburg. At the latter battle he was wounded and retired from the service with the rank of colonel. Resuming his law practice in Butler, he was in 1868 a delegate to the Republican convention which nominated Gen. Grant for his first term as president, and in 1875-77 served two terms in the United States house of representatives. He was also a member of the Loyal Legion, Grand Army of the Republic, and was for a time president of the Butler Savings bank, and for 20 years he was solicitor for the Pennsylvania railroad in Butler county. He was married October 10, 1854, to Anna L. David, daughter of the late Robert David. They had three children: Oliver D. Thompson of the Allegheny county bar; William C. Thompson, an attorney of Butler, and Anna Flora, deceased wife of Dr. Charles Mitchell of St. Cloud, Minn.

Capt. A. S. Warner.

Capt. A. S. Warner, postmaster of Tarentum, died suddenly at his home in East Tenth avenue, Tarentum, at 7 o'clock last night. He had been in bad health for a year, but recently seemed slightly improved. He was born in Armstrong county 65 years ago, and when the Civil war broke out he enlisted in the One Hundred and Thirty-ninth Pennsylvania volunteers, of which John Collins, now county judge, was colonel. The meritorious work of Warner eventually earned him a captaincy, which he was awarded after continuous service with his regiment to the close of the rebellion. At the end of the war he went to Freeport, Pa., and for the next 20 years he was employed as gauger in a distillery there. Fourteen years ago he married Miss Helen McCurdy, daughter of Dr. J. S. McCurdy of Freeport. When he went to Tarentum he was first employed as head bookkeeper for the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's Tarentum works. His appointment as postmaster was made five years ago, and he remained in active charge up to the time of his death. He is survived by his widow and one son, Robert, 12 years old, and by one brother, William B., in the west. Capt. Warner was a member of the Presbyterian church of Tarentum and of the Grand Army of the Republic. The funeral service arrangements have not yet been made.

Alfred G. Fuller.

Alfred G. Fuller of No. 531 Talbot avenue, Braddock, died at his home at 5 o'clock last night of typhoid fever after an illness of 10 days. He was born in McKeesport 24 years ago, and was employed by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad as a conductor. He is survived by a widow and three sons. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and was an officer in the McKeesport lodge of this organization. He was also a member of the Presbyterian church and of Bessemer Tent No. 92, Knights of the Maccabees. The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon and services at his late residence will precede interment in Mt. Vernon cemetery, near McKeesport.

"The conditions are so different, however, that there was little profit in his investigation," said Mr. Harper. The hospital associations, especially in London, are huge business concerns, with long lists of salaried employees, working on a system for the benefit of contributors only. Mr. Harper does not consider that they accomplish as much general charitable work as the organizations in America.

MRS. ETNIER WILL STAND BY HER OWN

She is a Candidate for Re-Election as Secretary of County W. C. T. U.

ALL GOSSIP IS SHUT OUT

White Ribbon Delegates Declare Persecution is Not in Their Province—Mrs. Ellis of Washington Makes Address. Officers to Be Named Today.

Influential members of the county Women's Christian Temperance Union, which began a two-days' session yesterday, in the First Presbyterian church, Union avenue, Allegheny, believe that they have established beyond doubt the fact that an attempt was made to use that organization as a tool in relieving its corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ruth Shaffner Etnier, of Avalon, of her office.

The annual election of officers will take place today, and it is believed that the friends of Mrs. Etnier, will win an overwhelming victory for her. The women declare that they have no slates, and all of the officers spoken to last night said they have no idea as to who the new officers will be.

Mrs. Etnier attended both of the day sessions of the convention, yesterday, but was absent at night. The reports to the effect that she was connected with her husband, Charles Etnier, in the alleged matter of ill-abusing his 15-year-old daughter, have been allowed to go unnoticed by the convention, although at a board meeting, before the afternoon session, a member attempted to introduce the distasteful subject and was quietly hushed.

Speaking of the matter, Mrs. Etnier said yesterday: "I have heard several of my friends speak of me for corresponding secretary, but further than that I know nothing. I certainly do not intend resigning. I issued the call for this convention and have come to finish my duties and accept office again if it is tendered. I have never been visited by a committee from the W. C. T. U. asking for my resignation."

Mrs. Etnier is one of the brightest workers who wears the white ribbon and during her incumbency she has made hosts of friends. At one time she was spoken of as a candidate for president of the county organization.

The convention opened yesterday with Mrs. L. H. Forrest, president, in the chair. The first routine business was that of appointing committees, assigning convention work and receiving the reports of superintendents. There were 100 delegates present representing 30 local unions. The afternoon session was preceded by a conference between members of the executive committee and the superintendents, and then came the report of the corresponding secretary. This report showed that the total county membership is 707, and of the Loyal Temperance legion 1,200. The report of the president was devoted almost entirely to the history of the organization. Mrs. Foster, the president, is an active worker and is regarded as one of the executive heads of the movement. Her report was followed by a memorial service in honor of the four members who have died during the past year.

The night session was given up to an address by Mrs. Margaret D. Ellis, superintendent of national legislation, and a charming and instructive talk she made. The attendance was encouraging and Mrs. Ellis made an address that amply repaid everyone who heard it. She spoke wholly of the national legislative work being done at Washington. She has the honor of having framed many an important bill, including the anti-canteen measure.

Delegates will be elected today to the state convention, which meets in Altoona in October, and the convention will be closed this afternoon after a reception to the "baby band."

Date of Jett's Trial Announced.

CYNTHIANA, KY., Sept. 8.—The case of Curtis Jett for the alleged assassination of Town Marshal James Cockrell at Jackson, Ky., in February, 1902, was called by Judge Osborne today. Attorney J. L. Blanton filed a special demurrer to the indictment and also a special demurrer to the jurisdiction of the court. The demurrers were overruled by Judge Osborne.

FIRE ENGINEERS IN CONSULTATION

Best Methods of Fighting the Demon Discussed at Atlantic City.

CHIEF CROKER A CANDIDATE

Former Head of New York Fire Department a Candidate for Re-Election to That Position—Relation of Labor Unions to the Fire Bureau.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Young's Ocean Pier
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 8.

The 31st annual convention of the International Association of Fire Engineers opened at Marina hall, Youngs pier, at 11 o'clock this morning. Mayor Stoy delivered the address of welcome, the responses being made by Chief Devine of Salt Lake City and Capt. William Brophy of Boston. About 250 delegates are in attendance, and these with their wives and friends, swell the number of strangers to about 400.

Much rivalry exists between the representatives of various cities for securing the next meeting place, but the real fight will dwindle down between this city, Chattanooga, Tenn.; St. Louis, Milwaukee, San Francisco, New City, Fla., and Saratoga. A strong fight will be made for the retention in office of President Croker of New York city, who is running out his first term, and all sorts of political wires are being pulled in his behalf. The opposition is now split up on several candidates, but the probabilities are that all opposing interests will center upon one candidate, in which event the incumbent will have a hard battle.

There was a good attendance at the afternoon meeting, for which a number of interesting topics were scheduled for discussion, and more or less wonder was caused by the president calling for topic No. 2 first. In an instant two or three delegates were upon their feet demanding to know why topic No. 1, "Should Firemen be Members of Labor Unions," was omitted, and they were answered by President Croker replying:

"The board of directors have ruled that topic out."

In connection with the convention is a fine display of the different kinds of apparatus used in the business of fire fighting, and these appliances will be put to a practical test in the street at Albany and Pacific avenues tomorrow morning.

One of the features of the gathering will be a parade of the local and visiting companies tomorrow afternoon. Until Friday, when the session closes, pleasure will be intermingled with business. Amusements of various sorts have been provided for the visiting women, and altogether the gathering has the earmarks of becoming one of the most successful in the history of the organization. The discussions this afternoon drew forth many able discourses on the question proposed. A successful test of an automobile fire engine was given late this afternoon.

BANKERS ARRESTED.

Sensation Created Among the Foreigners at Butler and Embezzlement Is Charged.

BUTLER, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—A sensation was created among the foreign element of this city this evening by the closing of the banking house of Pacvosky, Matiasic & Co. and the arrest of L. Raymond Pacvosky and his partner, Matiasic, who formed the firm. Three weeks ago Pacvosky and Matiasic established their banking house. The new firm did a large business among the foreigners, of whom there are about 4,000 in Butler.

During the last two days complaints were numerous that money supposedly sent to Europe through the firm did not reach its destination. The news spread among the foreigners and some 20 of them made information charging Pacvosky and Matiasic with the embezzlement of several hundred dollars. The simple allegation is they received the money to send to Europe and never sent it. The embezzlements are said to amount to over $7,000. An attachment is said to have been issued this morning on a large cash account which the firm had in a local bank. Pacvosky and Matiasic were taken before Justice McElvain, who held them each in $1,000 bail for a hearing tomorrow. John Berg, a well-known banker, went on the bond of both.

STEEL AND WIRE MILLS ARE BEING KEPT BUSY

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—An official of the American Steel and Wire Company said: "The general business situation of the country is all right. We have studied it carefully from every viewpoint. The outlook is fully as good as it was a year ago, both foreign and domestic, and our sales for the year will be larger. Some of the mills are undergoing repairs, but they are being pressed into commission as soon as work is completed. The demand for wire and nails from the west is on an unprecedented scale for this season."

MORE EXCITEMENT IN THE COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Cotton broke sharply after the opening of the market today and there was a renewal of the recent excitement in that market. After the call the bears attacked the October option, of which there had been sales at 10 cents. October fell immediately about twenty points and later options suffered about as severely.

FOR HEROES WHO FOUGHT FRANCE

Magnificent Memorial Was Unveiled on Site of French War Battle Yesterday.

NOTED MEN PARTICIPATED

Oration of the Day Was Made by Senator Chauncey Depew and Four Governors Aided in Removal of the Canvas Shield About the Monument.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LAKE GEORGE, N. Y., Sept. 8.—In Battle Park, overlooking the placid waters of the lake, the bronze memorial commemorating the battle of Lake George was unveiled today in presence of thousands of excursionists from this and all the adjoining states. Hundreds of representatives of patriotic societies witnessed the ceremony also, at which Senator Chauncey Depew delivered the oration of the day.

The governors of New York, Vermont, Massachusetts and Connecticut, stationed at the four corners of the monument, pulled the fastenings and gave to the public gaze the beautiful bronze figures of the Indian chieftain Hendrick demonstrating to General Johnson, the futility of dividing his forces. As the canvas slowly dropped at the foot of the massive granite pedestal the First battery fired a national salute. The following inscription is on the last face of the base:

1903—The Society of the Colonial Wars
Erected This Monument
To Commemorate the Victory of the Colonial Forces Under General Johnson
And the Mohawk Allies Under Chief Hendrick Over the French Regulars.
Commanded by Baron Dieskau, With the Canadian and Indian Allies.
Defeat Would Have Opened the Road to Albany to the French. The North Confidence Inspired by the Victory was of Inestimable Value to the American Army in the War of The Revolution."

On the west face are the words:
Battle of Lake George.
Sept. 8, 1755.

The day's ceremonies began at 10 o'clock with a review of the troops by the quartet of governors. In the line were a troop from the Second United States cavalry, a company of the Ninth United States infantry, three companies of the New York National guard, the governor's foot guards of Connecticut and a company of Massachusetts infantry.

Senator Depew's address was an effective resume of the rigors of the colonial war and after rehearsing the numerous incidents connected therewith he said:

This colonial war, which lasted to within two years of the length of the struggle of the revolution, and whose issues were so tremendous, occupies only a few chapters in American and scarcely a page in European history. It is remembered in school books and popular recollection mainly by the heroism and death of Wolfe and Montcalm. It was marked by savage conflicts, Indian massacres, numberless deeds of valor, and countless episodes of marvelous adventure; but in all great wars and civic contests time obliterates and eliminates until one name typifies the era and its outcome. All the actors are forgotten save to the student or the antiquary except William Pitt and Gen. James Wolfe, and the incident of Washington's heroism and hairbreadth escapes on Braddock's bloody field. Pitt and Wolfe have filling memorials among England's mighty dead in Westminster Abbey, while Washington lives in the hearts of his countrymen.

James William Beekman, governor of the New York society, in accepting the monument in behalf of the society spoke of the endeavors of the society to keep alive the memory of the nation's heroes. Addresses were delivered by Governor Odell of New York; Governor Chamberlain of Connecticut; Gov. McCullough of Vermont and Lieut. Gov. Guild of Massachusetts, and the following letter from President Roosevelt was read:

Oyster Bay, N. Y., August 29, 1903.

My Dear Mr. Ferris: It is with real regret that I find myself unable to be present at the dedication of the monument to commemorate the battle of Lake George. I very earnestly believe in the wisdom in this new country of ours of keeping alive a sense of continuity with the historic past. It is a good thing from every standpoint to commemorate in striking form the deeds that made Lakes Champlain and George famous in colonial and revolutionary days, and again in the war of 1812. There is a peculiar appropriateness in placing a monument on the line of these two lakes which formed a highway of warfare, followed by the war parties of Indians, of colonial troops, of French and British and finally of American soldiers.

Hoping that you will have a thoroughly successful celebration, I am very sincerely yours,

(Signed) THEODORE ROOSEVELT.
Mr. Morris P. Ferris,
Secretary of Colonial Wars,
New York City, N. Y.

TO BE GIVEN AUTONOMY.

Stonemasons Affiliated With the Bricklayers Fulfilling Their Agreement.

The last chapter in the history of the local members of the Stone Masons' International union was completed last night, when they joined the Bricklayers and Masons' International union, according to the decision of the board that arbitrated the disputes between the two organizations. The event put out of existence the independent stone masons and ended a fight which has been waged between the two organizations for 12 years.

The meeting was held in the Arnfeld building, No. 1119 Penn avenue. The masons had seven locals and now they are united with the bricklayers and will form a new local, comprised of masons only. This will give them autonomy, but it must be affiliated with the international union. The new local will elect two business agents, one of which will be Andrew Kosacht, who has been business agent for the independents for some time. The bricklayers' scale calls for 65 cents an hour and the masons' 60 cents. When the present scale expires the masons will ask for the same as the bricklayers.

STEAMSHIP DEUTSCHLAND BREAKS ANOTHER RECORD

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—A new trans-Atlantic record was established today with the coming into port of the Hamburg-American liner Deutschland. Her arrival off the Sandy Hook lightship at 1:39 this morning gives her the championship of the seas. The Deutschland now holds both the eastward and westward records, having beaten by her performance today the record held by the Kronprinz Wilhelm of 5 days, 11 hours and 57 minutes for the westward crossing. The Deutschland's time was 5 days, 11 hours and 54 minutes.

Charged With Assault.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—A sensation was caused here today by the arrest and commitment to jail for court of Henry Deangelo of Braddock, on a charge of assaulting Lucy Corrado, an 11-year-old girl living in Highland avenue. The information was made by the child's brother, G. Corrado. When the girl appeared at the hearing this morning before Justice Miller, to testify against the prisoner, she had black and blue marks on her neck, showing where she had been choked. Deangelo denies his guilt.

Snowstorm at Butte.

Danger of Nervousness

Cure Should be Quick and Certain

We can't tell what life is but the amount and quality of life in the body depends upon the health of the nerves. When the nerves are vigorous, life is powerful. When the nerves are weak and deranged, life is burdensome. The human machinery is controlled and operated wholly by the nerves. The organs are but part of the machine. If the nerves become deranged or weak, insanity, epilepsy, paralysis or heart failure are a certainty unless relief is obtained at once.

"I consider your Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer one of the world's seven wonders. I had been failing in health for several years, growing worse until I had to give up work two years ago. Since that time I treated with the doctors and took all of the advertised nerve cures until I became disgusted because they did not help me. I finally tried your Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer and less than one bottle of it put me on my feet, so that I could return to work. I consider it remarkable that such a small quantity of the medicine could accomplish so much. It certainly is a wonder." Frederick [illegible], Elliott, Tenn.

Half of the people we meet on the street lack the full measure of energy and strength that full functioned, able-bodied men and women should have. Overwork, worry, dissipation, bad habits, lack of sleep and excesses of various kinds sap their vitality, waste their energy and exhaust their strength.

They need revitalizing. Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer is undoubtedly the greatest vitalizing tonic known to medical science. It regulates, sustains and strengthens all the natural functions under its influence. Absolute and permanent health is restored. It is for sale at one dollar a bottle by all druggists or is sent express prepaid on receipt of price. The J. W. Brant Co., Ltd., Albion, Mich.

Safe From Summer Complaints

All mammas, and papas too for that matter, dread the heat of summer with it's danger for the little folks, especially the babies. It is simply heart-breaking to read year after year about the great death rate among children caused by the summer's heat. Yet it is easy to protect the infants against all summer complaints, because we know that all these fearful perils have their beginning in stomach and bowel troubles, and we have a perfect family medicine that will keep the delicate machinery in a child's body clean, regular and in healthy working order in the hottest weather—CASCARETS Candy Cathartic. The plump, bouncing, crowing baby shown here is a CASCARET baby. He feels that way winter and summer. Nursing mammas take a CASCARET at bedtime, and it makes their mother's milk mildly purgative and keeps the baby just right. Older children like to take the fragrant, sweet little candy tablet, and are safe from colic, gripes, diarrhoea, summer rash, prickly heat and all the mean troubles that summer brings with it.

AMERICA LEADS ALL THE NATIONS

Secretary of Treasury Shaw Tells Mining Congress of Our Vast Resources.

A FEW STARTLING FIGURES

Our Iron Ore Production Is Greater Than That of Any Two Countries Combined. The Gross Manufactures for 1900 Aggregated $13,000,000,000.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

DEADWOOD, S. D., Sept. 8.—The opening of the Sixth annual convention of the American mining congress was held today. Governor Charles N. Herried warmly welcomed the delegates and visitors on behalf of the state, and Mayor McDonald welcomed them to Deadwood. Responses were made on behalf of the mining congress by President Richards and several delegates and the convention adjourned until 2:30 p. m., when President Richards delivered his annual address.

Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the treasury, was then introduced to the congress and in part said:

It is an error to rate the importance of our many industries according to their relative productiveness. Our factories and workshops produced $13,000,000,000 gross in 1900; agriculture, $4,000,000,000; forestry, $2,000,000,000, and mines, $1,000,000,000, about equally divided between metallic and non-metallic products. Yet it must occur to all that manufacture—apparently our greatest wealth-producing industry—is dependent upon iron, copper, lead, zinc and other metals, and equally upon coal and other non-metallic minerals. Our manufacturing interests would dwindle into insignificance but for our mines.

Manufacture is equally dependent upon agriculture for cotton, flax, wool and other products of the field and herd. Our commercial, industrial and financial supremacy is, therefore, not dependent upon any one fact or interest or condition, but upon all combined.

We produce practically 30,000,000 tons of iron ore—as much as any other two countries and one-third of the world's output.

We produce 40 per cent of the world's output of iron and steel. During the first half of 1903 we produced nearly 10,000,000 tons of pig iron. We produce more coal than Great Britain; more than twice as much as Germany and nearly double that of all countries except Great Britain and Germany. We grow three-fourths of the world's cotton fiber and our ability to produce this staple is far above the present product.

A people's prosperity is not measured by its capacity to produce more than by its capacity to consume, and this capacity to consume is in turn dependent upon the earning capacity of the individual, and the earning capacity of the individual is again dependent upon native and acquired ability. So if America be great, it is because God in His wisdom stored the mountains with the richest minerals, overlaid the valleys with a most fertile soil, and then gave it to people competent, in some slight degree at least, to improve their opportunities.

THE LOUISE IS SAFE.

Lake Steamer Reached Sandusky After an All Night Battle With Waves.

SANDUSKY, O., Sept. 8.—The fishing tug Louise, which, it was feared, had gone down with over 100 passengers in the big storm on Lake Erie yesterday, arrived here safely early today from Leamington, Ont. Rough weather was encountered just outside the harbor, but Capt. Hugh de Clute decided not to turn back. The boat ploughed through seas that had her decks awash half the time and everybody on board was sick. Leamington was finally reached at noon.

At 6 o'clock the party started on the return trip in even a rougher sea than was encountered on the way over. After a terrific struggle with the waves the Louise got into the lee of Pelee island, where she lay several hours. Then she started across the lake for Sandusky in a more moderate wind, but still a heavy sea. She arrived at 4 o'clock this morning with everybody safe but sick.

NOW THREATEN SUIT.

Courts to Be Appealed to by Consolidated Lake Superior Company Stockholders.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—That the Consolidated Lake Superior Company, which is capitalized for more than $100,000,000, will be involved in litigation with some of its stockholders seems inevitable. These stockholders, headed by E. Clarence Miller, a banker of this city, want to know the names, subscriptions and details of the $11,000,000 underwriting syndicate. They claim over $7,000,000 of these subscriptions are unpaid.

On Saturday an agreement was reached by which counsel for the stockholders were given to understand the books of the company were open for their inspection. When they called at the company's office today they were told the books had been removed to Sault Ste. Marie, Canada. The complaining stockholders will begin suit against the company.

HAS MANY ART TREASURES.

Miss Lawton, Instructor at Schwab Industrial School, Is Happy.

Miss Agnes Lawton, instructor in drawing in the C. M. Schwab Industrial school of Homestead, returned last evening from New York, where she went at the invitation of the former president of the United States Steel Corporation, to purchase statuary, casts, pictures and pottery, with which to decorate the rooms of the Homestead institution.

Mr. Schwab noticed the bare walls when in Homestead attending the dedication of the institution bearing his name, and Miss Lawton suggested how the bareness could be relieved. The suggestion was promptly adopted. Miss Lawton was told to expend $1,000 as her taste dictated. Miss Lawton in speaking of her purchases last night, said: "I am very proud of the collection I have gotten together. Few schools have such equipment as this one will have, when our treasures are placed."

DENTISTS' CONVENTION HELD AT M'KEESPORT

About 100 dentists, two of them women, attended a convention held yesterday in the offices of Dr. W. H. Sowash of McKeesport, under the auspices of the Odontological Society of Western Pennsylvania. The sessions were presided over by Dr. C. C. Taggart, president; assisted by Dr. George W. Gage, vice president; Dr. B. M. Loar, secretary, and J. A. Libby, treasurer. A number of demonstrations were given by the various delegates, and several interesting addresses on matters of interest to the profession were delivered.

BETTING ON THE GAMES AT THE LOCAL BALL PARK

Patron Objects to Open Wagering and to Asking Bids for Bets—Club Officials Say They Do Their Best to Prevent the Evil.

Among the mail that came to The Gazette office yesterday was the following letter:

Allegheny, Sept. 7, 1903.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

On Saturday I attended the baseball game between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. It was my first experience in the 50 cent seats, and I was immediately attracted by such cries as "20 to 14 on Pittsburgh;" "I'll bet he doesn't foul;" "No second; no third;" "A dollar that he doesn't score," etc.

Glancing around I saw that men with rolls of money in their hands were holding full sway in a certain section of the stand. The gamblers had it all their own way until a foul was batted into that particular section. Instead of throwing back the ball, some one kept it or else it rolled through to the ground beneath, I cannot say which.

In about five minutes three policemen marched into the stand and their leader spoke somewhat as follows: "Now, see here a minute. Any of you fellows caught with money in your fingers will be run in, see? Secretary Locke saw you swipe that ball, and now because you won't give it back he's going to stop this betting business, see? You'll be run in, that's all."

Some young fellow ventured a remark which aroused the officer, and he was dragged unceremoniously down and hustled off the stand. These are the facts. Betting subsided for a time, although by the end of the game they were at it once more. I do not wish to object to the stopping of the betting, but simply to raise this inquiry: Is there a law that prohibits such betting in such a place? If so, and the action of the officers seems to indicate as much, why is the matter of its enforcement left in the hands of Secretary Locke? If it is a violation of law, why do not the police stop it at once? Why must they await orders from Secretary Locke, or from anyone else?

Yours very truly,
A. I. M.

Secretary W. E. Locke of the Pittsburgh baseball club was shown the letter, but denied that any threats to stop betting were made in order to secure a lost ball. A policeman at the park also declared that no statement such as was quoted was used by any officers. Secretary Locke said further:

"We would like to stop the betting on the ball games, as it is injurious to our business. There are four special policemen in plain clothes and from 10 to 15 uniformed policemen at the park each game. Men caught betting are warned to desist, and, if they persist, they are put out of the grounds. There have been no arrests for the offense since I have been connected with the ball club.

"It is probably impossible to stop betting altogether, but we do all in our power to prevent open bids for wagers, such as are spoken of in the letter. When a close watch is kept on the bettors they generally do it quietly, so, of course, we can do nothing when we do not see any money flushed or passed from one to the other.

"As to balls that are knocked among the spectators," concluded the secretary, "we have a hard time getting many of them, for there are lots of people who think a baseball is common property, just as some persons look on an umbrella."

ITALIANS TO TURN OUT FOR CREATORE

A Testimonial Demonstration Is Being Arranged for the Gymnastic Band Master.

Plans are forming for a testimonial to be given Creatore, at the new exposition, by the Italians of Allegheny county, who number fully 45,000. A large body of them will march to the big music hall in a body, and in their interest the band leader has agreed to arrange special programs.

The programs for today, and especially tonight, will be largely made up of the magnificent music that has come from the pen of Italy's greatest masters. The entire evening is to be given over to works of Verdi, the selections including the "Trovatore" prison scene and excerpts from the grand operas "Traviata" and "Aida." It is in the interpretation of these numbers that Creatore is at his best, the beautiful passion-laden melodies from Italian skies making special appeal to his warm temperament. A splendid solo number will be Wagner's "Evening Star," on the bombardine, by Sig. Iafisco.

The Creatore engagement is fast drawing to a close, and the thousands who have postponed their visits to the new exposition should make instant resolve on attendance, for a musical season without a hearing of Creatore's music would be sadly incomplete.

One of the pleasing exposition diversions, hardly appreciated at its worth, is a trip down the Ohio on the Florence Belle, which has been splendidly refurnished for the exposition service. Creatore's programs for this afternoon follow:

March, "Teasing Hearts"	Creatore
Overture, "Barber of Seville"	Rossini
Intermezzo, "Loin du Ball"	Gillet
"Albumblatt"	Wagner
Quartet from "Rigoletto"	Verdi

Solos by Signori Lucci, Nobile, Croce and Iafisco.

March, "Columbus"	Creatore
Overture, "Orpheus"	Offenbach
Spanish Serenade, "La Paloma"	Yradier
Bombardino Solo, "Evening Star" from "Tannhaeuser" Signor Iafisco.	Wagner
"Reminiscence of Scotland"	Godfrey

PAYS HIS RESPECTS TO THE CITY GOVERNMENT

President J. B. Finley of Fifth National Bank Addresses Local Bank Clerks.

"Of the city government of Pittsburgh let me say just one thing: One can not expect a clear pure stream to flow from sources so polluted," said J. B. Finley, president of the Fifth National bank, and of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company, in his address last evening at the smoker of the Pittsburgh chapter of the American Institute of Bank Clerks. The smoker was the opening event of the season with the local bank clerks. It was held at the German Beneficial union hall in Sixth avenue and was attended by about 150 members of the chapter.

Mr. Finley's address dealt with the factors that produce promotion for the bank clerk. He was preceded by Joe Lincoln, editor of the "Bulletin," the official organ of the institute. A quartet helped to make the evening a pleasant one.

The program for the next five meetings was announced as follows: September 22, "Business Training;" October 13, "Commercial Law;" October 27, "Messenger-Bookkeeper-Teller;" November 10, "Commercial Law;" November 24, "Contests."

About 30 members of the local chapter will attend the national convention of the institute at Cleveland September 17 and 18. The local delegates will join here the members of the institute coming from the eastern cities and accompany them to the Forest City.

Train Wreckers Were Frustrated.

STEVENSVILLE, MONT., Sept. 8.—A bold attempt to hold up the Bitter Root express just east of here this morning was frustrated by the vigilance of the crew. Ties had been placed on the tracks but the engineer backed away in time to prevent a wreck. Three men who were concealed in the bushes, ran after the train but were soon outdistanced. The crew secured arms and returned, but the express passed unmolested.

More Vessels Lost in Storm.

MOBILE, ALA., Sept. 8.—Captain J. M. Scott, of the British schooner Batholdi, received a letter today telling of the loss of three additional vessels at Grand Cayman during the recent hurricane.

WANTED HIM IN ARMY.

Former German Citizen Had Narrow Escape in Visiting Old Home.

Prof. Carl Burkhardt, physical director of the Wilmerding Young Men's Christian association, during a recent sojourn in his old home in Germany had a narrow escape from impressment into the kaiser's army. Prof. Burkhardt was pounced upon by the military authorities, who declared that he was subject to service and it was not until the American consul at Stuttgart interposed that he was able to satisfy his inquisitors.

Prof. Burkhardt came from Germany about 16 years ago, when he was 16 years of age. He went back about three months ago to visit his mother. His passport and naturalization papers were ignored and he was placed under arrest, but the prompt action at the consulate suddenly changed affairs.

PRESIDENT BACK AT SAGAMORE HILL

Receives Sound Money Delegation of Commercial Travelers.

HIS EULOGY OF J. A. RIIS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

OYSTER BAY, L. I., Sept. 8.—President Roosevelt returned to Sagamore Hill this morning rather wearied from the effects of his hurried trip to Syracuse, where he opened the state fair yesterday. Extra precautions had been taken at Hoboken to prevent suspicious persons from molesting the president.

On the way here the president's train was stopped at Richmond Hill, where Mr. Roosevelt, in a speech to the fellow-townsmen of Jacob A. Riis, paid a graceful tribute to the latter.

"You know I am very fond of Mr. Riis," said President Roosevelt. "The reason is because when I preach about decent citizenship I can turn to him and think he has practiced just what I have been preaching."

Mr. Roosevelt added that he believed in cheerfulness and joy of living, but not in the life that is nothing but play.

"Unless a man has the stuff in him," said the president, "the fact that he is a decent fellow does not count. I believe in the man who can fight when it is necessary."

Fourteen delegates from the Commercial Travelers' Sound Money league drove to the president's summer home this afternoon in four carriages. They were the first persons to appear here wearing Roosevelt campaign badges with the date of 1904. The badges were highly ornate. They were of red silk fringed with gold lace bearing medallion pictures of the president.

On behalf of the league, Col. John Shepard, who is president of the New York branch, presented the president with a set of engraved resolutions indorsing Roosevelt's administration and assuring him of their support of his nomination in 1904.

Col. Shepard, in addressing the president, said: "This league has always stood for a sound money basis. Its members believe they have been a big influence in the last two campaigns in putting currency on a sound gold basis, and we expect to exert efforts in the same direction during the ensuing campaign and in support of your administration policy."

Mr. Roosevelt thanked the delegates, saying that no class of men were closer in touch with the pulse of the people than were traveling men, and that he was always glad of their advice and support.

While the delegation was still on the grounds the president learned of the arrival of a young bridal couple whom he hastened to congratulate. It was J. C. Myers, a member of the Ohio legislature, and his bride. Mr. Myers said he and his bride had long ago planned a visit to the president's summer home as one of the pleasures of their wedding trip.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Fell On Moving Train But Was Not Scared

Falling from a bridge above railroad tracks and landing upon a loaded car in a train passing beneath, thereby spraining a wrist and lacerating a knee, was not sufficient to keep Albert McNish long from his work. McNish is a painter in the employ of the Union railroad. The bridge in question is over the Monongahela division of the Pennsylvania railroad, opposite Port Perry. The scaffold gave way and he fell. Had the fall been a second sooner or later he would have landed between cars of the train beneath. He lit on a loaded coke car, however, picked himself up, swung down from the car and in five minutes was back at his job, plying a brush as if he had not come within an ace of losing his life.

SHAW WINS APPROVAL OF BANK PRESIDENTS

Say He Is the Most Business-Like Treasury Secretary Since Sherman.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—With scarce an exception every banker is applauding Secretary Shaw for his course in relation to increasing the deposits in national banks through the medium of his segregation of internal revenue taxes and by accepting as security for such deposits bonds other than United States bonds, as he did last fall. A leading clearing house bank president voiced the unanimous sentiment of his fellow presidents when he said:

"Mr. Shaw is the most resourceful, the most courageous and the most intelligent business like secretary of the treasury that we have had since John Sherman so ably filled that office."

The announcement that Mr. Shaw had shown how banks under the law need not be hampered in the retirement of their circulation by the restriction limiting such retirement under certain circumstances to $3,000,000 a month, is the crowning point apparently in his determination to prevent a stringency in the money market and makes our currency system more elastic.

"With that accomplished," bankers said, "there is only one thing needed now from congress to prevent further trouble so far as our monetary system is concerned, and that is an amendment to the law permitting receipts for customs duties to be deposited in the national banks."

BARS ARE TOO HIGH FOR 17 CHINAMEN

Commissioner Sargent's New Regulation Puts Stop to Smuggling.

CANADIAN COURTS INVOLVED

When They Were Started Back to Vancouver for Exportation They Were Held Up at Montreal on Habeas Corpus Proceedings Instituted by Americans.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—All of the United States ports along the Canadian border may be absolutely closed against Chinamen, whether citizens of the United States and entitled to entry or not, if habeas corpus proceedings now pending in Montreal are decided adversely to the contention of the United States immigration officials.

Some months ago Commissioner General of Immigration Sargent concluded an agreement with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company by which the company undertook to transport in bond all Chinamen arriving at Vancouver destined for United States ports and to deliver them to the immigration officials at the points at which they proposed to enter this country. If any such Chinamen are denied admission, the railway company under its agreement, is bound to return them to China.

Recently 17 Chinamen were denied admission at Malone, N. Y., and Richford, Vermont. They claimed to have been born in the United States, but offered no evidence in support of their claim. Judge Wheeler, of the United States district court, when applied to for writs of habeas corpus, declined to issue them, holding that the action of the immigration officials was final.

The Chinamen were then turned over to the Canadian Pacific to be carried back to Vancouver and shipped to China. When they reached Montreal they were stopped by writs of habeas corpus made returnable in the Canadian court at that place on Thursday of this week. This action was instituted by persons in the United States interested in bringing Chinamen into this country.

PAVERS AND RAMMERS WON MARCHERS' PRIZE

Street Workers Made Best Appearance in the Labor Day Parade.

The Pavers and Rammers, affiliated with the Knights of Labor, carried off the banner in the Labor Day parade Monday. They were fully entitled to the honor conferred upon them by the judges. These men, who keep the city streets in such condition to admit of the heavy traffic, went into the contest with little expectation of winning. They work less days a year than any other trade that was in line, and their labor, requiring them to be in a stooping position the entire day, makes them round shouldered. But Monday they marched like soldiers, with heads erect and keeping step accurately.

The prize committee met yesterday afternoon and gave out the prizes won by the different contestants. There was a protest entered against the winner of the five-mile race. It is charged that the lucky contestant was coached, which was against the rule. The executive committee will meet tomorrow to wind up the affairs of the celebration.

FOUND IN A QUAGMIRE.

Pitiable Plight of a Man Found in Hoboken, N. J., Swamp.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The county physician in Hoboken and a number of other physicians are making an examination of a man who is now in St. Mary's hospital in Hoboken as to his sanity. The man was found early this morning in the quagmire, back of the residence section of Hoboken. A policeman and two railroad men managed by means of boards to pull him out. His trousers were frayed and it was evident that the muskrats had been at him.

His legs were bitten and his hands and face terribly swollen, where he had been attacked by mosquitoes. Dr. Farr was called in and he expressed the opinion that the man was made insane through fright and partially because of the terrible agony he must have suffered while a prisoner in the marsh. Nothing was found on the man to identify him, except the name John McGraw on a piece of paper.

CRYING CHILD THWARTED AVENGER'S DEEP LAID PLOT

ST. LOUIS, MO., Sept. 8.—With a torch as his weapon a supposed agent of a secret society sought revenge today upon Joseph Hova, a saloonkeeper, and endangered the lives of 30 persons. Their escape was due solely to Carlo Dairaght, 3 years old, who, awakening, aroused his mother. The alarm was sounded and the inmates of the blazing building escaped just in time. The building, a two story structure of wood, was destroyed.

LEAGUE GAMES TODAY.

Chicago at Exposition Park.
New York at Philadelphia.
Cincinnati at St. Louis.

The Chicago team made another of those ninth-inning finishes and managed to nose the Pirates out of a victory in a game that was filled with interest from start to finish. The final score was 7 to 6 and the game was a hard one for the Pirates to lose because it looked as though they had the victory sewed up when they scored three runs in the eighth.

The game was one of those "if" affairs, and there were so many "ifs" that had any one of them made good the victory would have gone to the home team. Perhaps the most important "if" happened in the ninth inning, when with two out and a man on base Slagle, who had been railroaded by the way of the strike route on three different occasions, popped up one of those tantalizing "Texas leaguers." Clarke chased in after the fly and let a yell out of him for others to keep hands off. He managed just to reach the ball, and got it in his hands, but, sad to relate, dropped it. That was the start of the Pirates' undoing.

When the champions took the field Hans Wagner's familiar face was again missing, and Kruger was at his place at short. Hans' leg is still very lame from a twisted tendon, and it is likely that he will have to visit Bonesetter Reese at Youngstown, as the leg is so painful he can hardly bear his weight on it. Tommy Leach was also limping with a sore ankle, and, to make matters worse, Ritchey's throwing arm was so sore that he could hardly raise it. Both Leach and Ritchey should have been out of the game, but they could not be spared owing to Wagner's absence.

Jack Pfeister, the new left-hander from the San Francisco team, was called on to do the twirling for the Pirates, and if ever a young pitcher sprung a surprise party on a lot of old leaguers it was this same young man Pfeister. At the start not one of the 2,208 spectators thought he was going to amount to anything, but before two innings were gone he had the crowd cheering him wildly. He started in by striking out Slagle and kept on whizzing the ball over the plate so accurately that the fourth inning was reached before the visitors got anything that looked like a hit.

Pfeister had as pretty an assortment of curves as has been dished up at the park this season. He had fine control of the ball and speed to burn. During the game he had eight strikeouts, and among his victims were some of Chicago's strongest batters. He only had one bad inning, the ninth, when four hits were bunched on him, but with good fielding there should only have been one hit and not a run. If yesterday's game may be used as a criterion then the Pirates have secured a jewel of a pitcher in young Mr. Pfeister.

The ninth inning of the game furnished the excitement of the afternoon. The Pirates had accumulated two runs early in the game and added three to them in the eighth, when, after Pfeister had struck out, Beaumont drew a base on balls and scored on Clarke's hot double to right, and Kruger surprised every one by smashing the ball to deep center for a home run. That gave the champions a lead of two, and they seemed to be on Easy street.

Evers, who was first up for the Colts, doubled to left, the hit being a very lucky one. Casey was an easy out to Clarke, and Chance, who batted for Lundgren, was out to Bransfield unassisted. Here was where Slagle poked up his Texas leaguer, and Clarke's failure to hold it made a sad mess of things. McCarthy singled, Harley drew a base on balls, Williams infield singled and Tinker pushed a double into right, all of which netted four runs.

Ritchey led off the Pirates' half of the ninth with a scorching three-bagger to right and Sebring's single brought him home. Smith's sacrifice put Sebring on second and Marshall was sent up to bat for Pfeister. He drove the ball at the pitcher and Sebring was caught and run down. It was Beaumont's turn now, and he started the ball toward right as though it was shot from a cannon. It looked good for three bases, but Williams, who was covering first for Chicago, managed to nail it, and, what's more, held to it. The only wonder is that it didn't tear his hand off, but it did not, and that ended the game. Score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Manager Clarke could not be blamed for his failure to get that "Texas League" Shorty Slagle put up in the ninth inning. The Pirates' leader made a great try for the ball, but could only touch it with the tips of his fingers.

The Chicago team will make its last appearance of the season at Exposition park this afternoon, and the closing argument should be a warm one. Deacon Phillippe will likely be called on for duty and Weimer will do the pitching for Chicago.

The Chicago players received word yesterday that the wife of Pitcher Jack Taylor, who underwent an operation some days ago, was dead. The boys were very sorry to hear of the pitcher's loss and at once telegraphed to Chicago for a suitable floral emblem.

Oom Paul Kruger's home run in the eighth inning was a queer affair. The hit was a hot grounder which when it reached Slagle in middle field took a funny bound over his head. McCarthy gave chase and just as he reached the ball he slipped and took a sudden seat on the grass, so that Kruger had time to circle the bases.

Jimmy Sebring turned a pretty play in the fourth inning when after a long hard run he captured McCarthy's short fly not far back of first base. The hit looked like a safe one, but Sebring brought his sprinting ability into play and just reached the ball. The crowd rewarded the right fielder with a generous round of applause and it was deserved.

Bransfield did not display the best of judgment in the third inning when he failed to get back to first himself after gathering in McCarthy's grounder. "Kitty" waited for Pfeister to cover the base and the pitcher got over all right but dropped the throw. From the scorers' box it looked as though Bransfield had time to get back to the base after getting the ball. That play gave the Chicago team its first run.

The injury sustained by Hans Wagner in the second inning of the morning game at Exposition park Monday, turns out to be much more serious than was at first thought. The tendon just back of the knee is torn from its place and is so painful that the player can hardly walk. At the suggestion of President Dreyfuss Hans will pay a visit to bonesetter Reese of Youngstown today and have him pass judgment on the injury.

It was a pity that the Pirates could not turn a victory as a reward for the clever display of pitching put up by young Pfeister. That young man by his clever work turned in the largest kind of a surprise party, as no one was looking for such a clever display from him. His curves were wonders to look at, and he had all kinds of speed and control, giving only three bases on balls during the nine innings. If Pfeister can only keep up the kind of pitching he turned in yesterday then the Champions have found a jewel sure enough, and one who will fill Tannehill's shoes without any trouble.

Tommy Leach turned in a very foxy play in the seventh inning and managed to get away with it. Jimmy Casey was on first by reason of a single, and when Pitcher Lundgren, who was at bat, popped up a little fly back of the pitcher, Tommy went after it but purposely dropped it then quickly picking up the ball threw it to Ritchey and Casey was forced at second. Tommy's scheme was to make the pitcher a base runner and thus tire him out, and the affair seemed to work all right for in next inning the Pirates landed on Lundgren's curves good and hard.

BOSTONS WIND UP.

In the second game Carney was easy for the Quakers, who scored six runs in as many different innings. The scores:

PLAYED TIE GAME.

Darkness Put End to Final Struggle at the Polo Grounds.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The baseball season at the Polo Grounds ended today, with the final game of the New York-Brooklyn series, which resulted in a tie, the game being called at the end of the eighth inning on account of darkness. Errors by Strang and Reidy gave the locals a chance for three runs in the third inning after they had made one in the second on a double, a sacrifice and a single. Brooklyn bunched hits off Mathewson in the fifth for three tallies and tied the score in the sixth on a single, a sacrifice and a bunt. The score:

FIELD CLUB CRICKET TEAM IS BACK HOME

After Winning in Cleveland the Pittsburgh Eleven Lost Close Game to Detroit Team.

The Pittsburgh Field Club Cricket team returned home yesterday after a pleasant three days' trip to Cleveland and Detroit.

After winning a close game from Cleveland on Saturday the Pittsburgh eleven had another exciting finish with the Detroit cricketers on Monday, they later proving the victors by the narrow majority of 2 runs. The Pittsburghers batted one man less than their opponents, and as their player was J. Bissell, who was too sick to bat, the result would in all probability have been different had he played, as he is a sure run-getter. Young Taylor again carried off the bowling honors for his side. THE INDIANA FAIR.

Many Horses Entered in the Race Events.

INDIANA, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The Indiana county fair opened this morning with one of the largest exhibits in its history. Although the morning was rainy and cloudy, the afternoon was beautiful and a small crowd was in attendance. The live stock exhibit is especially good this year, having fully recovered from the set-back received from the ruling that only Indiana county stock should compete for premiums. The other departments are up to their usual standard. A long string of well known race horses from Johnstown, Greensburg, DuBois and Indiana are on the grounds. John L. Stibach, J. C. Peider, W. E. Patchin, Fred Jamison and J. E. Mittinger are some of the prominent horsemen represented.

Indiana stands unique in this part of the state in allowing no gambling devices at her fair, but this year there is a greater number of legitimate fakirs and hawkers than ever before, not only on the grounds, but along the curbs of the streets are to be found all manner of catch games and devices. If the weather remains fair as it bids fair to do, the managers of the fair say that on Thursday a new record for attendance will be established.

THE CHARTER OAK RACES DEVOID OF FEATURES

Unfinished 2:10 Trot Was Won by Dr. Strong by Very Close Margin from McKinley.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

HARTFORD, CONN., Sept. 8.—The second day's racing in the fall meet at Charter Oak park was devoid of any unusual features. Weather and track conditions were almost perfect, although the air was a trifle too sharp to insure the best work of the horses.

The first race of the day was the unfinished 2:10 trot on Monday, in which only Dr. Strong and McKinley participated. Dr. Strong had taken two heats and McKinley one. In the first heat of today's contest McKinley won with ease, but Dr. Strong turned the tables next time, winning the heat and the race by a nose.

There were only two starters in the 2:23 trot and Ben Leibes won from Miss Jeanette in straight heats. In the 2:12 pace Pan Michael won in straight heats, and had plenty to spare at the finish of each race. In the 2:09 pace Joe Pointer, who was backed heavily to win, was beaten out by Sufreet after a hard struggle in which Cubanola figured conspicuously. Summaries:

THE PICKET WON THE MAIN EVENT

American Derby Winner Jumped to Front and Held the Lead All Through Race.

BIG RACE FOR NEXT MONDAY

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The Picket, this year's American derby winner, added another stake to his list by winning the September stakes for three-year-olds at Sheepshead Bay today. The Hampton stable's good colt, Africander, was second. Beverly, the only other starter, was beaten off. The Picket jumped away in front and, making the pace, won handily. Africander's hard races at Saratoga has taken the edge off his speed. Woodford Clay's Mamarina captured the Belles stake for 2-year-olds from the 20 to 1 shot, Marmee.

The Brooklyn Jockey club today announced that they have added $2,500 to the first special to be run next Monday, the opening day. Waterboy and McChesney are both eligible for this race. John A. Drake today bought the 2-year-old Ishlana from the Leiter stable. Summaries:

DOHERTYS AT HOME.

Would Like to Have American Team Sent Over There.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The Dohertys returned to the Queens club today after their victorious lawn tennis trip in the United States. There was no organized reception. The two brothers received the congratulations of their personal friends and started immediately to practice on the grass courts.

R. F. Doherty said to a representative of the Associated Press that nothing had been decided about a trip to America next year. It was too early to speculate on it. Personally he hoped the Americans would send a team over here, and if they can include Whitman and Larned they ought to make a very good showing. Whitman, R. F. Doherty considered to be by far the best of the American players. He added:

"So far as my observation goes, the trip to America was most enjoyable. All the arrangements were excellently perfected. In fact, it is hard to ever pick a flaw in the management of an international tournament in America."

Rival Teams Will Meet Again.

WASHINGTON, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Immediately after the close of the second game of baseball here yesterday afternoon between Washington and Waynesburg, the managers of the two teams arranged a series of two more games. The first will be played here next Monday afternoon and the second one at Waynesburg the following Wednesday afternoon.

HARVARD'S CHANCES DO NOT LOOK BRIGHT

There is a Lack of Football Material and Not Much Chance for Early Practice.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BOSTON, Sept. 8.—Harvard's football season of 1903 will open Thursday, September 17. As college will open on September 21, the preliminary season will be unusually short and will hardly give the men a chance to get the stiffness out of their muscles before their lectures begin.

The prospect for the crimson eleven seems at present just about [illegible], and even if all the [illegible] possibilities materialize, the outlook will be none too bright. There are several chances of promising freshmen and other new men being among the candidates, but the only ones who can be surely reckoned on are certain members of last year's team.

Of the new men from the preparatory school teams Smith and Cooney, the Exeter tackles, are the most promising, but it has been a long time since Harvard football teams have been materially assisted by freshmen, so that not much reliance is placed in star schoolboy performers.

Taken altogether, Harvard's chances at the best are not more than fair, and it will take a lot of hard work to turn out a team which will go through the season without defeat. Captain and coach have the players and the college behind them, however, and the memory of last year's drubbing certainly ought to stir the men on to their greatest efforts.

THE HARLEM RACES.

By Ways Easily Won the Feature Event.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—S. C. Hildreth's By Ways, always favorite at 7 to 5 and heavily played, won the Irma and feature event of the Harlem card today. Gallant was second and The Don was third. The race was hardly more than an exercise gallop for By Ways. Weather clear. Track fast. Summaries:

First race, 4½ furlongs—Coronado, 110, F. Davis, 40 to 1, won; Oxford, 105, J. Williams, 15 to 1, second; [illegible], 105, C. Kline, 20 to 1, third. Time, :56 3-5.

Second race, 6½ furlongs—L. Knight, 100, E. Bonner, 7 to 2, won; Marshalsea, 102, Adkins, 9 to 2, second; James J. Corbett, 100, [illegible], 9 to 1, third. Time, 1:21 1-5.

Third race, 1 mile and 70 yards—By Ways, 98, O. Wilson, 7 to 5, won; Gallant, 101, H. Phillips, 16 to 5, second; The Don, 98, S. Bonner, 7 to 1, third. Time, 1:44.

Fourth race, 6½ furlongs—Bent Man, 102, Adams, 10 to 1, won; Federal, 92, H. Phillips, 11 to 10, second; Mayor Johnson, 102, W. Knapp, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:20 4-5.

Fifth race, 6½ furlongs—Cognomen, 96, Wilson, 4 to 1, won; Alfonte, 105, Otis, 6 to 5, second; Fox Lake, 97, H. Phillips, 15 to 1, third. Time, 1:25 3-5.

Sixth race, 1 3-16 miles—Our Bessie, 94, Wilson, 7 to 10, won; Dodie S., 100, Ferrell, 8 to 1, second; Bard of Avon, 97, H. Phillips, 2 to 1, third. Time, 2:0[illegible] 2-5.

DOWN GOES RECORD.

Cresceus Shows Another Great Burst of Speed.

LINCOLN, NEB., Sept. 8.—Cresceus, the trotting stallion, driven by George H. Ketcham, his owner, broke all records for a half mile track this afternoom at the state fair grounds, lowering his best previous time of two weeks ago at Dayton, O., a half second. He covered the mile today in 2:03¼. Twenty-two thousand people witnessed the performance. It was an ideal day for record breaking.

The track was in prime condition and the wind very light. Cresceus was accompanied by two runners and an automobile. The time by quarters was :32, 1:04, 1:35½, 2:03¼.

Chief Kiely says: "If boxing is to continue in this city all the clubs will have to provide proper halls, having exits enough for the adequate safety of the spectators and confine the sale of tickets to members."

Auchter Was a Frost.

SHARON, PA., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—About the most weird game of ball ever played in Sharon was that between Kane and the Sullivan team today. Auchter, a Sharpsville "find," was in the box for Sharon, and his work was exceedingly bad. He played a dopey game and Kane pounded his curves to all corners of the ground. Score:

Pretty Home Wedding.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cohen, in Black street, East End, Miss Rachael Helen Cohen and William Newton Ogden were married last evening. There were no bridal attendants. The ushers were Maurice Cohen and Sydney Hirsh. Rabbi L. Meyer of the Eighth Street Synagogue performed the ceremony in the presence of 75 guests. Dainty decorations marked the affair, green and white predominating. The ceremony was conducted in the parlor of the Cohen home at 7 o'clock. This apartment with dark yellow walls looked well in its adornment of rich green. The mantel embankment was of maidenhair fern, above a mass of palms. The chandeliers were decked with asparagus fern, while hanging over the globes were streamers of tulle and lilies of the valley. The large white doorways were also hung with asparagus. A large window seat in the dining room presented a pleasing appearance covered with palms, ferns and tropical plants. Fireplace and mantel were hidden amid palms which reached to the ceiling.

After the ceremony an informal reception was held and supper was served on small tables. The bridal gown was of white embroidered linen mull, lace trimmed. A veil was worn and roses and lilies of the valley formed the boquet. Mr. and Mrs. Ogden left on a late train last evening for the east, where they will make an extended trip, returning to Pittsburgh to make their home.

For College Students.

Miss Sara Pfeil will be hostess this afternoon at a pretty bridge whist at her home in Shady avenue. The affair has been planned in honor of the class of 1903, Pennsylvania College for Women, of which the hostess was a member. The seniors were Miss Harriet Templeton Duff, Miss Eleanor Fitzgibbon, Miss Anna Rogers Hunter, Miss Jennie Emma McSherry, Miss Anna Myra Petty, Miss Sara Pfeil, Miss Hilda Ridley Sadler, Miss Mary Grier Willson and Miss Ruth Frances Johnston.

A subscription dance will be given this evening by a number of East End boys, the guests of honor to be their friends who will depart within the next few days for the various colleges. The event will take place in the club house of the Keystone club in Howe street. The committee of arrangements includes F. Fillmore Hyde, John B. Cromlish, Richard J. Sloan and J. Harrison Hugus.

Women's Clubs

THE Wimodausis club has opened its club year in advance of other clubs of Pittsburgh. Its first meeting this fall was held yesterday afternoon in Syria temple in Washington street and was a large and enthusiastic one. Many of the members of the club remained in town during the summer to aid in the playground work, and a portion of the meeting yesterday was given up to the reports which they presented. Mrs. Rufus Martin and Mrs. William J. Askin spoke for the committee which during the summer took an interest in the Ralston school playground, the one in which the members of the Wimodausis club chiefly worked. Mrs. Samuel Miller, who was one of the original workers in the Recreation park and playground on the South Side, reported the work of the summer there. At the playground in the Recreation park the average attendance was 200. This is the first year the Wimodausis club has co-operated with other women's clubs in carrying on the work of the joint committee for the summer playgrounds and vacation schools in this city, though many of its members have taken an active part in this work from its very beginning.

The annual meeting of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, which will be held in Carlisle in October, was discussed, and the delegates of the club were instructed upon questions to be brought up at that time. The club will be represented by its president, Mrs. Walter A. Lincoln, and Mrs. Samuel Miller, Mrs. William J. Askin and Mrs. Charles F. Sheriff, as delegates, the alternates being Mrs. Louis Rott, Mrs. Rufus Martin and Mrs. H. L. Hutchinson.

An interesting announcement was made with regard to the recent euchre and dance which was held by the club in Kennywood park. Over $300 was turned into the treasury for the building fund for a new club house. Three hundred dollars was realized from a similar entertainment at the park earlier in the summer. Though the club is not contemplating building for some time, it is steadily adding to the fund which is set aside for that purpose.

After the meeting was concluded tea was served by the members of the entertainment committee of which Mrs. Charles Dallas is chairman. It was decided to postpone the next monthly meeting from October 13, which is the opening day of the meeting of the state federation, until October 20, when the delegates will have returned from Carlisle and will be able to report the meeting in progress there the previous week.

DYSPEPSIA OF WOMEN.

Mrs. E. B. Bradshaw, of Guthrie, Okla., cured of a severe case by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

A great many women suffer with a form of indigestion or dyspepsia which does not seem to yield to ordinary medical treatment. While the symptoms seem to be similar to those of ordinary indigestion, yet the medicines universally prescribed do not seem to restore the patient's normal condition.

Mrs. Pinkham claims that there is a kind of dyspepsia that is caused by derangement of the female organism, and which, while it causes disturbance similar to ordinary indigestion, cannot be relieved without a medicine which not only acts as a stomach tonic, but has peculiar uterine-tonic effects as well.

Thousands of testimonial letters prove beyond question that nothing will relieve this distressing condition so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It always works in harmony with the female system.

Mrs. Pinkham advises sick women free. Address Lynn, Mass.

ARROTT ORDERED OUT OF BUSINESS

Judge Frazer Has Restrained Him from Manufacturing Sanitary Wares and Tubs.

PLEADED TRADE RESTRAINT

Judge Evans Takes New Hand in the Transfer of Liquor Licenses—Judges Rodgers and Shafer Convened September Sessions of Criminal Court.

Judge R. S. Frazer of common pleas court No. 2 yesterday ordered a decree restraining James W. Arrott, Jr., from manufacturing and selling porcelain bath tubs and sanitary appliances. The opinion was made in the equity proceedings of the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Company against James W. Arrott, Sr., James W. Arrott, Jr., and Charles F. Arrott.

The plaintiff is a corporation of New Jersey and represents an association of a number of plants manufacturing plumbing supplies. The combine absorbed the Standard Manufacturing Company of Pittsburgh, which was owned by Francis J. Torrance and James W. Arrott, Sr., and the members of their immediate families. When the consolidation took place, in 1899, most of the stockholders signed contracts not to enter into competition with the corporation for a period of 10 years.

James W. Arrott, Jr., has recently engaged with others in the manufacture and sale of goods of a similar character to the output of the corporation at Monaca, Pa. The death of James W. Arrott, Sr., caused his name to be withdrawn from the bill. The defendants contended that the contracts were invalid on the grounds that they were a restraint on trade; that they set forth no consideration, and because the plaintiff company had not fulfilled its part of the contract.

Judge Frazer says in part: "While it is true that the courts of both this country and England generally regard contracts in restraint of trade to be against public policy, and therefore void, the strict rule originally adhered to has been gradually modified and relaxed, so that the law is, at present, that a trade contract is valid and binding if the restraint be particular in respect to time and place, and supported by a sufficient consideration."

After reviewing the facts in the case the court continues as follows: "Under these circumstances, considering the nature of the business and the extent of the territory covered, it seems clear to us that the service contract executed by defendant is reasonable, both as to time and territory."

As there was no evidence against Charles F. Arrott, the case against him was dismissed.

Judge J. A. Evans yesterday established a precedent in the handing down of decisions on applications for the transfer of liquor licenses by requiring attorneys for applicants to call on him in chamber and receive the decision in their client's case after an inquiry has been made into the correctness of the papers. The attorneys are also compelled to show that the rule requiring the saloon to be closed while the application for transfer is pending has been observed.

This being passed satisfactorily, the attorney is given the papers in the case with the order for the transfer, and then delivers it at the clerk of courts office, where he receives the necessary license.

The following transfers were made: Walter Wuesthoff to Joseph H. Simpson and Shad Gwilliam, Nos. 208-210 Sixth avenue, Pittsburgh; R. W. Arnold to Joseph Jacobson, No. 116 Smithfield street, Pittsburgh; Henry Klein to John Bilger, No. 10 Spring Garden avenue, Allegheny; M. Black to Joseph Letscher, No. 1124 Walnut street, McKeesport; William Osterwall, Nos. 27-28 Water street, Pittsburgh, to Edward L. Miller and Adam E. Bohn; Jacob Walters to S. T. Jones, No. 1212 Braddock avenue, Braddock; Dora Kamerer to Harry King, O'Hara township.

Some of the prices paid were large, Wuesthoff receiving $50,000 for his business and Arnold $16,000.

Judges Elliott Rodgers and John D. Shafer took up the work of the September sessions of criminal court yesterday morning. When the jury was sworn in it was comprised of but 19 men. J. P. McKinney, a hinge manufacturer of Fayette street, Fifth ward, Allegheny, was appointed foreman and the jury was charged in the customary way as to its duties. After the grand jury had been sent out to pass upon the cases prepared for them the traverse jurors were called, and several asked to be excused on account of illness in their families. A few were dismissed, but were ordered to report next Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

A few constables who failed to make their returns to the court Monday made them yesterday morning.

Grand Jury Returns.

The grand jury returned the following true bills yesterday: Larceny, John Campbell, James Fox, John Schultz, Pierce Mitchell, Catherine Seatto et al., Robert Marshall, James Jordan, Arthur Jennings, William Forsythe, R. Gardner, Charles Harris and James Edwards; larceny from the person, Oscar Bowler, Luther Johns (2); pointing firearms, George Hunter; embezzlement, R. B. Kutany; entering a building with intent to commit a felony, etc., Oscar Larson, John Fishinger and Harry Walker et al. (3); misdemeanor, Wane Johnson; felonious assault, F. Farley; felonious assault and battery, Herb Anderson, John Hill, Wilhelm Jakobson and Frank Patri; burglary, Harry Walker et al. (2); assault and battery, Joseph Manders, Albert Russell; selling and furnishing liquor on Sunday and selling without a license, Michael Rouse.

A bill against R. Gardner for burglary was ignored, as were six other bills which were returned for corrections. On these bills returned the costs were not placed. Judge Elliott Rodgers instructed the jury as to the costs and told them that when there was any doubt regarding the costs to place them on the county, otherwise place them on the prosecutor.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

James D. Robertson took out letters of administration on the estate of John H. Robertson. Attorney C. C. Brock has charge of the estate.

The Safe Deposit and Trust Company took out letters testamentary as executor of the estate of Frederick W. Neumert. Attorney Charles Schlagel represents the executors.

Judge W. G. Hawkins of the orphans court yesterday confirmed 387 reports taken up on the September audit list. It was the largest list the court has been called upon to consider.

The commissioner in the divorce suit of Susie Barns vs. John Barns, filed his report. The libellant says her husband pleaded guilty to a charge of murder for the killing of John Kaczur and in 1897, two years after they had been married, was sentenced to the penitentiary for five years.

The master has recommended a decree in the divorce suit of Elizabeth Hays against Andrew Hays. They were married November 1, 1894, and she left him a year and a half after, as, she alleged, because he failed to support her. When she married she had $700, which she said her husband spent and when she left she was forced to go to work as a domestic.

The following executions were issued yesterday: Mrs. Jennie McClain vs. Mrs. Katharine Roy et al., $206 98; Ernest J. Muehlman vs. Lutz & Boehm, $200; George H. Lepper, trustee, vs. E. Payton Wright, $128; Herman Ebs estate vs. James Pangburn et al., $1,464; William F. Grimes vs. Anton L. Egts, $89 75; H. Schneideman vs. Charles Feldstein et al., $230.

Doubtful Future of an Incline.

The future of the Penn incline plane is in doubt. A call for a meeting of the bondholders yesterday morning at the office of Attorney George C. Wilson, No. 338 Fourth avenue, was attended by only a few members of the bondholders' committee, and no business was transacted. The majority of the persons who hold the expired bonds are absent from the city. No time has been fixed for another meeting.

Myers and Burry Were Discharged.

Henry Myers and Frank Burry of Allegheny, who were arrested for alleged disorderly conduct at a merry-go-round at Madison avenue and Second street on Monday night, were dismissed yesterday morning by Magistrate Samuel Abernathy. Burry, who was hit on the head with a policeman's mace in the melee, had nothing to say, but his father, ex-Councilman W. C. Burry, said his son got probably what he deserved.

Local Capital to Build Railroad Across Ohio from North to South

Pittsburgh capital has been brought together to finance the construction of a new trunk line across the state of Ohio from Lake Erie to the southern coal counties. It is the intention to build a line independent of all the other interests now in the Ohio coal region. The new railroad will be made up of two lines, one, from Columbus north, to be called the Columbus & Lake Erie, the other, from Columbus south, to be known as the Columbus & Southern. The lake terminal of the northern end will be at or near Toledo.

The entire length of the line as planned now is 300 miles. Its route will be as direct as possible, and its termini will be at coal mines in the counties along the Ohio river, where the facilities for transportation have been so short as to limit heretofore the production. Of the coal lands which are now developed in the Hocking valley and other Ohio fields, practically 90 per cent are owned or controlled by the Pennsylvania and Morgan interests. The new line is intended to serve as an outlet for various independent coal interests, as well as to develop new mines.

The plans for the road have been prepared by R. Rosenstock of Columbus, who is its chief engineer. The financing has been done in Pittsburgh by the Thomas M. Latimer Company, and it is announced that the $3,560,000 needful to build the road has been secured.

Not only the coal traffic, but the incidental traffic from other freight and the passenger traffic, are to be provided for by the new line. Its route is through a thickly-settled and prosperous country, some parts of which have not sufficient facilities, while others are well supplied.

ENGINEERS CHANGED.

Many Shifts Made in P. R. R. Maintenance of Way Department.

A number of changes, affecting the maintenance of way department of the Pennsylvania railroad are announced officially. The changes include the appointment of T. H. Ingham, assistant supervisor at Twenty-eighth street, to a similar position at Wilkesbarre, while V. H. Reid, who has been at Mt. Holly, succeeds Mr. Ingham. The full changes follow:

J. H. Stadleman, assistant engineer of the New York division, to be assistant to the engineer of maintenance of way, with headquarters in Philadelphia; George F. Miller, assistant engineer of the Buffalo division of the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley, to succeed Mr. Stadleman; Elisha Lee, supervisor at Downingtown, Pa., to succeed Mr. Miller; J. J. Keenan, supervisor at Wilkesbarre, to succeed Mr. Lee; T. H. Ingham, assistant supervisor, Twenty-eighth street, Pittsburgh, to succeed Mr. Keenan; V. H. Reid, assistant supervisor at Mt. Holly, to succeed Mr. Ingham; C. S. Krick, assistant engineer of the Philadelphia & Erie, promoted to be assistant engineer of the Philadelphia terminal division; E. B. Wiseman, supervisor at Parkersburg, Pa., to succeed Mr. Krick; J. C. Gucker, supervisor at Reading, to succeed Mr. Wiseman; John P. Charlton, to succeed Mr. Gucker.

Received 36,438 Pieces of Mail in Month.

Some idea of the magnitude of the mail received by a single department of a railroad, may be had from the statistics compiled by the office of H. C. Townsend, general passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain. Mr. Townsend had a record kept of the mail received in the month of July. The figures showed that there were 36,438 letters, cards and telegrams. The heaviest day's mail was on July 8, when 2,481 pieces were received, but on the following day only 740, the minimum, was received. The 29 other days ranged from 800 to 2,000, the average being 1,461. Of course no one person took care of more than a small part of this mail, Mr. Townsend himself seeing only a very small portion. Clerks are kept busy opening letters, others glance at them and see to what department they go, while the most important, and in the course of a month this will mean many hundreds, go directly to the general passenger agent from his chief clerk. The man who really works in a general railroad office is the chief clerk.

To Change B., R. & P. Divisions.

The Indiana line of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh is expected to be ready for traffic on or about November 1. The new line will have a notable effect upon the operation of the system, and as a result there are likely to be several important changes in the divisional districts. The present Pittsburgh division extends from Pittsburgh to Punxsutawney, with numerous branches, and the line to New Castle, all under superintendent J. C. Hyde of Butler. Under the new arrangement all the road south of DuBois is to be in this division, thus nearly doubling the mileage. The Indiana & Clearfield branches will both be included. The middle division, under Supt. C. P. Gardner, will probably extend from DuBois to Ashford, its present terminal being Punxsutawney and Bradford. All the remaining line from Ashford to Buffalo and Rochester, will be under Supt. A. J. Johnson. The company has ordered 15 new vestibuled coaches, designed after the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh standard, for service when the new line is opened.

Wabash Warehouse Work Starts.

Active work was started by the Wabash interests yesterday preparing for the construction of the South Side terminals for freight which were made possible by the passage of the ordinance last winter. The old Robinson-Rea foundry, between South First and South Second streets, is being demolished and on that site will be located part of the warehouses the railroad will need. The elevated line that comes up West Carson street will pass over this property and cross the Lake Erie in the vicinity. The property was secured and the ordinances passed only after bitter opposition from the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie. At one time several hundred men were drawn up on each side, armed with picks and shovels, ready to fight if the other side made an advance.

RAILROAD NOTES.

R. L. O'Donnell, general superintendent of the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley grand division of the Pennsylvania railroad, spent yesterday here.

E. D. Oakes has resigned as traveling passenger agent of the Lehigh Valley to accept the passenger agency of the Wabash at Decatur, Ill.

The famous Portage bridge of the Erie railroad, which has been in constant use for 28 years without special repairs, has just been thoroughly repaired and strengthened for the heavier rolling stock the Erie is introducing.

The new organization of the old Detroit & Toledo South Shore line has been effected with C. M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk, as president; Benjamin Norton of the Clover Leaf, vice president, and S. W. Knapp, superintendent, with headquarters at Toledo.

In the Oil Fields

To the northeast of the Pine Grove extension in Wetzel county, W. Va., all indications point to another duster in the vicinity of the gusher on the Thomas J. Showalter farm. The South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the Eliza Sole farm five feet into the Gordon and has encountered nothing but a light gas pressure. The location of this well is 800 feet almost due west of the Showalter producer. The latter got its oil in the top of the Gordon after passing through the stray.

The Sole test failing at that level gives the impression that deeper drilling will not change the result, and that it will fall to the duster list. The duster on the Wilkie Morris farm is located 600 feet almost due north of the Showalter and the two Sole and Morris farm tests coming in dry practically condemns an extension of the producing territory to the north and west. To the west of the Showalter 400 feet the South Penn will be due in the sand tomorrow at a test on the J. L. Sole farm. The second crop of wells in this district makes the outlook discouraging for a development from which so much was expected a little more than two and a half months ago, when the Showalter gusher came in at the rate of 700 barrels a day.

It was thought that the new development would be able to at least supplant the decline in production of the Pine Grove and Folsom districts. It now looks as though the development to the northeast on Steele and Morris runs would prove the greatest disappointment of the year and go on record as the heaviest money-loser for the same period.

In the Smithfield district in Wetzel county, the United States Oil & Coal Company has drilled its second test on the M. Barr farm through the Big Injun sand and the hole has filled up 1,800 feet with fluid. It will be given a shot and then put to pumping.

In the Richwood Run district, in Wetzel county, N. S. Snyder & Co. have drilled their test on the Augustus Wyatt farm through the Gordon and developed only a small showing of oil. They are now drilling to the fifth sand.

South of the Fallen Timber Run development, Treat & Crawford and the J. C. Trees Oil Company have drilled their test on the H. K. Cosgray farm through the Gordon and found it barren and are now drilling to the fifth sand.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 8.—North Lima, $1 18; South Lima and Indiana, $1 13.

THE THREE RIVERS.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Sept. 8.—River 12 feet and falling. Local packets on time. Business brisk. The government snagboat E. A. Woodruff is at Manchester clearing the channel of the obstructions. The following towboats went up with empties during the last 12 hours: Cruiser, Iron Age, Mariner, Coal City, Hornet No. 2 and Douglas Hall for Pittsburgh, and the Robert P. Gillham and Florence Marmet for the Kanawha. The remains of Capt. Albert Siewers, who died suddenly at Marietta, O., yesterday, were brought here today. The funeral will take place tomorrow.

HUNTINGTON—River 8 feet and falling. Down, Tacoma, 11 a. m. Up, H. M. Stanley, 6 p. m. Slight rain fall.

GREENSBORO—River 6 feet 2 inches and falling.

WARREN—River 1.4 feet and stationary.

OIL CITY—River 1 foot 9 inches and stationary.

PARKERSBURG—River 8 feet and falling. Greenwood left for Charleston. The Kanawha came off the docks this evening.

POINT PLEASANT—River 4 feet 6 inches.

MORGANTOWN—River 7 feet and stationary.

GALLIPOLIS—River 6 feet 9 inches and falling.

STEUBENVILLE—River 3 feet 11 inches and falling.

WAITING FOR A RISE.

Lower River Boats All Tied Up on Account of Low Water.

The wet weather forecast is for rain, but whether it will be enough to raise the rivers sufficiently for navigation below the city is interesting the rivermen. The up-river pools have enough water to allow the packets to run regularly and bring down barges of coal, but unless heavy rains fall soon these packets will be tied up.

Arrivals.

I. C. Woodward, Morgantown.

Departures.

Columbia, Morgantown.
Edgar Cherry, Brownsville.

News of the Rivers.

Capt. H. D. Wilkins of California, Pa., one of the best-known captains and pilots on the rivers, but retired two years ago, is spending a month at Mt. Clemens, Mich.

The Columbia left at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon for Morgantown. The Edgar Cherry left an hour later for Brownsville. The Woodward arrived on time from Morgantown.

James Rees & Sons are building a boat for a company which operates a line of packets on a river in Nicaragua. She will be towed to New Orleans when completed and then across the gulf of Mexico to her destination.

The new government dredgeboat, Gen. Theodore Schwann, which is being built by James Rees & Sons of this city, is nearly completed, and it is expected that she will be finished this week. Her boilers will probably be tested today and steam will be raised by Saturday. Next week she will make her trial trip.

The low water in the Ohio is catching the boats coming from below with tows of empties. The Boaz had to tie up at Steubenville and the Charley Brown tied up at the same place. The Pacific No. 2 could not reach East Liverpool. In the tow of Charley Brown is the hull of the Wash Honshell, which was burned to the water's edge at Cincinnati about two weeks ago. The Boaz has in tow the H. S. Frisbee, which was recently refused papers on account of her condition by the United States local inspector.

Bad Checks Got Men in Trouble.

Magistrate Joseph Vitchestain of the South Side held W. A. Adams and C. B. Cook for further hearing as suspicious characters. Adams, it is said, had a worthless check for $7 50 cashed. Cook is alleged to have been with him at the time. Another check for $6.50, drawn to the order of Adams, also proved to be bogus. Thomas Graham and John Dosch, the men on whom the checks were passed, testified. As Adams declared he could prove his innocence if permitted to subpoena several persons, the case was held over for further investigation.

HAY FEVER

"I am pleased to state that Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm is the only remedy that has proven beneficial and to its virtues I attribute the fact that I have suffered only one day this season with hay fever. Last year I endured six weeks of agony, although I spent nearly $800 in travel seeking relief, but without benefit in the slightest degree."

E. B. Burnap, Canjoharie, N. Y.
Sept. 14th, 1900.

Note: Mr. Burnap has not been troubled with hay fever since being cured three years ago.

No one need suffer from hay fever if he will use Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm. It relieves immediately and cures positively. Convincing proof, with sample, for a two-cent stamp or a full sized jar for 50 cents. Druggists sell it. Address Pretzinger Bros., Chemists, Dayton, O.

STOCKS STARTED STRONG, BUT CLOSED HEAVY

Splendid Railroad Earnings Were Ignored, and Easier Time Was Without Effect—Coal Shares Dominated the Local Market.

By JOHN G. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Wall street resumed business yesterday after the long holiday in a rather cheerful frame of mind. The developments since the market closed last Friday were generally favorable, with the single exception of the bank statement on Saturday. London quotations came higher and foreigners were moderate purchasers of American securities, although continental markets were depressed by the situation of affairs in the Balkans. At the opening prices averaged slightly higher all around, and up to noon held the gains. The most active stocks were St. Paul, Atchison, Union Pacific, Rock Island and Erie, and they also led in the upward movement. The operations, however, were mainly in the hands of professional traders. Commission houses were doing practically nothing and the splendid railroad earnings reported failed to stimulate outside interest. Apparently disgusted at the lack of following, the traders took the other side of the market during the afternoon, and in closing out their early purchases slight declines occurred. The closing prices were at or near the lowest of the day and the tone was distinctly heavy. The total sales reached only 280,000 shares.

The strength of the United States Steel issues was a feature of the early dealings. The common stock rose a fraction to 23⅝ and the preferred to 71¾. Late in the day the common receded to 23 and the preferred sold off to 70½, closing at 70⅝. The common stock will be quoted ex-dividend today for the payment which will be made on September 30. Tennessee Coal and Iron declined to 41¼, while Colorado Fuel and Iron, after selling at 43½, closed at 41½ bid. Amalgamated Copper advanced to 49 and closed at 47⅞. The London copper market was higher, but there was little response here.

An unusually long list of railroad earnings was reported yesterday, and without exception they compared favorably with the corresponding period last year. The St. Paul figures for July showed an increase of $497,669 in gross and an increase of $287,745 in net, but the stock sold off from 143¾ to 142⅝. For the fourth week in August the following gains were reported: Louisville & Nashville, $51,553; Southern Railway, $35,113; Missouri, Kansas & Texas, $26,852; Texas & Pacific, $28,724; Norfolk & Western, $7,000,000, and Grand Trunk, $153,184. For the month of August the gross earnings of New York Central increased $855,000, and for the same period the gross earnings of Mexican Central increased $319,000. These figures excited no interest whatever in the market, which became duller and more professional as the session progressed.

The course of grain and cotton was also contrary to the news of the day. Cotton declined in the face of reports of damage, and wheat and corn ruled weak and closed at the lowest prices, despite the fact that the weekly weather crop bulletin issued by the government was not as favorable as desired. The weakness in corn was credited to the absence of frost that had been predicted for Monday night. If traders had confidence in the reports of European crop conditions there would have been a boom in wheat. No less an authority than the London Statist estimated the damage to European crops as the worst since 1879. The latter date, by the way, is interesting because it marked the beginning of three successive crop failures in Europe, and gave the United States the opportunity to greatly increase its exports of wheat during 1880, 1881, 1882 and 1883, at the highest average prices ever maintained for so long a period. The effect of this was to increase our net imports of gold from a little more than $1,000,000 in 1879 to $97,500,000 in 1881. This outgo of wheat and net inflow of gold assisted the operation of resuming specie payments at that time. It was incidentally responsible for the extraordinary activity in railroad building, which in turn caused the boom in the iron market and great industrial and commercial prosperity, bringing in its train the inevitable business reaction, which lasted for a series of years. The fact is merely referred to now because there are so many parallels to be traced in the 20-year period. If, however, the fears regarding the foreign crop situation should be realized, the high price which our exportable surplus would command would result in heavy imports of gold which would relieve money market conditions and at least postpone the reactionary period in general business which experienced men believe to be impending.

Call money rates were unchanged yesterday at 2 and 2½ per cent, but time loans were quoted slightly easier. The action of Secretary Shaw in depositing $2,500,000 government funds with the St. Louis banks, taken in connection with the gain by the New York banks of $716,000 through sub-treasury operations yesterday, and the arrival at San Francisco and transfer to New York of $1,800,000 gold from Australia, was responsible for the better feeling regarding the general money market. There is, however, some possibility that the Bank of England rate will again be advanced tomorrow, with the object of shifting the drain of gold from London to Paris, the effect of which would be to delay the direct importation of gold to the United States.

On the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday one-half the total business was in the coal stocks, and these dominated interest in the market. The announcement of the deal for the acquisition of the River coal company by the Pittsburgh Coal Company, and the approval of the transaction by the directors of the latter, occurred while business on the stock exchange was suspended for the holidays. There was, therefore, much interest in the action of the market for this group of stocks. River Coal common opened strong and higher at 12 and advanced to 12⅝, but later reacted and closed offered at 12½. Only 60 shares of the preferred stock changed hands all day, the price advancing to and closing at 40½ bid. Pittsburgh Coal common opened steady at 35, sold off to 34¼, rallied to 35 and closed at 34½ bid, 35 asked. The preferred stock remained dull and unchanged at 83 and 83½, closing at 83¼ bid, 83½ asked. The steel stocks were firmer, the strongest of the group being Crucible preferred, which closed ½ higher at 71½. Only 15 shares of the common changed hands at 10¼. United States Steel common rallied to 23¼, while the preferred reacted to 70⅝ at the close. Westinghouse Electric rallied to 82½, but at the close was offered at 81½. Westinghouse Airbrake was stronger, advancing to 145, but closing nominal at 141 bid. Pittsburgh Plate Glass sold off 3 points to 122 and Window Glass preferred 5 points to 65. Philadelphia Company was a little firmer, selling at 40⅛. The only transaction in the banking group was the sale of five shares Federal National Bank at 147. Dollar Savings Fund and Trust advanced to 351 bid, or $1 a share above the price at which subscriptions will be made to the new stock recently authorized. Brewing 6s sold at 110¼, a slight advance.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH

Bank exchanges were $2,934,567, a decrease of $500,000.

Stock exchange sales were 4,386 shares stock and $1,000 bond.

Market opened active and strong, but closed dull and barely steady.

River Coal common advanced to 12⅝ and the preferred to 40½.

Pittsburgh Coal common declined from 35 to 34¼, but recovered to 35.

Westinghouse Airbrake rallied to 145 and closed at 141 bid.

Electric rallied to 82½, but closed offered at 81½.

IN WALL STREET

Total sales 284,800 shares stock and $1,265,000 (par value) bonds.

The leader in yesterday's stagnant market was Atchison; sales, 90,825.

The final hour witnessed some short selling of St. Paul, Atchison, Rock Island and Brooklyn Rapid Transit.

United States Steel common closed at 23. Sales, 10,836.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The absence of an official statement as to the exact terms upon which the Pittsburgh Coal Company is to acquire control of the Monongahela River Coal & Coke Company, and whether the minority stockholders in the latter will be given the privilege of accepting the same terms, was responsible for the hesitation displayed in the market for the coal stocks yesterday. As stated in The Gazette, the directors of the Pittsburgh Coal Company ratified the deal for the purchase of control of the River Coal Company, but there was no confirmation of the rumor that the purchase was on the basis of $15 a share for the common stock and $45 for the preferred, and there was no official intimation that all stockholders would be given the privilege to sell at those prices. On the other hand there is no assurance that minority stockholders would desire to sell, particularly the holders of the preferred stock. The earnings of the company are likely to be more rather than less under the management of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, and the continuation of dividends has not been jeopardized by the transaction. It is true that $45 a share for the $50 (par value) shares is on a basis of 90 per cent for the 7 per cent stock, and the price looks high by comparison with the market value of other 7 per cent dividend-paying stocks. If this is the price that will be paid, and if it were open to all, it is not improbable that some holders would sell and invest the proceeds in Pittsburgh Coal preferred, which pays the same rate of dividend on par but is quoted around 83 and 84. The highest price at which River Coal preferred ever sold was $48, and it hung around this figure for about three months during the summer of 1901. The lowest price was $36, made shortly after the stock came upon the market in December, 1899.

The reaction in Pittsburgh Coal common, which sold off to 34¼, was no doubt based upon the idea that all the good news now out regarding the stock, and that profit-taking was in order. There was also a feeling that if the published terms for the purchase of the River Coal stocks were correct, the holders of the latter were doing relatively better than the speculative purchaser of Pittsburgh Coal at current prices. In addition to this, the question naturally arose as to the source from which the cash was to be derived for the purchase, and the nature of the obligation that would be given for the funds. There was, however, a demand for the stock on the decline, and the price recovered to 35 at the close.

The sales of Pittsburgh Coal preferred were only 124 shares at prices ranging from 83 to 83½. A story was current on the exchange that a proposition was in contemplation for the retirement of the preferred stock by the issue of a 5 per cent bond, the transaction effecting a saving in fixed charges of $[illegible] per year. So far as could be learned there was no foundation for the rumor.

But for the uncertainty relating to the pending deals, it is probable that Pittsburgh Coal would have rallied on the statement of earnings for July and for the seven months of the year. The net for July was $412,000, an increase of $[illegible], and for the seven months $3,[illegible], an increase of $1,564,000.

Of the 1,460 shares River Coal common that changed hands on the exchange yesterday, A. J. Lawrence & Co. were sellers to the extent of about 1,200 shares.

There has been a great deal of conjecture regarding the details of the greater deal in which the coal companies are interested. By those in a position to have good information it is said that there are features yet to be perfected which will prove of more importance than any yet announced.

The decline of 3 per cent in Pittsburgh Plate Glass to 122 was probably influenced by the Liberty street fire, which destroyed one of the warehouses of the company.

American Window Glass preferred broke 4 per cent to 65, the lowest price ever quoted for the stock. The delay in announcing the dividend of 3½ per cent semi-annual has caused some uneasiness. Heretofore the dividend for this period has been declared in August and made payable the 1st of September. The window glass trade is in unsatisfactory condition, and another conference of jobbers is scheduled to be held in this city tomorrow.

United States Steel common will be quoted ex-dividend today, and some interest is felt as to the course of the market. Last month when the preferred was quoted ex-dividend there was a severe break in the stock, which ultimately carried the price down from about 74 to 67, with a recovery to 73½ and a reaction to 70@71, around which figures the stock has been [illegible] for two weeks. The dividend on the common stock will be paid September 30. It will make nine dividends of 1 per cent each paid on the stock, representing a distribution to stockholders of more than $45,000,000 cash. There are some people who believe that if the corporation had this $45,000,000 cash in the treasury, in addition to the $[illegible] cash reported on hand at the beginning of the present year, before the bond conversion was made, the common stock would be quoted higher as a non-dividend payer than it is quoted today. Action on the next dividends will be taken at the meeting of the directors October 6, and between now and then there is likely to be an interesting market for the common stock.

The delay in receiving a call from the comptroller of the currency is thought to be responsible for the stringency in the local money market, or rather that it is responsible for the policy of the banks in strengthening themselves. The state institutions also appear to be accumulating reserves. While the state call does not come until the middle of November, it has been the custom of a number of state institutions to issue a statement at the same time the national banks make their reports, and it is inferred that the former desire to make an equally strong showing.

Westinghouse Air Brake rallied $5 a share to 145, but closed nominal at 141 bid.

The natural gas stocks were quiet yesterday, but a little firmer in tone. Manufacturers Light & Heat sold at 35 and Philadelphia Company at 40⅛.

National Fire Proofing preferred was a little firmer in the bid price yesterday, but the common remained unchanged at the recent low point.

There was very little doing in bank and trust company shares, and prices were more or less nominal. The only strong stock was Dollar Savings Fund & Trust, which advanced to 351 bid, 355 asked. Last week this stock sold at 330, just before the action of the stockholders in unanimously authorizing an increase of $1,000,000 stock, and the allotment of $500,000 at $350 a share. The market value is now above the subscription price. Iron City Trust was offered at 135. Real Estate Trust was quoted at 245 bid, 250 asked, and Guarantee Title & Trust was quoted at 190 bid, 198 asked.

The [illegible] & Lake Erie railroad has declared a semi-annual dividend of 1½ per cent on the common stock, payable October 1.

The Apollo Trust Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 2 per cent and added $2,500 to surplus fund, increasing the latter to $42,500. The company has been paying dividends at the rate of [illegible] per cent semi-annually on $125,000 capital.

A quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent will be paid on Manhattan October 1.

It is probable that the directors of General Electric will meet within a few days and declare the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, which will be payable about October 15. It cannot be learned that any extra cash or stock dividend will be declared at this time.

It is rumored that 4 per cent will be paid on Wabash B's at end of year.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Copper Range Consolidated Company it was voted to increase the capital stock from $25,500,000 to $38,500,000. President Paine was authorized to purchase for the company from A. C. Burrage 70,000 shares of Tri-Mountain stock and to offer in payment 70,000 shares of Copper Range stock and to purchase any part of the remaining 30,000 shares and to offer in payment one share of Copper Range for each share of Tri-Mountain.

PRICES IRREGULAR IN WALL STREET MARKET

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Sept. 9.

The Herald this (Wednesday) morning says: The stock market of yesterday presented little of interest. Prices moved irregularly, but the movements were of a purely professional character and the net changes were not regarded as important. A somewhat higher range of prices from London imparted strength to the early trading and substantial improvements reflected in a few of the manipulative favorites. The movement of the day, however, attracted no public following, and even the trading element seemed to weary of the game. The new developments of the day were not unfavorable, but efforts to secure profits disclosed a dearth of buying orders.

The news of the day was somewhat mixed but so far as developments at home were concerned, they were generally favorable. The weekly crop bulletin, though detailing variable crop conditions, was well received and commodity prices yielded. Crop reports formulated by various railroad corporations were decidedly better.

The preferred shares of the Steel Corporation were weak. There seemed to be a fairly large line of the stock for sale, but there was not so much pressure on the common stock. There is to be a meeting of the finance committee of the steel corporation today at which it is expected that figures showing the tonnage on the books will be presented. It is already estimated that the company has now about 500,000 tons less on its books than at this period a year ago. Today a dividend on the common stock comes off.

The grain carrying railroads moved almost uniformly in one direction. The more favorable news during the morning from the corn fields, together with the higher range of prices from London resulted in slightly higher prices but this did not last very long.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Power drills have been placed in commission in the new shaft sinking on the Allouez property. Ledge rock has been penetrated for considerable distance and sinking will proceed with regularity from now on. Developments at the Ahmeek and North Kearsarge mines are reassuring and there are no misgivings heard as to the prospects of the Allouez. The surface equipment is complete and will suffice to a depth of more than 2,000 feet.

Lake Superior copper mine dividends will be considerably larger this year than in 1902. Already the disbursements this year about equal the total for the year previous. The Wolverine increased its semi-annual disbursement 50 cents per share, this month, which makes a gain of $1 for the year. It is likely that the dividends will be further enlarged next year, barring an unfavorable turn in the copper market.

The development of the Kearsarge lode in the last few years has been remarkable. Twenty years ago the lode was opened at the Wolverine mine and condemned as worthless by one of the greatest mining men this district has ever known. Today the Wolverine is conceded to be one of the best money-makers in this section.

J. C. Russell of Pittsburgh has arrived at Boise, Idaho, after an extended visit to Thunder Mountain. He is a stockholder in the Belle of Thunder Mountain Company, which owns the Sunnyside mine. During Mr. Russell's stay in the camp he acquired five additional claims for the company, giving it half a mile more of the belt.

The controversy over the ownership of the Vassar No. 2 and Dexter claims at Park City, which has threatened to involve the St. Louis-Vassar Company in litigation, has been settled, and E. A. Probts and Charles Smith have yielded all right, title and interest in the Dexter to the St. Louis-Vassar Company in consideration of the delivery of 10,000 shares of stock.

Speaking of the Ohio-Tonopah, the Bonanza says: "The east drift in the cross-cut of the 770-foot level of this property, which has been running in on ledge matter, cut quartz this week, selected samples of which gave assays of 240 ounces in silver and $37 in gold. The drift is now in 71 feet, and the management is encouraged in the belief that a big shoot of ore is near at hand. In the south cross-cut, which is in 261 feet, the ground shows more mineralization than ever before, and this is taken as an augury that ledge matter is not far distant."

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Spot tin declined 15s to £122 12s 6d in London, and futures lost 17s 6d, closing at £121 5s. Locally tin was without important change, closing at $27 25. Spot copper was unchanged at £58 2s 6d in London, as compared with last Friday, but futures were 3s 9d higher at £57 10s. Locally copper was unchanged. Lake is quoted at $13 75@13 87½; electrolytic, $13 62½@13 75; casting, $13 37½@13 50. Lead was 2s 6d higher at £11 6s 3d at London, but the local price was unchanged at $4 [illegible]. Spelter advanced 2s 6d in London, but remained unchanged at $6 00 in New York. Iron closed at 51s 6d in Glasgow and at 47s 6½d in Middlesboro. Locally iron was unchanged and more or less nominal. No. 1 foundry, northern, is quoted at $17 00@17 50; No. 2 foundry, northern, $16 50@17 00; No. 1 foundry, southern, and No. 1 foundry, southern, soft, $16 50@16 75.

OHIO COAL LAND BRINGS $110,000

Tract of 800 Acres in Harrison County Is Bought by Charleroi Men.

ORPHANAGE TO COST $100,000

Three Nineteenth Ward Houses Bought for $36,000—Shoenberger Tract Not Resold—Many Small Realty Purchases in and About the City.

Through the office of Black & Baird the purchase has just been consummated of 800 acres of coal land in Harrison county, Ohio, for $110,000. The tract is in the cream of the Ohio coal lands and lies next to the extensive holdings of the M. A. Hanna Coal Company. It is located on the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad 28 miles west of Wheeling and across the railroad from the Pittsburgh Block Company's property. Only one vein is found the land, but this is 5.6 feet and is the best quality of Ohio coal. A syndicate of 15 Charleroi capitalists, headed by J. K. Smith and J. J. Hott, has secured the property from Charles F. Branson and S. K. McLaughlin of Cadiz, O.

None of the property has been developed and the new owners are now having plans prepared to open mines that will have a capacity of 1,000 tons of coal a day. In addition to the coal mining plans the company will build 25 miners' houses, to cost $800 each, making the outlay for improvements about $200,000. This purchase of coal land deal, which is the fourth large sale of coal property made by Black & Baird since June 1, is the most important deal in the Wheeling district for years, as it takes out of the market the last tract of coal land along the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad.

Splendid Orphanage for Emsworth.

The Holy Family of Nazareth of the Roman Catholic church, will soon have the finest orphanage in Pennsylvania in Emsworth borough. Some time ago the order purchased a plot of eight acres in Brighton road, above Clifton station on the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago railroad and overlooking the Ohio river. The site is one of the most beautiful in the Sewickley valley and is to be improved with an orphan asylum to cost $100,000. Plans for this are now in the hands of Architect Sidney F. Heckert, and the work of erection will be started in a few weeks. The orphanage will comprise a group of three or more buildings, three stories high, and will have a total frontage of 190 feet, by a depth of 90 feet.

Aside from being strictly fireproof and built after the latest plans for institutions of this class, as regards heating, lighting and ventilating, the orphanage will have its own laundry and bakery. A private power plant and separate quarters for the help will also be provided. It will accommodate 300 children and is designed for the Polish orphans of Pittsburgh and vicinity.

Residence Sale of $36,000.

Three good residence properties in the Nineteenth ward have been purchased by E. M. Keehan from Clarence H. Powell, for $36,000, or $12,000 each. The houses are comparatively new and contain 11 rooms each. They stand on a plot 140x150 feet, facing on the west side of Chislett street, between Black street and Stanton avenue, and were taken for an investment.

The story that has gained considerable credence that the Shoenberger tract of 105 acres beyond Highland park is to be secured for an addition to the park by E. M. Bigelow, director of public works, or for a race track to take the place of the track on Brunots island, appears to be somewhat premature. While it is true that Mr. Bigelow has seriously considered the question for years of securing the property for the city and that horsemen have frequently talked of it as a desirable place for a race track, nothing definite has been done to getting the property for either purpose. About six months ago it was purchased by E. M. Behen for $1,600 an acre. With Mr. Behen there are associated several local capitalists in the deal.

Director Bigelow has had no negotiations with them for the purchase of the property, and yesterday Mr. Behen said that the farm was bought strictly for an investment and that the intention of the purchasers is to plot it as soon as the development of this part of the city makes such a venture seem best.

Bessemer Water Works Plant.

The Bessemer building, at the corner of Sixth street and Duquesne way will have a direct water supply from the Allegheny river. For this purpose a gang of men has been working several days putting in a crib just above the Sixth street bridge. This is for the intake of the water works, which are being installed in the building. The project is an innovation for skyscrapers and will be a drawing card with tenants.

WEEKLY CROP REPORT.

Weather Bureau's Summary of Conditions Compiled from Comprehensive Data.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The weather bureau's weekly summary of crop conditions is as follows:

Weather conditions of the week ending September 7 were favorable in the lake region and from the upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys, westward to the Rocky mountains, in New York and New England, portions of the middle Atlantic states, and in Florida, but in the Ohio and lower Mississippi valleys and generally throughout the southern states drought has prevailed, in some sections becoming serious, retarding growth and maturity and causing considerable injury to crops. Rain is needed in Oklahoma and the southern plateau region. The weather of the week has been favorable on the Pacific coast, but more rain is needed in Washington. Light to killing frosts occurred in North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, portions of Ohio, and high districts in Utah, with little or no damage, except on lowlands in Wisconsin.

Early corn is maturing rapidly, some fields being safe from frost, and cutting is progressing in southern and central sections of the corn belt. Late corn has advanced satisfactorily generally in the great corn states, except Iowa, and under favorable conditions the bulk of the crop will be safe in two to three weeks. In Iowa it is maturing slowly, and the crop needs rain in Kansas, Arkansas, Southern Missouri and the states of the upper Ohio valley.

Spring wheat harvest is nearly completed in the northern Rocky mountain states, and threshing is general. Rains have again delayed stacking and thrashing in North Dakota and this work has been somewhat retarded by damp grain in shock in South Dakota, and by cloudy and damp weather in Southern Minnesota, which has caused damage to wheat in shock and stack.

Prospects for an average crop of apples are reported from portions of New England, the middle Atlantic states, Iowa, Kansas and Oklahoma; a light crop is promised in Missouri, and less than the average in New York, although the fruit is of good quality in the last named state. Complaints of dropping are general in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee and portions of Virginia, and apples are not so promising in Michigan.

Drought conditions have delayed plowing in the Ohio valley, Tennessee and Oklahoma, and more rain is needed to prepare the soil in Washington. Excellent progress has been made with this work in other sections and wheat seeding has begun in Michigan, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska.

LONG TIME IN THE PARISH.

Father Christopher of St. Michael's Celebrates His Twenty-Fifth Year.

The Rev. Father Christopher, C. P., pastor of St. Michael's Roman Catholic church, South Side, yesterday celebrated his twenty-fifth year in the parish, the silver jubilee mass being celebrated at 9 o'clock in the presence of the largest audience that ever filled the picturesque old church in Pius street. Father Christopher received many handsome gifts and entertained two scores of priests from the Pittsburgh diocese.

Prior to the mass a parade of 200 pupils from St. Michael's parochial school took place on the grounds surrounding the church. At the mass the Rev. Father P. Kessler was deacon and the Rev. Father John Griffin sub-deacon. The Rev. Father Goebel preached the sermon and paid Father Christopher a high compliment for his long work in the parish.

POTATOES ARE LOWER AND RECEIPTS GOOD

Drop in Price of Onions—Salt Fish More Plentiful—Bran and Middlings Advance.

Potatoes took a downward turn yesterday in market, and receipts indicate that a still further drop in prices may be looked for in a few days. In barrel lots the quotations were lowered 25 cents and by the bushel the Irish varieties fell off 10 cents or more. Sweets showed a tendency to drop in sympathy with the other varieties, and the market was weaker at quotations. Onions were also marked down 25 cents a barrel yesterday.

Dealers blame the weather largely for the dull trade in watermelons. Hot weather is needed to sell the big melons, especially at this season, when the public appetite is beginning to crave other kinds of food. Cantaloupes are going rapidly, with fair receipts. California apples are down to $1 a box, a reduction of 40 cents. On the other hand, California peaches went up 25 cents a box yesterday, because of light arrivals.

The market for salted fish is improving, and mackerel are moving freely. Receipts have been heavier the past week, indicating big catches, and the fish are of a whiter color. As published in another column the remarkable shortage of salmon is sure to advance the price of all salt fish, and dealers look for mackerel to go up considerably before cold weather sets in.

No changes of importance are noted in the quotations for groceries. Fruit is plenty except grapes, which are short of demand. Peaches are free in the market, most of them being of a good quality.

Wheat middlings advanced $1 a ton and were sold yesterday as high as $22 a ton. Bran was sold for $18.50 a ton, in bulk, and $20 was asked for sack bran, with $19 bid. On the grain exchange 42 cents was asked for oats, with 41½c a bushel offered.

HAY, GRAIN AND FEED.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 19 cars hay, 9 cars oats, 4 cars corn, 1 car rye, 1 car bran; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 1 car hay, 1 car wheat, 1 car corn; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 8 cars hay, 2 cars oats. Total receipts, 48 cars.

THE HORSE MARKET.

About 200 horses were offered at the Pittsburgh exchange yesterday. Among them there was a large sprinkling of heavy draught horses, an indication that the season for drivers is nearly past, and that the big workers will hold the center of the stage in market for the next six months. Prices for good horses were from $200 to $350. A large number of cheap horses were offered as usual and several foreign buyers were present to take away the bargains. The demand for good horses is increasing, and prices ranging from $225 to $375 for the best animals were freely paid at private sales during the week.

Pipe Line Prices.

Following are the Standard's credit balance prices for the various grades:

Pennsylvania, $1 50; Tiona, $1 71; Corning, $1 [illegible]; New Castle, $1 41; North Lima, $1 [illegible]; South Lima and Indiana, $1 [illegible]; Whitehouse, $1 [illegible]; Somerset, [illegible]; Ragland, [illegible].

The Producers and Refiners Oil Company also quotes $1 50 for Pennsylvania crude.

KNIFE IS USED TO CURE CONSUMPTION

Remarkable Operation Performed on Tuberculosis Patient.

EXPECT TO SAVE HER LIFE

Miss Lizzie Gremmel of Hampton, N. H., Will Likely Recover—Drainage Through Chest Wall Successfully Established—Cavities Located by Needle.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Miss Lizzie Gremmel of Hampton, N. H., has had her right lung opened by the surgeons at Stamford hospital, Stamford, Conn., in an endeavor to prevent her death by consumption by the most remarkable operation known to the medical profession. The best known physicians in the United States had been consulted, but she continued to fail. She was greatly emaciated and was unable to retain food. Nothing passed her lips from August 11 until Saturday last, when the operation took place.

An examination revealed a large cavity at the apex of the right lung and an abscess in the upper part of the middle lobe.

The operation was to establish a drainage through the chest wall. Three and a half inches of the second rib was cut, five inches of the third rib and three and a half inches of the fourth rib. The pleura was bound down by adhesions, brought into the wound and stitched there. The lung was explored by an aspirating needle and both cavities located.

The pleura was then opened and the abscess was thoroughly cleansed, as well as the cavity in the apex. This drained the cavities and the wound was closed with the exception of an opening sufficient for drainage. The chest wall was strapped and dressed.

The operation lasted 35 minutes. Miss Gremmel was then awakened and experienced only a slight pain in the back. She steadily grew stronger from the reaction of the anaesthetic.

Miss Gremmel will eat nothing but her prescribed diet and will also be given salt solutions. Complete recovery is looked for.

NEW LIFE COMPANY.

Great Northern Mutual Is Third Formed Here Recently.

The third new life insurance company with Pittsburgh as its home is being organized in this city and in all probability will be ready for business in a few weeks. Its headquarters are to be in the Frick building. It will be known as the Great Northern Mutual Life Insurance company. Its officers will be: President, Ex-Lieut. Gov. Walter Lyon; vice-president, D. O. Holbrook, treasurer of the Pennsylvania Malleable company; secretary, E. E. Ragsdale, Esq.; treasurer, C. E. Willock, treasurer of the Fidelity Title and Trust Company; manager of agencies, J. A. Bardwell; auditor, J. Hoehn; chief medical director, Dr. C. C. Wiley; counsel, W. B. Rodgers, city solicitor.

The exact plans of the new company are not yet made public. It is said to have a form of policy in preparation that will be specially attractive to those of moderate means.

Auxiliary Bishop Appointed.

HAVANA, Sept. 8.—Mgr. Capelle, the apostolic delegate to Cuba and Porto Rico, yesterday announced the appointment of Mgr. Benaventura Broderick, as auxiliary bishop of Havana. Broderick came here from Hartford, Conn., and for the last four years had charge of the business affairs of the church in Cuba. He is popular both with the Cubans and with resident Americans.

CONSOLIDATION IS MOODY'S IDEA

Several Bureaus of the Navy Department Will Be Abolished or Merged.

TO RUN ON BUSINESS LINES

Rear Admiral Bradford Will Probably Be the Last Chief of the Bureau of Equipment—Hydrographic Office and Observatory to Be Absorbed.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 8.

Rear Admiral Royal B. Bradford, chief of the bureau, will probably be the last chief of the bureau of equipment, and upon his retirement from the bureau this fall to take command of the battleship Illinois, the plan is to do away with the office and bureau and merge the work, consolidate the duties of the office with the bureaus of navigation and construction and repairs. This plan was drawn up for the consideration of Secretary Moody several months ago and it is said on the authority of a bureau chief tonight that the plans will shortly receive the secretary's approval.

Consolidation of the work of the navy department is one of the most important reforms Secretary Moody is striving for. It is his idea that the whole department should be run on business lines. Electricity and wireless telegraphy will be transferred to the control of the chief of the bureau of construction and repair, according to the plan now before the secretary; the purchase of coal will be under the bureau of navigation and also the manufacture of flags for the navy.

The hydrographic office and the naval observatory, it is proposed, shall be placed under the direction of the secretary of the navy without connection with any bureau and that expert civilians shall supplant the naval officers now on duty in those offices. It is probable that the navy department will make an effort to secure the transfer to its control of the coast and geodetic survey and that this will be consolidated with the hydrographic offices under the direction of the secretary of the navy.

SUPREME COURT MAY LOSE JUSTICE HARLAN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—It is reported here that Associate Justice Harlan of the United States supreme court will retire from the bench when he returns from his summer vacation. It is said that Justice Harlan is affected with aneurism of the heart and that his recent taking to golf and other outdoor sports has not helped his case. Justice Harlan is now at a summer resort on the St. Lawrence, and it is said that he may return to Washington within the next two weeks.

All applications must be filled out and returned to the Harrisburg office before Jan. 1. No application will be received for any fish excepting those to be planted in free streams.

Carnegie Contrasts.

"A brief glance at the attitude towards labor of Carnegie, the Manufacturer, as compared with Carnegie, the Philanthropist, is necessary to an understanding of the remoter and more obscure causes of this titanic struggle, which, marked as it was with all the ferocity of civil war, caused a shudder to run through the civilized world."

Latest Styles in Ladies' Suits

A $20 SUIT—What is more striking and handsome for women of eligible figures than perfectly plain tailor-made gowns? Their long lines impart height and dignity, while their close-fitting qualities adapt them particularly well to the wants of women who are stout in figure. The coat has a straight or half-fitting front and tight-fitting back and the latest coat sleeves.

A $15 SUIT—Something exquisite at a low price is this suit of blue zibeline. The long skirted blouse jacket is collarless, with notched shoulder-cape and flat collar of black velvet. Down the front of the blouse and around the flat collar is a very neat silk braid trimming. The full sleeves terminate in fancy cuffs which are also braid-trimmed. COUNTRY CLUB PLAN OF LOTS
SQUIRREL HILL—UP WHERE THE SUN SHINES.
Opening Sale Saturday, September 12.

Squirrel Hill is without exception the best and most desirable residence section of Pittsburgh. At the very beginning of its development property along the principal streets was held by men whose foresight led them to enforce street building regulations, and the carefulness that has always been exercised in this respect is one of the things that contributes most largely to the success of the district.

Heretofore it has been practically impossible for men of limited means to buy land on Squirrel Hill. Thousands would have lived there if they could, but prices were prohibitive. By opening the Country club plan of lots we have made it possible for men in moderate circumstances to indulge their love for the district by buying lots at not only less than regular prices, but on the easy payment plan of 5 per cent down and 2 per cent per month—free from interest and taxes until paid for.

On the Boulevard

The Country Club Plan is right in the heart of Squirrel Hill—Beechwood Boulevard bounding it on one side and Shady avenue on the other. There are only 235 lots, but all are well situated on beautiful rolling ground, requiring no grading—no filling in. The plan is easy of access, being but two blocks from the Pittsburgh and Homestead street car line and five blocks from the Wilkinsburg and Pittsburgh line.

It is the natural home site for men whose business takes them to Pittsburgh, Homestead, Braddock and Wilkinsburg.

City Lots at Acreage Prices

The Boulevard frontage, as well as the Shady avenue frontage, and in fact every lot in the plan is to be sold at acreage prices.

Property adjoining and in the neighborhood of the Country Club Plan has sold and is now held at $2,500 to $8,000 a lot, and is no better nor more conveniently situated.

We predict that Country Club Plan of lots will be worth double present prices within three years. They can't help it. Everything is in their favor.

We expect to sell the entire 235 lots at the opening sale. Most of the sales will be made to men who will build homes at once. This is indicated by the many inquiries we have received since our advertising began.

Now every house that is built will add something to the value of every other lot. Suppose, for instance, a Homestead mill manager or superintendent builds a $5,000 home on the plan this fall, that one home will add materially to the value of adjoining lots and every other lot in the Country Club Plan. Then suppose a half dozen more houses are put up next spring, which is a very conservative estimate. This will cause another advance and at the very least calculation lots will be worth double present prices within three years, particularly when we take into consideration the extremely low selling price.

UP WHERE THE SUN SHINES

This rapid advance justifies higher prices. When plans are put on the market prices are usually anticipated at least a year ahead, and the lots marked at what they are estimated to be worth at that time. This is done in order to pay for the trouble and expense of selling on the installment plan.

In adjusting the prices of the Country Club Plan of lots we have not anticipated future values, but marked every lot at less than a like amount of ground could be purchased for in any adjoining property.

Here, then, is your opportunity.

You do not have to go farther than Pittsburgh to see examples of what realty investment has done for people. Right around you are men and women who were shrewd enough to embrace opportune investments by which they turned their money several times in the course of a few years.

Big Money In Country Club Lots

Many of the men who amassed fortunes on real estate investments made big profits on suburban property. Many of them bought land in undeveloped sections and waited for time to turn the trend of homeseekers and business development their way.

Now, if men made money on this kind of property, what a golden harvest anyone can reap by buying Country Club lots. Here there is no pioneering, no rough land, no muddy approaches. The property enjoys all the city improvements and its location is all that anyone could desire, while prices are but little more than you would be asked to pay for undeveloped, suburban property that would probably never amount to anything as a high-class residence district.

30 Minutes From City Hall

Country Club Plan is 30 minutes from the city hall, Pittsburgh—about 20 minutes from Wilkinsburg. It is right in the heart of residential Pittsburgh and enjoys all improvements, such as paved streets, city water, gas and electric lights. To get to the Country Club Plan take the Homestead, Braddock and Duquesne cars, get off at Pocussett street and Murray avenue. Walk up Pocussett street one block to Shady avenue. Turn to your left and walk one block and you will be on the property. If you take the Wilkinsburg, Swissvale and East Pittsburgh line, get off at Shady avenue and Forbes street, if going out from Pittsburgh, turn to your right and walk five blocks.

LARGE LEVEL LOTS $500 UP. 5% DOWN, 2% PER MONTH. NO INTEREST. NO TAXES.
Agents on the property all this week. Go out any day—you will never have another such opportunity to buy Squirrel Hill Boulevard property.
